ARMY AND NAVY VETERANS

REMEMBER RIDGEWAY

Battle Scarred Members of Old

Brigade Join in Parade to Cathedral.

One hundred and thirty members of His Majesty's Imperial Army and Navy Veterans' Association attended church service at St. James' Cathedral last night. They mustered at the Armories at 615, where they lined up under the direction of their president, Major Collins, and Secretary H. Vesey. Headed by their colors, a Union Jack each for the army and navy, and the associations' veterans' flag, they marched by way of University, Queen and Church to the cathedral. The sight was impressive, picturesque and remarkable, as a number of those in line figure in the Indian mutiny and the battles of the Crimean War. Few had less than two medals and some as many as six. Despite the old age of many of them, they marched with spirit and precision.

Among the prominent veterans attending were:

Major Collins, in command, Capt. Drayton, Sergt. Wilson, Black Watch; Sergt. Major Cox, Quartermaster Sergt. Martin Brown, Royal Engineers; A. J. Pearce, Royal Horse Artillery; A. J. Bennett, C. E. Hollingsworth, 55th Highlanders; W. D. Hulse, Royal Engineers; H. Vesey, 48th Northamptonshire; W. Miller, Royal Engineers; J. Sheane, Oxford Light Infantry; and P. A. Goldstone, Boulton's Scouts.

A large congregation was present at the service. The governor-general and lieutenant-governor of Ontario sent messages of regret at inability to be present.

The preacher was Rev. Gore M. Barron, formerly an officer of the King's Own Scottish Borders. He said that as a veteran who had seen active service in India and South Africa, he was proud to address His Majesty's Army and Navy Veterans. Preaching from the text, "The comforter which is the Holy Ghost," he earnestly appealed to the veterans to emulate, as soldiers of their heavenly Lord and King, the devotion which has ever been the pride and glory of the British soldier in his service to his king and country.

The service was held yesterday as the date was the nearest Sunday to the anniversary of the battle of Ridgeway, which occurs to-morrow, Tuesday, June 1.

Decorate Graves of Comrades.

The veterans of '66 paraded in full strength at Riverside Park at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, under command of President Wheeler, for the purpose of decorating the graves of their comrades who fell at Ridgeway. Over 60 were in line.

Their march was first to the Necropolis, where the graves of Ensign McEachren, Sgt. Matheson and Pte. Tennant were decorated with crossed flags and flowers. They then proceeded to St. James' Cemetery, where the graves of Corp. Lackey and Pts. Deffries, Smith and Alderson were similarly decorated.

The ceremonies at the graves, which were simple but impressive, were taken by Rev. G. I. Taylor, chaplain of the association.

In addition to decorating the graves in Toronto cemeteries, wreaths were sent to Woodstock and Stamford, to be laid on the graves of Pts. Mackenzie and McBurn.

WAR ON LE NATIONALISTE

Conspiracy to Put It Out of Business, So It Says.

MONTREAL, May 30.—(Special).—It looks as if a crisis will be reached during the present week in the war now going on between Le Nationaliste of this city and the Quebec ministers, as the supporters of that paper are expected to meet at a banquet on Friday night at Oliver Asselin will be at once followed by a like incarceration of Jules Poirier, who at present, as editor of The Nationaliste, is waging a furious campaign against Sir Lomer Gouin and Hon. Mr. Taschereau, whom Mr. Asselin struck the other day in the corridor of the house of commons. That paper announces to-day that there is a conspiracy on foot to put the paper out of business, but that it is ready for the attack.

Le Nationaliste says that while Asselin is very ill, he will decline to be removed to a hospital, but that he "will serve his time like a man, right up to the end, and he refuses Sir Lomer Gouin's pity, even if that gentleman should have any."

ROME, May 30.—Queen Margherita has been ill for a month with spasmodic contractions of the muscles of the face and neck, with symptoms of obscure artificial tetanus. The Sault St. Louis says: The price of Lake Superior common stock stands at around 31 on the Philadelphia market. It is stated that the Philadelphia interests are pretty well sold out in Philadelphia, and in Montreal and Toronto, reports as to the P. R. being interested in the Sault works are prevalent. The Star hears that the directors after their June meeting as to the identity of the new interests represented. Whoever is behind, a great deal of the stock has been sold at Philadelphia in 10 share certificates, and the inference is drawn from this that it is the small investor that has put his money into the enterprise.

A FIRE IN "THE WARD"

EXCITES DOZEN FAMILIES

Belongings Hurriedly Removed to Sidewalk During Blaze in a Rag Store House.

Pine, supposed to have been caused by the shooting of a firecracker, broke out last night at 8:30 in the stable of Lewis Rothstein, a rag dealer at 185 Chestnut-street, and did about $300 damage to the stable, adjoining buildings and contents. The other buildings were Rothstein's workshop and a couple of sheds filled with rags. Rothstein's total loss was about $2500, and Sells Napie's loss on one of the sheds about $150. A building owned by Henry Pucug suffered about $200 damage.

Up to a week ago Rothstein had held a fire insurance policy, but having had no previous opportunity of reaping its apparent advantages, had allowed it to lapse.

Six horses confined in the stable were gotten out in time.

Not a dangerous fire, great excitement prevailed among the foreigners in the neighborhood, and on both Centre-avenue and Chestnut-street a dozen families had all their furniture, beds, junk, etc., hastily removed to the sidewalk. One man didn't even wait to raise a window, but pulled out sash and half a frame-work in getting a bedstead out.

Owing to the dense smoke from the burning of the rags, and which enveloped the block, those living nearby did not seem to know where the fire really was. Fully 2000 people thronged the streets.

On Saturday night fire broke out in the tailoring department of W. R. Johnston & Co.'s big wholesale store, corner of York and Front-streets, and caused $50 damage to the building and $150 to the contents.
