Thousands of pale, sallow, yellow-skinned, colorless women are walking the streets of Toronto looking like ghosts, because they simply won't use ouge.

They are refined and sensitive vomen, and dread the embarrassment of their poor subterfuge being discovered, the possible suspicion, ridicule, scorn or contempt, the looks of askance which passing men or women or even friends, might cast upon them.

Not one woman in a hundred can of youth and perfect health, should go to their druggist and get the following: Two ounces Flowers of Oxzoln; 2 ounces Rose Water. Put the Benzoin and Rose Water in a 4-ounce bottle. Shake the Flowers of Oxzoln well and pour I ounce in with the other ingredients; allow to stand for six hours, when the remaining ounce of Flowers of Oxzoln may be added. Apply the preparation each night before retiring, sponging the face thoroughly with absorbent cotton. The effect will be little short of marvelous. A pure, soft, natent cotton.
