

Agreement the provisions of Articles II, III, IV, and V shall remain in force until it has been agreed between the Parties that items referred to in Annex A to the present Agreement, whether such items are in existence at that time or come into existence subsequently, as well as information transferred from one Party to the other Party are no longer useable for the manufacture or acquisition of a nuclear weapon or of any other nuclear explosive device or it is otherwise agreed by the Parties that the provisions of those Articles should no longer apply.