speech the other day at Montreal said: "We go in not as a divided party; we have no breaches in our tion dividing us, we appear as we did in the old days, as representing what we believe to be in the Canadian interests, and I am confident, just as confident as I was before the last election in Manitoba—(cheers)—that when the votes are counted we shall find that my honored friend, Sir Charles, is the prime minister of Canada. (Renewed cheering.) But there is another advantage we have on this occasion, and it is a great one. We were placed in an awkward position during the last fight by the fact that the conservative party had been in record. (Laughter and cheers.) They made when asking the people for their votes. That gives us an immense pull woods one day with his axe, when turning round he found a bear near him and it was making for him. He is said that just before death a man's pledged themselves to when the government came before the great electorate of Canada asking for their support, and I think you will all agree with me, servatives, that it is the duty of a party when asking the electorate to support them to tell them plainly what they are going to do. (Cheers). That is the thing that makes me proud to be a conservative, because, rightly or wrongly, the conservative party have always told the people when asking for their vote what their policy was.

(Hear, hear and cheers). Look at 1878, when they introduced their national policy, when the house met it was attacked by men of great ability like Alexander Mackenzie, Edward

Blake, Richard Cartwright, and others. They all attacked it. They said it was unworkable; that it would ruin the country, that it would not produce the reform it was suggested it would: but not one of them said that in introducing their policy the conservatives had not carried out the promises they had made to the people.

Sir Alexander Mackenzie said in the house that they had tot only redeemed their pledges, but had gone far beyond their promises. (Cheers). That was a right position for a party to take, and it was the position of the conservative party at the last election.

(Renewed cheers). They went before the electorate with a clearly defined policy. A large number of the electors did not think it for the interests of the people; but there was not one intelligent man in Canada who did not know what that policy was; and the policy of the conservative party does

I can tell you now, speaking as a humble member of the party, that what we fought for in 1878 in the shape of the national volicy is what we are fighting for today. (Renewed cheers). We believe in protecting our own interests—(cheering); we believe in protecting our own workingmen-

(renewed cheers); we think a man is entitled to a fair day's wage for a fair day's work. That was the conservative policy in 1878, and it is the conservative policy in 1900. (Renewed cheers). And there is no false note struck by any prominent man on our side today. Every man when addressing the electors states what the party will do if returned to power.

past, and if we return to power you

CATARRHOZONE CURED.

Mr. Quinlan says: "For years I have been a victim to one of the most dreaded forms of catarrh. My vocal organs became gradually affected, and last autumn I could not speak above a whisper. I used many remedies, but they did not help. At last the dector said I should have to go to the hospital, where I could be given proper treatment. Two months in Lunenburg Hospital falled to benefit, so I went to Halifax Hospital, but in three weeks the doctors said nothing could be done, and I returned home. Finally a friend advised me to use a semple of Catarrhozone, and the result was se encouraging that I continued the treatment. In a few weeks my voice became much strengthered and in a month and a half my power of speech was completely restored. Neighbors and friends concur with me that Catarrhozone is the only cure for catarrh and throat affections. Hundreds of dollars expended in other ways will not benefit as much as one expended on Catarrhozone." Makes a Splendid Speech and is Most Hon. Hugh John Macdonald in his ranks, going in well disciplined, well drilled, and well officered, and under a leader in whom every member of the party has the utmost confidence. (Tre-

ROY H. MCCREADY MARRIED. He is a Brother of the Editor of the Sackville Post.

The marriage of Roy H. McCready and Miss Annette M. Russ, only daughter of Walter E. Russ, took place Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at No. 33 Holyoke street, Brewer, Me., which has been newly fitted for the occupancy of the young couple. The house was very prettily deeprated for the occasion with ferns, plants and flowers, the decorations of the parlor in which the ceremony was performed being especially attractive. In the presence of immediate relatives and friends the nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Benjamin B. Merrill, pastor of the First Congregational church of Brewer. The bride was charmingly attired in a pastelle broadcloth travelling suit and carried roses. The wedding march was played by Miss Alice Ray, a cousin of the bride. The bride is an accomplished young woman of musical attainment, making her one of the popular accompanists of the city. Mr. McCready is train despatcher for the Bangor & Aroostook railroad and is held in high esteem by the officials and employes of the road and his acquaintances. The young couple were generously remembered with wedding gifts, beautiful and useful, and included a handsome china cabinet, from the general officers and the employes in the general offices of the Bangor & Aroostook railroad. Mr. and Mrs. McCready left on the

3.20 train east for an extended wedding trip lasting about three weeks. They have the hearty congratulations of all their friends for a long and happy wedded life. They will be "at home" Oct. 15.—Bangor Commercial. [Mr. McCready is a son of Cyrus W. McCready of Apohaqui, and was formerly on the I. C. R.. He is a brother of A. W. McCready, of the Sackville St. John and Westmorland counties.]

