Movements were very narrow and irregular and developed no definite trend. Moderate selling coming on a market bare of buying orders was sufficient to carry two stocks to new low records for the year. apsing into dullness, selling presure has een light and stocks on the whole have held fairly well. What steadiness the ist has shown has been due to the ever present hope that money would show some relaxation. The period of easing apparently recedes like a mirage. Brokers were fairly confident that it would come in at least a mild form at the beginning of April. When that hope was disappointed May 1 was taken as a likely turning point. All the signs so far have been disappointing, and those who early in the year took the view that there could be no period of ease in money this year have so far the best of the argument.

in money this year have so far the best of the argument.

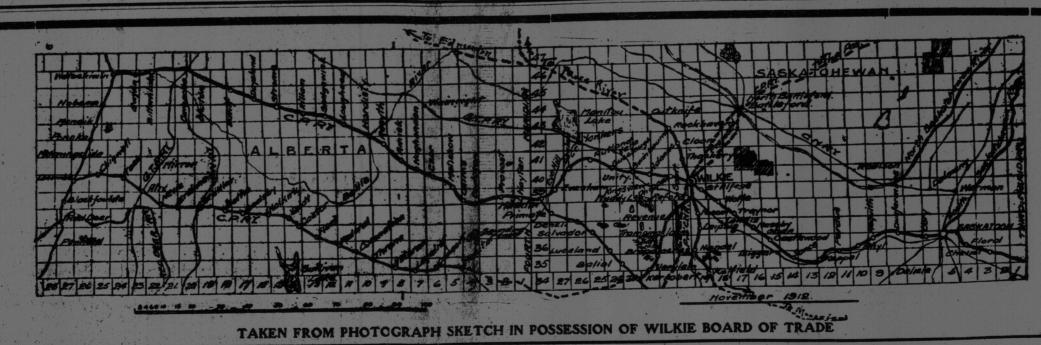

Strength of Brazilian Traction being assigned to efforts of the London interests to hold the market up until the preferred stock issue is out of the way exerts little influence on sentiment. Before the preferred issue announcement a sharp advance in the stock such as occurred yesterday would have been taken to indicate a good feeling in London; the decline in C. P. R. would have been the indicate a good feeling in London. There is some speculation here as to the amount of preferred which will be taken up by local shareholders. Traders can't figure any value for the rights of subscription and there can scarcely be any market for them. With investment conditions as they are here at the present time, many good 7 per cent preferred stocks selling below par, it is not thought that a great deal of the Brazilian six preferred issue would be taken up in Canada. The London interests of the company are a strong group, and the offering will probably be readily absorbed there.
