

inter-related, so that the international community may ensure that peace-keeping in the immediate sense is only a step towards the achievement of peaceful, orderly and equitable change in relations between States.

For these reasons, Mr. Chairman, I am happy to recommend this resolution to members of this Committee and express the hope that it will receive wide support.