C. H. PETERS' SONS' TANNERY. It Will be One of the Best Equipped in

The new tannery being built for C. H. Peters' Sons, on Erin street, near the foot, is fast taking shape. All of the several buildings have their frames up, and the contractors are putting forth especial effort to make it possible for stock to be manufactured during the first week in December. The land taken up by the tannery buildings extends from the Aberdeen school to Hanover street, and back to the water, and the architect has located the various departments so as to make them exceedingly convenient.

Railway sidings are to be run in beween two of the principal structures, making it possible to unload bark at the very building in which it is used, and with water facilities in the rear the expense of cartage is to be entirely eliminated.

The boiler and engine house will be 40x40 feet, and built of brick and stone. Then comes a bark storage yard, 200x 100 feet. In the rear of the boiler Erin street the currying shop is situ mensions being 140 ft. 6 inches long, 50 feet wide and three stories high. In the rear of this the tannery and beam house is being built. It is two stories Next to the school building is the jaare numerous smaller structures about the grounds, such as barns, hide houses, etc. When completed the new Peters' tannery will be the most up-to-date in taken. Canada. The plant to be installed is contractors for the buildings are: John Duffy, who is erecting the beam doing themselves.

THE QUEENS CO. CAMPAIGN.

Horton B. Hetherington of Queens county, who will oppose Hon. L. P. Farris in Queens county, in the interests of the conservative party at the approaching election, came to town this morning. Mr. Hetherington says he and J. D. Hazen, M. P. P., held a rousing meeting in the Hampstead hall last evening. Councillor Nickerson occupied the chair, and the speeches delivered by Mr. Hazen and himself were very well received. Hampstead and vicinity gives every evidence of a favorable result for her majesty's loyal opposition on polling day. Altogether Mr. Hetherington has addressed fifteen meetings during the short campaign and finds favor with

Mr. Bowes had been sick for some three months, but his condition was not regarded as serious until a fortnight ago. He was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1826, and came to St. John with his father, John Bowes, in 1836. He was educated in this city and was apprenticed to E. Stephen of Water street in the tinsmith trade. His father was drowned in the harbor two years after his arrival here. In 1854 he entered into a business partnership, the firm being Bowes & Kennedy, which was dissolved in 1868, and from that time he conducted business alone until 1872, when the firm of Bowes & Evans was formed. . That connection was severed by the great fire of June, 1877, after which Mr. Bowes again carried on business alone, retiring about two years ago. In 1852 Mr. Bowes married Isabelle, daughter of James 'ender of Petersville, Queens Co., who, with one son, John A. Bowes, editor and proprietor of the St. John Gazette, survive. TIEN TSIN, Sept. 13, via Shanghai, Sept. 15.-The Russians, it is reported here, are rapidly pushing troops into Manchuria, where all indications point to extensive operations before the arrival of winter.

They have suspended work on the railroad to Pekin, which adds to the complications. It is believed that their object in this is to compel the other powers to consent to the destruction of Pekin.

The Tu Liu expedition has returned to Tien Tsin. The march back was unopposed and it is reported that the Boxers have retired in force to a village thirty miles up the grand canal. The Americans did not participate in the burning and looting of Tu Liu, and this caused considerable comment among the other commanders.

The 6th U.S. Cavalry, it is reported here, have been ordered to camp at Yang Tsun, up the Pei Ho, with a view of strengthening the line of communications. The regiment will take two heavy guns. Twelve thousand Germans have ar-

THE HOUSE OF LOVE.

(Folger McKinsey in Baltimore News.)
We built it out of a summer dream,
With hopes of wonder for arch nad beam;
We cleared a spot in the rosy lane,
Where oaks gave shelter from sun and rain; We wasted wealth of our fancy there that haven we built from the world of care.

It grew from the sill to the vaulted dome, A sweet love nest and a love sweet home. There were secret ways through the tangled wood To the spot where its walls of jasper stood; There were chestnuts bending above the moss. And the pine spread arms like a wayside cross; There were wildwood blooms for the feet to And the low, sweet plaint of the thrush's call; There were 'aith, and trust, and the song of life In the rooms that were walled from the stress and strife.

Cne to the west was of crimson sheen For the sunset ribbons to flash between, And one was the secret room of the heart, Where thou, O Love, didst reign apart From the dust that stifles the voice of song, Where the feet go by of the hurrying throng, From the road and rumble that thrill the In the hundred haunts of the human fray.

We built it out of a summer dream,
We followed the path of the far-off gleam, Hend in hand to our hopes we went.
Under the lanes where the chestnuts bent.
And what if the house were a house of dust?
And what if we wasted our faith and trust?
And what if it crumbled away at our feet?
We had our cream—and the dream was sweet!
