"THE HEATHEN CHINESE."

The number of people on the earth is not accurately known, and any computation of all living human beings in the aggregate is at best a mere approximation—perhaps a guesswork is the right word. Only in enlightened lands where a high state of civilization prevails, has a systematic census been taken of the people; and therefore it is impossible that the world's inhabitants can, at present, be correctly ascertained. In Europe, the number of the population in each nation may be stated with tolerable accuracy; but in the oriental world, the numbers of the people can only be conjectured. Geographers and book-makers broadly and sweepingly assert that in the Chinese empire there are 400,000,000 (four hundred millions) of people. They do not, however, furnish the data upon which their calculations were based in arriving at such a result. The mere ipse dixit of one man has been assumed to be sound truth, and used by others as legitimate authority in the matter. The fact is, the number of China's population is not known; and there may be a mistake in the figures above given of hundreds of millions, more or less. There is no doubt, however, that the population is exceedingly dense in that vast Oriental territory, over which the "Sublime Brother of the Sun" bears imperial rule. The history of China extends back through the evolutions and mutations of many departed ages, and is lost in the darkness of antiquity. Certain it is, however, that while empires have arisen and passed away, while dynasties have been overthrown, and ancient monarchies have become extinct, the people of China have continued without change in their habits, customs or manners, remaining to-day just as they were before the fall of Babylon or the siege of Troy. There has probably been little improvement in their civilization for three thousand years. The Mongolian race are not endowed with those high intellectual qualities which distinguish the Caucasian peoples of Europe. If the Chinese, in energy, in enterprise and in ennobling tendencies are far inferior to Anglo-Saxons, they are, nevertheless, adepts in their lower departments of mechanism and manual skill. If they are destitute of Genius, they excel in ingenuity. Moreover, they are frugal, painstaking and industrious. In their modes of living they do not run into those excesses which are a disgrace to a higher type of our common humanity. For ages their policy respects other nations as isolation. It is only during the last three or four centuries, since the use of tea, as a daily beverage has come into general use in Europe, that Western commerce has sought the shores of China. Till of late years John Chinamen remained at home, perhaps believing that his own country was the only place where comfortable living and social happiness could be enjoyed. The peoples outside of the "Celestial Empire" were regarded as "barbarians". Intercourse with the people of other countries, however, has dispelled some of their illusions and misconceptions with regard to foreigners. The desire has recently been somewhat awakened in the Chinese mind to know more of foreign lands and to visit them.

This desire has prompted many thousands of these people to immigrate to America. Multitudes of them are now in California. They live frugally, and can afford to work for comparatively small wages. Of course they soon were extensively patronized by employers, whose interest it is to secure cheap labor. This quickly aroused the jealousy and ire of the tolling class of other nationalities. The Chinese, therefore, in San Francisco and neighboring cities soon became the objects of popular prosecution. This hatred to John Chinamen, like everything else in the United States, got into party politics, and culminated a few weeks ago in the passage of a Bill through both Houses of Congress, to prevent immigration from China into the United States. This measure, to his honor be it spoken, was disannulled by the constitutional veto of the President. It is not probable that there were twenty members in Congress who heartily approved of the obnoxious Bill, but party interests won the support of many high-toned, patriotic (?) legislators at Washington. In any country, where party politics run high, the general public weal, justice and humanity are lost sight of and trampled in the dust.

CHEAP SCHOOL-TEACHERS.

