that boy is an absolute wonder. He's one of the greatest fighting chaps that ever faced a gun. He has never been ounded, won his D. C. M., and after nearly two years' continuous service in he trenches, he is still at it. 'Jimmy is a great lad. Once, an officer told me, Jimmy was buried in trench, and rendered unconscious. They dug him out, and sent him to the hospital. He was put to bed, and after a time he came too. He rubbed his eyes, looked about him, asked where he was, and where his batta-lion was. The questions were all answere all answered to his satisfaction, but Jimmy had other things in mind. He felt himself all over, saw that he was not hurt, and decided on his own course. He got up, dressed, and was back with is old bunch in no time. He simply would not stay in the hospital. "Later the officers thought that he had seen enough hard service, so they ourse, and free from danger to a large was found again in the first line of enches, fighting with his comrades e 1st Battalion, Murray simply will been decorated, and he deserves the good things said of him.

It is worth more than the price of admission to Frederick Palmer's lecures to get a draught of optimism from and devoted friend of the Entente

now to Peel Off a Weatherbeaten Face

It's really a simple matter to renovate a face soiled by dirt, wind or cold. Ordinary mercolized wax, used like cold cream, will transform the worst old complexion into one of snowy whiteness and velvety softness. It literally peels off the outer veil of surface skin but so gently, wornout skin comes off not in patches, but evenly, in tiny particles, leaving no evidence of the treatment. The younger, healthier underskin forming the new complexion is one of captivating loveliness. One ounce of mercolized wax, to be had at any drug store, is enough to remove any coarse, chapped, pimpled, freckled faded or sallow skin. Apply before retiring, washing it off mornings.

Many skins wrinkle easily with every wind that blows. An excellent wrinkle remover, because it tightens the skir and strengthens relaxed muscles, is a wash lotion made as follows: Powdered saxolite, I ez., dissolved in witch hazel one-half pint. This gives immediate results.—Advi.
