

THE RETURN OF THE COON QUARTETTE FROM WASHINGTON.

Reproduced from The Montreal Daily Star

LESLIE: I don't think I shall be able to do it. I'm afraid I'm not a competent musician.
SARAH: Don't worry about that. I'll play for you and the music will be waiting for us in its place.
WILLY: Well, I don't know how to play the violin, but I'll play the double bass when it's good enough to be a Coon Quartette.
LESLIE: Don't worry. I'll play for you and the music will be waiting for us in its place.
SARAH: Don't worry about that. I'll play for you and the music will be waiting for us in its place.
