Should Government Work be Done by Contract or Under the Day Labor System?

THE CONTRACTORS

Says Mr. Tarte in Reply to Mr. Davin's Strictures-Monday in

Ottawa, June 19.—(Special.)—Questions were asked and answered in the House said that the Government had under con-sideration the question of bringing in legiscourt of the Supreme Court of the Province of British Columbia an appellate court for the Yukon district.

Plebiscite Expenses.

Mr. Quinn asked, "Has the Government paid all the expenses connected with the plebiscite of Sept. 29 last in the city of Montreal? If not, what amounts are unpaid, what has been paid, and to whom?" Hon. Mr. Blair said that the payment of these accounts rests altogether with the Auditor-General. All claims made by the returning officers in Montreal have not been paid, some of the items being held in suppense, awalting explanation and some having been disailowed on the ground that they are not legitimate charges. The total amount claimed was $9924.60, of which $5500.01 had been paid, $1290.09 disallowed and $74.50 suspended for further information.

Motions Passed. Copies of all papers, etc., in connection with the dismissal of John Hearns, caretaker of a public building in Napanee, were ordered as asked by Mr. Wilson.

Mr. Foster moved for an order in the louse for a return showing;
1. The combined engine and mileage toal, and that of the intercolonial Kanway, or each month from March 1, 1898, for he terminals, bridge and other leased porions of the Grand Trunk Kaliway as conor each month from March 1, 1898, for he terminals, bridge and other leased portions of the Grand Trunk kallway as consemplated in the third and thirty-third sections of the schedule to bill No. 138.

2. The amounts for (a) maintenance and repairs, and (b) for all other operating expenses separately incurred by the Grand trunk Kallway Company and the Intercolonial Rallway each month since March 1,

3. Copy of returns and information made under section 33 of said schedule for each month from March 1, 1898.

Hon. Mr. Blair said that it would take a considerable time to get all the information asked for in the motion.

Mr. Foster: Oh, no it won't. I have got half of it already.

Mr. Blair: You haven't got anything like half of it. But I will have the whole brought down as soon as possible.

The motion was then carried.

The Insolvency Law.

Mr. Dugas, for Mr. Monk, moved for a copy of all correspondence between the Government and the Boards of Trade of the Dominion in regard to the passing of an insolvency law-carried.

In the absence of Mr. Bergeron, the notice of a similar motion given by him was allowed to stand, so that the question might be debated if so desired the next time the motion is reached.

Mr. Davin moved for an address to His Excellency the Governor-General for copies of orders-in-council respecting the letting of contracts without tender, passed since June 23, 1896.

In support of his motion he spoke at con-contracts without tender, passed since June 23, 1896.

In support of his motion he spoke at considerable length of the growing tendency of the Government towards letting of contracts for large works without tenders, and also of the growing disposition to have extensive works carried out by day labor under departmental control without any tenders whatever being invited. He pointed to the record of the public accounts, as shown by the Auditor-General's report, and to the debates in Committee of Supply on the estimates last session and this session, to show that during the two years ending June 30, 1898, immense sums had been expended without tenders being invited and very extravagant prices paid in some instances. He referred to the $40,000 lighthouses the Department of Marine and Fisheries was building, to the Edmonton bridge, the repairs to the western block, Ottawa, the dredging at Coteau Landing, the stone and iron fence along one side of Major's Hill Park, and other works, to show how large sums had been spent without tenders being called for.

Government Takes Chances.

Government Takes Chances. After setting some further examples, Mr. Davin pointed out that a strong-minded Minister might, through the letting of contracts without tender commit a Government to a course which the majority of his ment to a course which the majority of his colleagues may not approve of, and the result would be that no matter how glaring the wrong was, the Government and the majority of the ruling party in Parliament would feel bound to support the Minister. He suggested a safeguard that all orders-in-council authorizing work without tender should be forthwith published in The Canada Gazette. With regard to works which were done by day labor, he thought they should always be authorized by order-in-council, and pointed out how the Minister of Public Works got around the requirement that sums exceeding $5000 should be let by contract after public tender, by spreading a work over several years, and expending for it a little less than $5000 a year.

What Mr. Tarte Says.

What Mr. Tarte Says.

The Minister of Public Works (Mr. Tarte) said that the question of doing work by contract or by day labor was a fair one for discussion, and he felt as if he could deal with it in an impartial manner, as he did not consider it a question of party politics, and also because in the present state of his health it was quite possible that unless there was a consider able improvement he might not be able to remain long in his present position. With regard to dredging, he considered that letting the work by tender was by no means so satisfactory as having the work done by the Department of Public Works, under the supervision of its officers. Experience had shown him that this was the cheapest and best way. In many instances works were of such a nature that it was impossible to call for tenders, because the work were frequently largely experimental, and it was only after the work had been commenced that any proper estimate

The Work at Coulonge.

Mr. Mackie spoke about a small work at Coulonge, for which he thought too much had been paid, and Mr. Poupore, while agreeing with a good deal that had been said on the subject of high prices being charged, said that, of course, parties celling articles to the Government expected to make a profit. It did not follow at all that the profit was in any sense a steal.

Mr. Foster's Criticism.

Hon. Mr. Foster agreed with Mr. Tarte that the question of the method of expending public money was one which should be dealt with outside of party lines, but at the same time he thought the statement of

Mr. Flint asked if the Government of the control of this mane, while another hugged his fetlock and another pressed both hands upon the nose.

Mr. Tarte: I contemplated putting in a plant, but you suggested I should not purchase one. I did not purchase a plant, consequently I could not call for tenders.
