CONSERVATIVES SHY CLEAR OF NAVY CAUCUS

Ottawa, Jan. 14.—The opposition members of the commons are still at sixes and sevens on the party attitude towards the naval bill, and no concerted party action is agreed upon as to policy seems possible. Mr. Monk will be joined by a dozen other members of the party in opposition to the creation of a navy at all.

Mr. McGrath, and perhaps a score of other members, particularly from the west, will advocate a direct contribution of a Dreadnought or cash to Britain.

Mr. Borden and probably a majority of his followers will adopt a policy of general criticism and try to make party capital by calling the proposed navy a "tin-pot affair." They will also seek to favor, with the ultra imperialists, by suggesting that the government is not going far enough.

As a result of the hopeless discussion in the opposition ranks, it has been decided not to attempt to hold a party caucus on the question at present, but each member will be allowed to take the stand he likes.

The government's tariff policy, particularly in relation to the granting of bounties to the iron and steel industries, and the situation in the Yukon were today the themes of two of the most thoughtful and interesting speeches that have been contributed to the budget debate in the House of Commons.

Dr. Clarke, of Red Deer, as an authority on economics, gave an able handling of the various phases of the fiscal problems as reflected in the policy of the government, and in the doctrines propounded by the opposition.

A confirmed believer in the efficiency of free trade and a fearless exponent of its principles, Dr. Clarke not only riddled the economic fallacies of Mr. Foster and his "school," but offered some very pungent criticism of the bounty system as practiced by the government.

Another efficient speech which was much appreciated, was that of Mr. Condon, the member for the Yukon, who dealt with the situation in that territory in a more illuminative way than it has ever been handled before. The Yukon, he declared, far from being played out as a gold-producing country, was only on the threshold of development and speaking with the knowledge of one who had sounded the Boils and Pimples.

Whenever your complexion is unnatural, your skin is in an unhealthy condition, your face covered with blotches and pimples, when boils and festering sores abound then your blood is bad. You can best cleanse it with that purely vegetable compound, Burdock Blood Bitters, which safely and promptly renovates the blood and invigorates the entire system.

Mr. C. A. Mussen, Baffin, Alta., writes: "I recommend Burdock Blood Bitters as being the best blood purifier there is. About three years ago I was greatly troubled with boils and our doctor advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters and after taking two bottles I have not had a boil or even a pimple."

Mr. J. Morehouse, Zealand Station, N.B., writes: "My face and neck were covered with pimples, and I tried all kinds of remedies, but they did me no good. I went to many doctors, but they could not cure me. I then tried Burdock Blood Bitters and I must say it is a wonderful remedy for the cure of pimples." For sale by all dealers. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

WOMAN AND FOUR LITTLE ONES BURNED

Homesteader's Dwelling in Saskatoon Destroyed—Toronto School Blaze—Principal Gordon's Wife Dead

Saskatoon, Sask., Jan. 14.—A woman and four children were burned to death in a fire that destroyed the dwelling of a homesteader named Henderson here last night.

Alex. Reid, father of two of the children, was badly burned and will die. The children, boarded with Henderson, and the two men had been out ranching and only returned for a few days yesterday. The blaze broke out while the family was asleep from an unknown cause.

Toronto, Jan. 14.—(Special)—Fire started in the St. Clair avenue school, West Toronto, this morning shortly after school opened around the cold air register in the main corridor.

The children from the upstairs rooms started to march out in good order under the fire drill but when they came to pass the fire a panic ensued and about half the class ran back into the room.

Miss Stanbury, their teacher, bravely followed them back and tried to get control again, but the children were screaming and dancing with terror and the only thing for her to do was to hold the youngsters out of the window as far as she could reach and drop them into a snow bank.

Clayton Patterson, aged eight, had his spine injured; Harold Taylor, Eva Patterson, Kenneth Taylor and Tom Marjory received slight injuries. The fire was put out without much damage.

A big snow storm started last night and is raging from Kingston to Chicago. Trains on all railways are late and several main lines are blocked altogether.

Thomas Hodgins, judge in admiralty, died here today, aged eighty-five.

Prospecting in the Yukon is a thing of the past according to Albert Beaudette, mining engineer, who has recently been discharged from the government service due owing to a reduction of the staff. He says Dawson's population has fallen to 2,000 and the Yukon Gold Company is doing all the dredging and washing. The output of gold has fallen off to $400,000.

Kingston, Ont., Jan. 14.—(Special)—The death of Mrs. D. M. Gordon, wife of the principal of Queens University, took place here last night.

