Government of Egypt Accedes To Britain's Demands For £500,-000 Indemnity For Death of Sir Lee Stack—Agrees To Apologize and Promises Punishment of Slayers.

BALKS AT OTHER DEMANDS—CRISIS ARISES

Cairo, Nov. 23 .- The Egyptian government's reply to the British note in connection with the assassination of Major-General Sir Lee Oliver Stack, governor-general of the Sudan and sirdar of the Egyptian army, agrees to Great Britain's demand for an apology, punishment of the assassins and an indemnity of £500,000. It also promises to prevent any disturbance of the peace by demonstrations.

The reply says, however, that the British demand regarding the Sudan breaks the status quo, and is contrary to the constitution, under which King Fuad is commander-in-chief of the Egyptian army. It considers the demand regarding the Gezira irrigation project premature. The communication further says the position of foreign officials is regulated by diplomatic agreement, and cannot be modified without the consent of parliament.

The Demands

The British government requires that the Egyptian government shall, first \(\foatherrow\) resent an ample apology for the crime; secondly, prosecute an inquiry into the authorship of the crime with the utmost energy and without respect of persons, and bring the criminals, whoever they are and whatever their age, to condign punishment;

Small anti-British demonstrations were renewed in Cairo today by students. Afterwards British troops marched through the city.

of confidence in the government with only one dissentient vote. The reply again expressed sorrow and horror at the execrable murder of Major-General Stack, but said the Egyptian government could not admit that it was in any way responsible; neither could it admit that the crime was the natural result of the political campaign. Nevertheless the government agreed to the payment of the indemnity demanded.

Continuing, the note quoted article 46 of the constitution in reference to the Sudan, by which the king is commander-in-chief of the army. It said the Gezira irrigation demand was, to say the least, premature, and remarked that Britain always had promised that an increased cotton area would be arranged under an accord, taking cognizance of Egypt's agricultural interests.

Fallacy of Many Interpretations Denounced by Henry B. Ashplant.

Addressing the brotherhood of the King street Presbyterian church yesterday, Henry B. Ashplant championed the truth and reliability of the "Old Bible" as against the falacy of many popular interpretations of its teachings. Mr. Ashplant said:

"We know that in the navigation of any sea, much more than a chart is essential to a navigator. A correct interpretation of the chart is of immense importance.

"The Bible, therefore, must be correctly interpreted for the purpose of spiritual navigation, and at this point he chilgration of the church is heavy.

spiritual navigation, and at this point the obligation of the church is heavy, because there is such a possibility as spiritual shipwreck, a real religious disaster, as a resuit of bad piloting and an incorrect reading of the chart. and an incorrect reading of the chart. That brings us to the very important question of what it is that fails society in its hour of crists. Is it truth that fails or error? Has the theologian, with all his good intentions, led us to the still waters and to the green pasture, where we may find peace that passes understanding? Have we been taught emancipating truth, as it was expressed in the truth, as it was expressed in the teaching of Jesus: such truth as caught the ears of the people of the countryside and disturbed the peace of mind of the rulers of society?

"I am inclined to think," said Mr. Ashplant, "that the Bible is truer than its interpretation has been cor-than its interpretation has been cor rect; the Scriptures are far more re-liable than the use that has been made of them. It is error and not truth that has failed us in our time truth that has failed us in our time of trial, and the proportion of error that has come to be embodied in our teaching and interpretation of spiritual law is the measure of our social confusion and of the deplorable world situation at the present time. The Bible, as a chart, is absolutely reliable, but we must, however, eliminate all error from its interpretation if we are to realize the salvation which it assures.

> Rev. H. B. Storey Speaks in Southern Congregational Church Sunday.

The possibility of a divine heredity which would overcome the trend to ward sin in physical heredity was maintained by Rev. H. B. Storey in the Southern Congregational church yesterday. "Recent research," said Mr. Storey, "has revealed how im mense a force heredity is in daily life. It demonstrates itself in the transmission of likeness, whereby we distinguish a Chinaman from a Hindu, also in facial characteristics. tastes and inclinations. Morally, also, heredity mysteriously shows itself in inherited sinful tendencies.

"Sin is not a private matter, and salvation is not merel between the individual and God. 1 New Testament does not support such a view. The effect of wrongdoing does not end with the doer, it passes on in tendency to the children. Good char-acteristics are also inherited. When Shakespeare said The evil that men do lives after them, the good is oft interred with their bones, he was stating a half-truth. We do not know stating a nair-truth. We do not know mow good and evil have been mingled in our ancestors, nor do we understand how evil has been modified by intervening saintly lives. But this fact is patent, we have all a battle to fight with our own inclinations