It is to be regretted that in some of our school sections, the trustees, in employing teachers, are more governed in their choice by the smallness of the salary, than by the competency of the applicant for the situation. They may think that it is a virtue to save, and so it is, when other interests are not thereby sacrificed. Some people buy shoddy goods because they are cheap; but this is spurious economy. In most cases the highest priced goods are the cheapest in the long run. The principle thus evolved should influence trustees when employing a teacher. A school house had better be closed than have the pupils of a section under the control of an inefficient teacher. It is not enough that any applicant for employment as an instructor should hold a license, unless he has adaptability for the vocation. His morals, too, are an element to be taken into grave account by trustees. If he be a lazy man, he is not fit to take charge of a school; he should be vigilantly busy with the pupils during all the hours, devoted to the duties of the school-room, where he should be upon his feet most of the time. His demeanor and social tendencies of the school should be an important consideration on the part of the trustees. He should not be personally intimate with people of loose habits and coarse morals; but he should seek the society of people of decent refinement and purity of conduct. A teacher should have no taste for the companionship of the profane and rude in language and manners. The foregoing remarks are applicable to all teachers, male or female. A cheap teacher is a dear article. It is better to give a high salary for a good schoolmaster, than to employ one who is destitute of the scholastic, moral and effective practical attainments and personal energies that are required for the duties of his vocation, at a stunted salary. The present school term will expire at the close of this month; and, of course, there will, in many instances, be changes of teachers; and there will be applications for vacancies to be filled in some of the schools. The trustees should think less of cheap salaries than of teaching efficiency. A strict inquiry should be made into the antecedents, tastes, habits, moral and social proclivities of applicants. Offers to teach for cheap remuneration should be regarded with suspicion. An applicant for the "birchen sceptre", should bring with him satisfactory credentials from the section or sections in which he has been employed. A licensed applicant may lack such moral habits and personal energies as are requisite in a successful teacher.

SNOW STORM.—A severe snow storm commenced here on Friday morning and continued all day.

EASTER SUNDAY.—Next Friday will be good Friday and the Sunday after will be Easter Sunday. Lay in a supply of eggs for the occasion.

The quarterly meeting of the Bridgetown Agricultural Society will be held at Becker's Hotel, on the 12th inst., at 2 o'clock, p. m. D. H. BARR, Secy.

LECTURE.—The Rev. Mr. Welton will deliver a lecture before the Dutchess Club of this town this evening. Subject: His travels in Europe. Admission 5c.

The two upper poor districts of this county are about holding a meeting for the purpose of purchasing a suitable farm and building to be appropriated as a poor farm, by the two districts. What about this district; are we to be still burdened with heavy taxes?

A terrible accident occurred at Ketch Harbor, 15 miles from Halifax at five o'clock, by which fourteen men and Stephen J. Cheshire, Christopher Mackay, Simon L. Mackay, and James Connors were drowned on Saturday morning.

Mr. DISCOURAGED.—Mr. John Z. Bent, furniture dealer, handed in his spring advertisement yesterday morning, and in doing so said that although the duty on imported furniture is much advanced, he is not discouraged, but is determined to sell as low as any one in the trade. Consult his prices in advertising columns.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.—The examination of the parties arrested for breaking into the post office and being accessory thereto, resulted in their being committed to goal to stand trial at the next June term of the Supreme Court. Their names are John Carter, Michael Bent, and Frank Sbeans.

CALIFORNIA ORANGE.—On Saturday we were presented with an orange by Mr. Robert Bath of this town, who informed us that it was sent him by a relative, Mr. A. L. Bath, a native of this county, but who has been living in California for the last 32 years. The orange had a most delicious flavor and was sound and sweet. It was grown in Los Angeles County, Cal.

—$200,000 is the estimated amount that this county sends away from home every year for bread stuffs. What an enormous drain this is upon our people. Almost any schoolboy in the county can work it out, taking 18,000 persons as the amount of our population. Our farmers can, and should sow more acres of grain than they do. They can lessen this amount one-half of its being done. New Station.—The new station house recently erected at Wilmet was formally opened on the 1st inst. When the train arrived the platform was crowded with ladies and gentlemen from the surrounding country to welcome it, and a warm reception was extended to Mr. Joe Edwards, the popular conductor on the line. Three cheers were also given for Mr. Linnis, so says a correspondent. A notice of this station and its location appeared in the Monitor a couple of months ago.

STANDARD LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY.

We have lately seen a prospectus of this old and reliable institution, and find that the company have invested in the Dominion of Canada, over one million of dollars. Intending assureds would do well to consult Mr. Albert Morse, the agent of the Company, for the county of Annapolis, before insuring elsewhere. The Standard, in every way, holds out great advantages to assureds, combining, as it does, all the advantages of a Canadian Company with the large security of a great British office.