A Dainty Toilet Article
Every lady who desires to keep her attractive appearance, while at the Theatre attending Receptions, when shopping, while travelling and on all occasions should carry in her purse a "booklet of Gouard's Oriental Beauty Leaves." This is a dainty little booklet of exquisitely perfumed powder leaves which are easily removed and applied to the skin. It is so invaluable when the face becomes moist and flushed and is far superior to a powder puff as it does not pull and coat the complexion. It removes dirt, soot and grease from the face, imparting a cool, delicate bloom to the complexion. Sent anywhere on receipt of Five Cents in stamps or coin.

BETTING IN FAVOR OF LIBERALS

Balfour and Chamberlain
Join in Issuing a Manifesto to the People

SOME SURMISES

One Forecast is Unionist Majority of Seventy—Toronto Man Chief Speaker at Big Meeting—A Torchlight Procession in Honor of Lloyd-George

London, Jan. 14.—The eve of polling finds the parties outwardly full of hope. The Liberals certainly confidently anticipate a comfortable coalition majority at any rate, while the Conservatives think at the worst such a majority will be so small as to be practically useless.

The betting seems to be five to four or six to four against the Conservatives. The tariff reformers are making a great final effort to convince the electorate that bread will cost less under protection with a preference to the colonies. Balfour and Joseph Chamberlain tonight issued a joint manifesto tersely declaring that tariff reform will not raise the price of food nor the proportion of taxation paid by the working classes; on the contrary, they believe it will reduce taxation on the articles the working class consume, lessen unemployment and develop trade with the overseas states.

The Liberal press and speakers are strenuously appealing to the people "To vote to protect the vote."

According to the London Mirror, election agents think the Unionists will capture the following London seats: Tottenham, North Lambeth, Battersea, Kensington (North), Kensington (South). Among the twenty provincial seats which the Conservatives expect to win are Ashton-Under-Lyne, Falmouth, Burnley, Cambridge, Scarborough, Southampton and two or three in Manchester.

The Liberal press and speakers are strenuously appealing to the people "To vote to protect the vote."

London, Jan. 14.—The Liberals are confident that Saturday's polling will start them towards a majority almost as decisive as they had in the last parliament. Chamberlain's message to the Liberal press was that the Unionist hope that the result will be better than the enemies of tariff reform expect.

London's intention is a mystery. The shouting disturbances at the Unionist meetings indicate a Liberal sweep, but the Unionists claim the endorsement of opinion will drive the Liberals down to defeat. Each party gets big receptions at their meetings by cheering partisans.

Greenwood's election. He is opposed by a wealthy local brewer. Greenwood's name is the one that has been mentioned in connection with the election. Greenwood has great local strength and with Greenwood is likely to be elected, unless the Liberals split their votes.

Mr. Blackstock asked why England hesitated to offer Germany. Germany was fighting England with a tariff instead of the sword. England should say to Germany: "Call off your tariff dogs or we will turn our tariff dogs on you."

Mr. Blackstock eloquently pictured the trade fight as Britain getting pounded by Lloyd-George by the ringleader urging "Blackstock to his back."

The speech was breathlessly listened to between storms of cheering by the audience who shouted to Blackstock to go on when he closed a powerful address.

One thousand Liberals were at the station midnight in torchlight procession to meet Lloyd George, who spoke at Grimsby.

It is believed of for a cabinet minister to address a meeting on polling day. Encouraged by Blackstock's speech, the "Unionists" shout: "A hundred Lloyd Georges could not prevent Douglas's election."

The conflict which will open the battle lines tomorrow for the first general election since 1906 is a death struggle between the two great political parties in the state—the aristocrats and the democrats.

"Vote to protect the vote," is the exhortation addressed to the people tonight.

ALMOST DIED OF MALIGNANT TONSILLITIS

Another Case Proving That Catarrhoxone Cures When All Else Fails.

The case of Mr. James E. Barton, the well-known publishing agent, of Stratford, is most remarkable. For seven years he suffered from weak throat, treated with numerous physicians, used a score of remedies—but was not cured. Among the symptoms from which he suffered were:

Influenza
Nasal Catarrh
Weak Throat
Frontal Headache
Bronchitis
Hoarseness
Croupy Cough
Sore Chest

"For years I suffered from a chronic weakness of nose, throat and lungs. My chest was sore, my throat irritable, and I had a harsh, croupy cough that was always worse in the morning. During bad weather I was completely prostrated with Catarrh, bronchial irritation, and all the manifold discomforts of tonsillitis.

"When I began using Catarrhoxone a beneficial effect was noticeable at once. My breathing became free, my chest was better, my throat was eased, and the thick phlegm and coughing that made me so sick passed away. Once, when my son was threatened with malignant tonsillitis, Catarrhoxone cured him in two days."

