There is no better known or more respected figure in Canadian politics than that of Mr. Joly. Other politicians there are of both parties who are abler tacticians because they are less scrupulous than better is no other Canadian politicians who is so generally held in esteem by all classes as a model of all that constitutes a man and a gentleman. He has stood beside his party in sunshine and in storm, through long years of defeat and disaster, only to be driven out of it in his old age by the parvenu pirates who have offered to scuttle the ship for the make of a share in the plan.

The Telegram encourages Mr. Defoe to stay in the field for the mayoralty. Perstay in the field for the mayoralty. Perstay in the sake of a share in the plan.