INSTALLATION.—On Monday evening the following brothers and sisters were duly installed by the D. G. W. P., as the officers of Olive Branch Division during the present quarter:—

J. P. Murdoch, W. P. Mrs. John E. Sancton, W. A. J. Allison Clarke, R. S. Miss Annie Chute, A. R. S. Burton Nelson, P. S. Enoch Dodds, T. S. Edmund Bent, Chaplain. Daniel Foster, C. Miss Ellen A. C. Edward Craig, I. S. Moses Clarke, O. S.

This old Division has received during the winter—numerous accessions to its ranks—and is in a prosperous condition.

PHOSPHATES.—By reference to our advertising columns our farmers will find the advertisement of the Elwin Phosphate Company, of South Carolina. Mr. Andrew Jack, of Halifax, has been appointed their agent for Nova Scotia, and is now canvassing this county. Below we give a certificate from Mr. Vanham, who has used the phosphate, and which speaks for itself. Mr. J. W. Beckwith has the local agency for this county.

ARLANS, July 9th, 1878. DEAR SIR:—Last fall I applied 200 pounds of your Dissolved Bone per acre for Wheat, to land that had been cultivated in the Spring, and I received a good crop over the same land. The Wheat grew steadily with good color, and headed out with good heads and very short straw. Since cutting and making per acre, the yield of the Wheat very good and the grain large, with heads well filled. I estimate the increase of yield at a bushel per acre, where the Bone was applied. The stand of Clover is good and looking well. Stand of the Bone again this fall on Wheat and Grass. Yours truly, EDWIN VAUGHAN.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

Mr. SHAFER presented the report of the Committee on Agriculture, and in doing so made a few remarks in connection with the subject. He stated that the committee had been burdened with work, and he was happy to say that they had been unanimous in agreeing as to the very important interests of the Province at the present day. Looking over the report of the Board of Agriculture they had found that their statements were correct, and they found that the present day in general given great satisfaction. As the Province was in a greatly depressed financial condition the committee were sorry that they were not able to recommend an advance to this great and important interest. When they considered what agriculture was doing for the Province at the present day, and what it had done in the past, they felt that it certainly needed, and was entitled to, encouragement and aid. The date of the report was in advance of what it had been a few years ago, and this progress was due very largely to the importation of stock, which had led to an improvement in the stock throughout the Province and an advance in the agricultural interests of the Province generally. They were not able to recommend an advance for the purpose of further importations of stock, they regretted very much that they were not able to do so. Then again in reference to grain, vegetables and fruit, these were very important departments of the agriculture of the Province. At the present day the committee felt that the subject of agriculture should be looked upon as one of the most important interests that was committed to the care of the Legislature; although they acknowledge that there were many other very important interests that were committed to the care of the Legislature. They were not disposed to turn a deaf ear to the claims of fishing, shipbuilding, and similar other industries throughout the Province. They felt that the amount of $1200 should be given to the island of Cape Breton. The House was well aware that this island was a place where agriculture had not in the past been carried on to a very great extent, their chief industry seemed to be fishing, but in order to aid them in recovering their agricultural interests, the committee had taken the liberty of making this recommendation and he trusted that the good will of the House and of the Government would induce them to grant this request. In addition to this they had a pressing request from the county of Annapolis, the Hon. member for that county (Mr. Ford) had requested that they should give to the agricultural society there the sum of $200, but owing to the depressed state of the Provincial finances they had been obliged to reject his proposal. The committee trusted that the House would not see fit to object to any items that they had reported favorably on, and with these few remarks he had great pleasure on behalf of the committee in presenting this report.

Diphtheria is no respecter of persons. It has made its appearance in the family of the Crown Prince of Germany, whose wife is Queen Victoria's daughter, and to Hudson Hall. The wedding will take place at the Duke of Argyll's Scotch seat, Inverary Castle. Lady Edith Campbell, the Duke's eldest daughter, is married to Early Percy, eldest son of the Duke of Northumberland.

News as to the prospect of war with Burma is disappointing. King Theobald is said to remain in a state of continual inactivity, but this has not prevented him from taking energetic war measures. He has constructed a number of forts and mounted them with artillery. He has called out his soldiers and is having them drilled, and he has sent a summons to the Burmese inhabitants of Rangoon to return to their own country. He warns them that he will execute all members of their family if they remain absent.