Catarrhoxone is certain to cure because the healing vapor is carried with great breath direct to the seat of the chest, nose or throat trouble. Being composed of the purest balsams and essential essences, it immediately allays irritations, facilitates the ejection of mucus, soothes and stimulates the lungs and bronchial tubes.

Lo those in fear of changeable weather—those who easily catch cold—those who work among hazy-chilling surroundings, or where dust, impure air, fog, or damp can affect them—let them get Catarrhoxone and use it several times daily. Large size, sufficient for two months' use, guaranteed, price $1.00; smaller sizes 25c. and 50c. Beware of imitations and substitutes, and insist on getting Catarrhoxone, and all the mail from the Catarrhoxone Company, Kingston, Ont.

by the leading Liberal organ, and it then succinctly describes how the conflict presents itself to the Liberals. On the opposing side is ranged every possible influence in support of the privileged classes.

The outstanding features of the campaign have been the determination of the Liberals to fix the attention of the people on the constitutional struggle involved in the attempt of the peers to control the public purse and the quick realization by the Conservatives that the rejection of the budget had been a mistake.

The campaign has been notable beyond all previous election struggles in England in the enormous use of picture posters and similar devices. The tariff reformers even opened shops in different districts to display samples of foreign import "dumped" into England. This led to amusing incidents.

The question of the cost of food in the United States and Germany also was illustrated in a similar manner. Displays were made of British and German bread as object lessons, and there was much trouble over the Liberal allegations that the German bread subsisted on unpalatable black bread and horseflesh. Then a German baker in London came forward to testify that the alleged black rye bread was a luxury and that he had a contract to supply it regularly to Buckingham Palace.

There still are fifty seats where there is a possibility of a Liberal constituency returning a Unionist member from regular contests including Laborites.

The Unionist free traders appear to have decided to support the tariff reformers. Lord Hugh Cecil, one of their leaders, announces his adherence to this course.

Music Lessons Free

IN YOUR OWN HOME

A wonderful offer to every lover of music whether a beginner or an advanced player.

Ninety-six lessons (or a less number, if you desire) for either Piano, Organ, Violin, Guitar, Banjo, Cornet, Sight Singing, Mandolin or Cello will be given free to make our home study courses for these instruments known in your locality. You will get one lesson weekly, and your only expense during the time you take the lessons will be the cost of postage and the music you use, which is small. Write at once. It will mean much to you to get our free booklet. It will place you under no obligation whatever to us if you never write again. You and your friends should know of this work. Hundreds of our pupils write: "Wish I had known of your school before."

"Have learned more in one term in my home with your weekly lessons than in three terms with private teachers, and at a great deal less expense."

"The lessons are marvellous of simplicity, and my 11 year old boy has not had the least trouble to learn."

One minister writes: "As each succeeding lesson comes I am more and more fully persuaded I made no mistake in becoming your pupil."

Established 1898—have thousands of pupils from seven years of age to seventy.

Don't say you cannot learn music but send for our free booklet and tuition offer. It will be sent by return mail free. Address U. S. SCHOOL OF MUSIC, Box 331, 225 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

An ingenious manufacturer has hit upon a new device. Now the busy hands that rub the tarnished silver bright also rub on a brilliant polish that, so the maker claims, is there to stay, and that covers worn spots on forks and spoons with a beautiful, even silver plate. Of course this new polish is only for plated silver; the genuine articles need only the assistance of scalding water, a little powder and a chamois skin to bring out the natural lustre. Silver that has become scratched and blurred through constant use may be "dipped" at small expense and the original brilliance restored.

THE BANK INSPECTION

(Victoria Colonist)

The question of independent official inspection of chartered banks is receiving a good deal of consideration in the eastern press. As is generally understood, there is no government inspection of Canadian banks. The inspector, who drops in every now and then when he is not expected, is not a government official, but an officer of the bank. Primarily he is looking after the interests of the bank, although it is so doing he necessarily looks after the interests of the public. The movement in favor of inspection by public officials has its origin with H. C. McLeod, of the Bank of Nova Scotia, who has issued a pamphlet on the subject. He points out that the shareholders in a bank really concern themselves very little with its management, rarely taking the trouble to attend the annual meetings. It is understood that the majority of Mr. McLeod's suggestions do not find much favor with his fellow bankers, although no reasons have been advanced against them. We assume that the wisdom and integrity, with which Canadian banks have, as a rule, been managed, afford one reason why the public generally is satisfied with things as they are. Canada is one of the few countries, which do not provide for independent inspection.
