WOMAN'S COURT,
WOMEN JUDGES
AND POLICE

Resolution This Morning by National Council

Take Places on Juries — Action Relative to Pictures, Billboards and Objectionable Printed Matter.

A pleasing feature of the opening of this morning's session of the convention of the National Council of Women was the presentation, by Mrs. A. H. Mc-Creedy of the Sackville council, to Mrs.
Sanford, the national president, of a handsome bouquet of roses with the compliments of the Sackville council.
The president accepted the token with a graceful speech of thanks.

The corresponding secretary read a letter from Alfred Fitzpatrick of the Frontier College, Toronto, enclosing a copy of a pamphlet, "Our New Canadians." It was decided to send a letter of commendation of the work being carried on by the college.

Moral Standards.
The report of the committee on Equal Moral Standards and prevention of traffic in women was read by Mrs. W. C.
Good and the following resolution presented:

tried by men and before men and con-

Londonderry Fighting
Said To Have Reached
Stage of Civil War

Six Killed So Far and Many Injured in Clashes — Troops Under Fire — Outlook in Country Reported Very Grave.

Londonderry, June 21.—Civil war conditions prevail in Londonderry, and the authorities are powerless, it is declared in an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Londonderry this afternoon. Several persons were killed in this morning's fighting there, according to this message.

The firing is being maintained with desperate intensity. Business is suspended and the postmen are declining to deliver mail.

When the troops stop the fighting in one zone, the despatch adds, firing breaks out in another.

OPENLY FIRE ON TROOPS Londonderry, June 21.—Fighting was renewed in this city this morning and resulted in one person being mortally wounded and two seriously hurt. Rifle and revolver firing was almost continuous, and as the people feared to venture out to work, business was at a standstill.

The mob this morning openly fired on the troops. At one o'clock this afternoon the rioting was still in progress.
John Gallagher, one of the men wounded in yesterday's fighting between Unionists and Nationalists, died today, bringing the number of deaths for the present outbreak of party strife up to six.

(Canadian Press.)
Londonderry, June 21.—The situation in Ireland is so tense that there is something more than the possibility of serious trouble in the near future, according to the London Times' Dublin correspondent in a despatch dated Sunday. The position in County Fermanagh, where the trouble has become almost impossible and the outlook is very grave.

OPINION OF SCOTTISH SHIPBUILDERS
Now in Nova Scotia —
The Prohibition Referendum in Scotland.

(Canadian Press.)
Halifax, N. S., June 21.—I should say that the labor situation in Britain is very unpleasant, said Colonel John Denry of Dunbarton, Scotland, shipbuilding magnate and a member of the House of Commons, in an interview last night. He has just returned from England to visit his family.

Police Raid Shops.
Londonderry, June 21.—A sergeant and six constables raided shops at Carrickohannis, County Londonderry, for food supplies on Saturday after they were refused permission to make purchases, in accordance with a Sinn Fein boycott against the militia. Informed by shopkeepers that the Irish republican could not be related to the police, they themselves with meat and milk and paid for them. They departed, followed by a hostile crowd, and succeeded in avoiding a collision only by rapid flight in motor cars.

Londonderry Riots.
Londonderry, June 21.—During the rioting on Saturday night in which persons were killed and ten seriously injured, McVeigh, a laborer, was on his way to a butcher's shop when, reaching the end of Longtower street, a bullet struck him in the throat. He struggled toward a public house where he lay where he fell. Owing to the fierce fusillade it was impossible to go to his assistance but eventually a man rushed to greater intensity and the firing by Unionists became so hot that people who had been seeking shelter in doorways were sent to crawling along the ground to places of safety.

Gradually the Unionists gained control of the entire district in the centre of the city, chasing the Nationalists into their own locality. In their retreat, the latter fired volleys into the Masonic hall, the windows of which were broken. The Unionists pooled small groups at vantage points and kept up a continuous fire. It was here Price was killed as he entered the doorway of the Diamond Hotel, where he lived. The bullet entered his abdomen, pierced a two inch door and became embedded in a wall.

