THE HIGHLANDERS BEAT QUEEN'S OWN

Winners Showed Superb Form—Grens Win by One Run From Body Guards.

The Queen's Own fell down in the final pinch on Saturday night at the armories in the Officers' Baseball League. They were a long way from their best game, both in fielding and batting, and on last Saturday's play were beaten by a stronger and better-balanced team. The Highlanders are at present the most dangerous team in the league, hitting and fielding superbly, and running the bases with speed and good judgment. They were unsettled and weak at the beginning of the season, and lost the first four games, getting stronger with each game. They finally broke into the winning column, and have won the last four games by substantial margins. Queen's Own have been in-and-outers, playing brilliantly one night and falling down weakly the next. Hugh Reid and Mayo MacDonald were the strong men of the team Saturday night. Both were in the play at all times.

The second game returned the Grenadiers winners and champions of the league once again. It was a terrific struggle. The Body Guards fought hard and made a gallant finish. Roy Simpson pitched a good game and deserved to win. He has greatly improved, and is at present one of the best players in the league. MacDonald has been hitting well and is a consistent player. The Grenadiers have won on their merits; they have played good ball all season; they are a well-balanced team, with each man strong in his position. They hit well, field well and run the bases good. They should give a good account of themselves in the series of games for the military championship of Canada. They play the winners of the Hamilton-Guelph section last Saturday night here at the armories, at 8.30.

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 7.—Remarkable matches and low scoring featured the first round of match play in the Florida amateur golf championship today. The largest gallery followed Walter J. Travis, Garden City, and C. B. Grier, Canadian amateur champion, from Montreal. Travis pulled out his match by the narrow margin of 1 up by playing the last three holes in one under par.

D. F. A. OFFICIALS TALKED WITH JONES

Con. Outlines His Plan for English Tourists—O.F.A. to Meet Parent Body Tuesday.

Con Jones of Vancouver, who has just returned from England, met President Watson and Secretary Robertson of the D.F.A. on Saturday and they had a long talk over the football situation, and especially in connection with Mr. Jones' idea of bringing out team from the old country. Mr. Jones outlined his plan, and he hopes to bring out the two finalists in the English Cup some time this summer. The D.F.A. officials are rather opposed to that, as they do not think it would be a wise move. They would rather see a picked team from England and a picked team from Scotland come over here and play. There is bound to be several of the players stay in this country once they see it, as happens on all trips of this kind, and it would be kind of a hardship for one team to lose a couple of men. If the D.F.A. officials decide against Con's plan he will be in a fix, as unless the D.F.A. sanction it, he will not be allowed to bring out these teams.

A meeting of the D.F.A. and O.F.A. officials will be held on Wednesday evening at the Walker House, to consider the advisability of allowing the pros to affiliate with the association.

A meeting of the T. & D. will be held tonight at Occident Hall, and any referees wishing to act in this association are requested to send their applications to S. Collins, 122 Booth Avenue, with the fee of 50 cents, at once, as the list will be closed within the next day or so.

GREAT WRESTLING IN OPEN TOURNEY

Best Contest of Season at West End Y—Lapponen Throws Gibson.

There was some great wrestling on the West End Y.M.C.A. floor on Saturday night, the occasion being an open tournament. These monthly meets are drawing good crowds of spectators and are the best this season for the wrestlers were in better condition than ever. The following is the summary of the tournament:

105-lb. class—T. Rabikainen, a new member of the midget class, gave O. Tussle, until Osborne got the head hold, and a picket team from Scotland came over here and play. There is bound to be several of the players stay in this country once they see it, as happens on all trips of this kind, and it would be kind of a hardship for one team to lose a couple of men. If the D.F.A. officials decide against Con's plan he will be in a fix, as unless the D.F.A. sanction it, he will not be allowed to bring out these teams.

125-lb. class—McKeown and Snidgrove both of West End, were the first two to meet. This was a great contest, who has been out of the game for a year or so, did not lose any of his old-time form. He got his club mate referee on the ground, and he was the first to throw him in two minutes. In the final bout, Chivone entered in the 115-lb. class, asked to have a chance to wrestle Snidgrove, as the Central man, Hood, was not showing up.

135-lb. class—Sproul of Central Y. and Kaake of West End hooked up first in this weight and gave one of the best exhibitions up to date, for they were both well matched, and after four minutes Kaake got a fall. Next, Graham of West End and Koupoupon of the Guelph Club came together, but the greater experience of the Finn, and not his strength for Graham, after a little more season, will make them all hustled won for him the last time.

145-lb. class—Gibson of Central Y. and Adam of West End were the first two to meet, and put up a great battle; both of these men again were the first to throw, but if anything Gibson is a little the stronger of the two, for Adam could not hold between the thighs and Adam, in this class was by far the best of the evening; it was as fast as the referee could write down the decision.

155-lb. class—Gibson of Central Y. and Adam of West End were the first two to meet, and put up a great battle; both of these men again were the first to throw, but if anything Gibson is a little the stronger of the two, for Adam could not hold between the thighs and Adam, in this class was by far the best of the evening; it was as fast as the referee could write down the decision.

165-lb. class—Gibson of Central Y. and Adam of West End were the first two to meet, and put up a great battle; both of these men again were the first to throw, but if anything Gibson is a little the stronger of the two, for Adam could not hold between the thighs and Adam, in this class was by far the best of the evening; it was as fast as the referee could write down the decision.

175-lb. class—Gibson of Central Y. and Adam of West End were the first two to meet, and put up a great battle; both of these men again were the first to throw, but if anything Gibson is a little the stronger of the two, for Adam could not hold between the thighs and Adam, in this class was by far the best of the evening; it was as fast as the referee could write down the decision.

185-lb. class—Gibson of Central Y. and Adam of West End were the first two to meet, and put up a great battle; both of these men again were the first to throw, but if anything Gibson is a little the stronger of the two, for Adam could not hold between the thighs and Adam, in this class was by far the best of the evening; it was as fast as the referee could write down the decision.

195-lb. class—Gibson of Central Y. and Adam of West End were the first two to meet, and put up a great battle; both of these men again were the first to throw, but if anything Gibson is a little the stronger of the two, for Adam could not hold between the thighs and Adam, in this class was by far the best of the evening; it was as fast as the referee could write down the decision.

205-lb. class—Gibson of Central Y. and Adam of West End were the first two to meet, and put up a great battle; both of these men again were the first to throw, but if anything Gibson is a little the stronger of the two, for Adam could not hold between the thighs and Adam, in this class was by far the best of the evening; it was as fast as the referee could write down the decision.

215-lb. class—Gibson of Central Y. and Adam of West End were the first two to meet, and put up a great battle; both of these men again were the first to throw, but if anything Gibson is a little the stronger of the two, for Adam could not hold between the thighs and Adam, in this class was by far the best of the evening; it was as fast as the referee could write down the decision.