Price served with an ambulance corps in the Ulster division throughout the war, having come from America to enlist. He was waiting an opportunity to return.

The military arrived in the centre of the city about 11 o'clock and an armored car moved to Bishop's Gate, whereupon the rioting subsided, although occasional shots were still heard. The Unionists left the neighborhood, singing and cheering.

There were scenes of wild disorder also in Waterloo Place, a Protestant quarter, where Nationalists for a couple of hours stopped and examined all persons who attempted to pass.

This mob wrecked several shops and appropriated their contents. Flames burst from the drapery store of James Moore, a Unionist. The fire brigade arrived with some volunteers, some of whom were held up and relieved of their revolvers.

It is not known how McLaughlin met his fate. He was brought to an infirmary in a donkey cart and died soon after admission.

As Hiram Sees It

"These here rich men," said Mr. Hiram Horn-beam to the Times reporter, "me got to be put in their place. A poor man ain't got no chance at all no more one of the papers that prohibition is a rich word. Who's a poor rich man to be able to pisen himself any more? A poor man? If I ain't got an ottomobel an' a sular
—if that's any reason why I can't get away die if I want to? When my government comes in we'll fix it so any man that wants to pisen himself kin pay for it but he wants at cost price—no no taxes."

"But isn't it against the law for a man to make an attempt on his own life?" asked the reporter.

"That's a fool of a law," said Hiram.
"It's got to be changed. What does any man want to live for? He knows the world can't be made no better. It's no use at all. We ort to all commit suicide —instad of tryin' to do what can't be done. 'Tis the world's growin' wuss all the time."

"Our ancestors," said the reporter, "were naked savages. I am not sure but that they ate one another. Surely the world has made some progress. I am satisfied at your attitude. It certainly is not the attitude of my old friend the Chief Templar of Hornbeam Lodge." What has come over you? Does Mrs.
Hornbeam approve?"

"But she haint seen that newspaper yit.
Hannu always had a lot of faith in his own ideas," said the reporter. "I wonder what you would think? I would think he had not yet learned the taste of butter milk with the national drink of the world's growin' wuss all the time."

"If any other man than you talked in such a strain," said the reporter, "I would know what I would think? I would
of butter milk with the national drink
of the world's growin' wuss all the
time."

"Well," said Hiram, "I will say that if butter milk was the national drink of the world's growin' wuss all the time, I would not be a poor man."

GETTING AFTER
LLOYD GEORGE
GOVERNMENT

(Canadian Associated Press.)
London, June 21.—The government has been accused of taking a somewhat rough handling in the House of Commons regarding expenditure. On Tuesday the opposition made a motion that will be criticized, also the cost of the proposal to re-equip the army in the Lord Northcliffe papers have been making a dead set against Austen Chamberlain's chancellorship of the exchequer.
They are now being joined by other anti-government journals.

Two to be Hanged.
Ottawa, June 21.—A double hanging is scheduled to take place at Quebec Friday night. The condemned men are Nick Debeke and George Morari. The government has decided that the law is to take its course.

Free Hand to Greece
In Military Measures
Against Turk Forces

Nationalist Forces Reach Dardanelles — British Fleet and British and French Troops to be Concentrated for Defence of Constantinople and Straits.

Boulogne, June 21.—Greece was given a free hand in the military measures in Turkey, which were decided upon at the Hythe conference yesterday, according to information here today.

The premier and his advisors found these measures were required immediately because of the grave situation resulting from Mustapha Kemal's nationalist forces reaching the Dardanelles.

French and British troops and the British fleet will be concentrated for the defence of Constantinople and the Straits.

The delegates to the Hythe conference, it is declared, were of opinion that the taking of these measures would be sufficient to deal with the situation.

Malta, June 21.—A battalion of the Essex Regiment is under orders to embark forthwith on the cruiser Cardiff for Constantinople. All available destroyers and the cruiser Blenheim have been ordered to the East.

Indications are that the entire Mediterranean fleet, including the first battle squadron, is concentrating in the Near and Middle East.

LONDON, June 21.—Italian troops have been withdrawn from Antalya, Dardanelles and the whole Montenegrin coast, according to an official agency agency announced at Belgrade. Serbian troops immediately occupied the evacuated districts.
There are now no foreign troops in Montenegro.

JUNE BRIDES
Tolan-Kennan

scene of a quiet though very pretty wedding this morning at six o'clock, when Very Rev. Dean Charles Collins united in marriage Mary Regina, daughter of street, Fairville, and James Edward Tolan of this city. Miss E. Veronica Kennan acted as bridesmaid, while the groom's best man was Mr. J. H. Tolan.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was becomingly attired in a quet of Ophelia roses. The bridesmaid crepe with blue lace hat and carried a bouquet of white roses.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tolan.
The groom left on a trip to Montreal, Toronto and Niagara Falls. The bride's travelling suit was of blue tulle with pink tie, present of the groom, and hat of fawn and blue crepe-de-chine. The groom's present to the bride was a sapphire ring, and to the groomsmen a signet ring. The presents, which were very numerous and beautiful, included Mrs. J. H. Tolan, united in marriage Henry Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
C. P. B. Tolan, and the groom's best man was Mr. J. H. Tolan, and the roses. Following the ceremony a dainty wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Frederick Hall, 51 Guilford street, after which Mr. and Mrs. Wood left on a honeymoon trip to Boston. Returning they will reside in Guilford street. They were pretty presents in silver and cut glass, charge of the Sisters of Charity, were present. Rev. W. M. Duke thanked the teachers for their self-sacrifice in attending each Sunday and giving so much of their time to the welfare of the little ones. He also advised the girls and boys to live up to the things they had been taught, and to be aware of the many dangers which would beset them through life. Rev. Simon Oran spoke to the same end, exhorting the children to do what was right, and told them to enjoy their summer vacation.

TWO SUITORS
FOR MAIDEN ON
THE CARONIA

Report Says She Changed Mind on Voyage

Expected as Bride of Sydney Officer, Declared to Have Transferred Affections to Captain of "The Guards."

(Canadian Press.)
Halifax, N. S., June 21.—When Captain R. Kitchen of Sydney and late of the Canadian Expeditionary Force arrived on board the Caronia at her dock here on Saturday to greet Miss Bulter of 12 Marley Road, Laverholme, Manchester, England, who had come out to marry him, he found that during the voyage she had transferred her affections to Captain T. Mellor, late of "The Guards" and said to be a son of Sir John Mellor, Bart. of London, and that no inducement was sufficiently strong to compel her to stick to her original intentions of proceeding to the newly furnished home awaiting her in Sydney.

The immigration officials intervened and after numerous conferences with each of the three angles making up this particular triangle, and due inspection of all the documents including two perfectly good marriage licenses, that of Captain Mellor having been obtained upon the arrival of the Caronia here, decided that the only solution was to order the deportation of Miss Bulter.
This did not suit Captain Kitchen, who thereupon paid the return passage of his former fiancee and the boat proceeded to New York, where it is understood Captain Mellor proposes to stage another attempt to wed the lady, with the probability of success.

Among the documents produced by Captain Mellor were a letter of introduction to W. B. MacCoy, secretary of industries and immigration, Halifax, and another to George Graham, general manager of the D. A. R. He said that it was impossible for a captain in the "Guards" to be courted. He had only known the lady for five days and seventeen hours, but he was willing to marry her at the risk of losing £2,000 allowance.

Captain Kitchen, who is well known throughout eastern Nova Scotia, met Miss Bulter during his convalescence from wounds received during the war.
He proceeded to England some months ago but Miss Bulter was ill at the time and the marriage was postponed. He had only known the lady for five days and seventeen hours, but he was willing to marry her at the risk of losing £2,000
allowance.

NEW YORK, June 21.—The steamer Caronia, which arrived here today from Liverpool and Queenstown, via Halifax, was delayed at quarantine by health officers due to a case of snail-fever developed during the voyage. The patient, a steamer passenger, was put ashore at Halifax.
