

PER FANNY FLINT FROM NEW YORK.

12 Cases Paper Collars.

25 M Geneva, 25 M Ravenswood, 25 M Ben Bolt, 25 M Victoria, 5 M PAIRS CUFFS.

THE remainder of the above goods are of the latest and newest style, and are of the highest quality. They are of the best material and are made by the best workmen.

EVERITT & BUTLER.
DR. J. E. GRIFFITH, Dentist
Office, Union Street, near German, SAINT JOHN, N.B.

Teeth Extracted without pain by the use of Nitrous Oxide (Laughing Gas). Artificial Teeth Inserted in the Best Manner.

MARITIME
WAREHOUSING AND DOCK COMPANY

Storage in Bond or Free. Cash Advance. On all descriptions of Merchandise. RANK STREET, SAINT JOHN, N.B.

JAMES D. O'NEILL.
MANUFACTURER OF OIL-TANNED LARRIGANS!

Women's, Misses' and Children's BOOTS and SHOES. FACTORY, No. 35 UNION STREET, SAINT JOHN, N.B.

VICTORIA STEAM CONFECTIONERY WORKS.
WATERLOO STREET.

We call the attention of WHOLESALE DEALERS and others to our stock of Pure Confections!

Some of which will be found entirely new to the trade. We invite inspection and solicit orders. J. R. WOODBURN, 20 KING STREET, SAINT JOHN, N.B.

MISPECK MILLS. - - - St. John, N. B.

HOMESPUNS!
All Wool Twilled Flannels and Tweeds.

And Superior GREY BLANKETS. All at GREATLY REDUCED PRICES!

FIRST CLASS COTTON WARPS. The above named Seasonable Goods are all of SUPERIOR QUALITY, manufactured from the best material, and are guaranteed to give satisfaction.

SPECIAL CHRISTMAS DISCOUNTS
AT MILLAR'S
SEWING MACHINE
EMPORIUM.

20 per Cent Off For Cash! All purchases of the following best class Sewing Machines will get a Discount of 20 per cent during the holidays.

THE LOCKMAN, THE HESPELER, THE APPLETON, THE SINGER, & Co.

These Machines are well known, reliable and durable, and are guaranteed to give satisfaction. They are of the best material and are made by the best workmen.

DAVID MILLER, 20 KING STREET, SAINT JOHN, N.B.

Wholesale Warehouse, CANTERBURY STREET.

We have on hand One Thousand Pairs of WHITE BLANKETS!

And Five Bales of CAMP BLANKETING. For sale low.

T. R. JONES & CO.

GREY COTTON!

We would call the attention of Purchasers to the fact that the material used in making English Grey Cotton is of the best quality.

MUCH SUPERIOR

to the material used in making English Grey Cotton. For sale by the Dry Goods Trade.

WM. PARKS & SON, New Brunswick Cotton Mills, SAINT JOHN, N.B.

THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE, A 42 COLUMN PAPER!

as Best in the Maritime Provinces! Only One Dollar a Year! Sample Copies Mailed Free.

The Daily Tribune.

THURSDAY EVENING, JAN. 8, 1874.

The Pacific Scandal caused by Premier Sir John Macdonald's acceptance of an election fund from the man whose ambition to become President of the Pacific Railway he had promised to further.

There is a little drift ice in the Strait of Canso, but not enough to impede navigation. Port Harebury is frozen over.

Dr. Parker remarked in Halifax that he had not, during his practice of twenty-five years, seen so healthy a year as that which has just closed.

The North Sydney Herald says—Our port is still free of ice, and coal is being shipped daily at the wharf of the General Mining Co. The steamer Viking is now in port.

The despatching of the steamer, which was sent by District Court Martial, and sentenced to two years' imprisonment at Melville Island. Sergeant W. H. Sharpe, of the St. John Police Force, was here as a witness against him.

The widow of the English prize-fighter, Tom Sayers, has been before a London magistrate charged with neglecting to send the dead pugilist's three children to school. She was fined and imprisoned.

During 1873 the police officers of Montreal made 11,085 arrests. Among the prisoners were 71 who, when asked, in regard to their trade or profession, styled themselves gentlemen.

In a recent interview Miss Emily Faithfull told the editor of the Herald that she was seemingly all spent in listening to the doleful stories of tenderly reared women who are entirely destitute of resources.

Somebody suggests that Sergeant Bates, whose business it is to carry United States flags through various parts of the city, should be allowed to wear a sword.

The ex-Empress Eugenie, on the occasion of her recent visit to Queen Victoria at Windsor Castle, was attended by a black housemaid named Sarah.

A Bombay newspaper says that among the hill people it is a common practice to place infants beneath a constant jet of water conveyed through a bamboo spout.

A man may be superior to his age in his business and social relations, popular with all who know him, but does this faculty of smiling sweetly while measuring a yard of tape or making humorous remarks while counting a note, or exchanging pleasantries with people on street corners and in public places, is a faculty which the unfolding of the policy of the Government, to add to shaping it in the interests of New Brunswick, and to discover and denounce schemes for tampering with our constitutional rights at the dictation of any party or interest!

Anybody will sign a requisition for almost anybody else. Some are proud of being asked, some "haven't the face" to refuse, some don't care anything about it, and others feel under obligations to the beneficiary that force them to sign. The value of requisitions is strikingly shown by the recent Mayor's election in Ottawa, where Dr. Hill, the defeated candidate, was brought out by a requisition signed by a majority of the electors. They have upon nothing there, too.

Congress, having settled the salary question by a compromise, will now be engaged on a bill for securing colored citizens equal civil rights. A strong effort is making to have this result in a compromise also, but the advocates of the measure want to make it criminal for the managers of any railway, hotel, theatre, or other public institution to make any distinction on account of color. One of the proposed amendments is that hotel keepers should not be compelled to put whites and blacks in the same rooms or beds, and that they should not be buried in the same lots. There was a great rush to hear Mr. Elliott of South Carolina on this question, as he is said to be the ablest colored man in the House of Representatives. "Webb" of the Boston Journal says:

Mr. Elliott's speech made a marked sensation. He is the blackest of black men, a fact which he repeatedly referred to in expressing his regrets that he was obliged to speak for equal rights in an American Congress. His speech was framed in excellent English, and was delivered with great energy, eloquence and eloquence.

There is a little drift ice in the Strait of Canso, but not enough to impede navigation. Port Harebury is frozen over.

Dr. Parker remarked in Halifax that he had not, during his practice of twenty-five years, seen so healthy a year as that which has just closed.

The North Sydney Herald says—Our port is still free of ice, and coal is being shipped daily at the wharf of the General Mining Co. The steamer Viking is now in port.

The despatching of the steamer, which was sent by District Court Martial, and sentenced to two years' imprisonment at Melville Island. Sergeant W. H. Sharpe, of the St. John Police Force, was here as a witness against him.

The widow of the English prize-fighter, Tom Sayers, has been before a London magistrate charged with neglecting to send the dead pugilist's three children to school. She was fined and imprisoned.

During 1873 the police officers of Montreal made 11,085 arrests. Among the prisoners were 71 who, when asked, in regard to their trade or profession, styled themselves gentlemen.

In a recent interview Miss Emily Faithfull told the editor of the Herald that she was seemingly all spent in listening to the doleful stories of tenderly reared women who are entirely destitute of resources.

Somebody suggests that Sergeant Bates, whose business it is to carry United States flags through various parts of the city, should be allowed to wear a sword.

The ex-Empress Eugenie, on the occasion of her recent visit to Queen Victoria at Windsor Castle, was attended by a black housemaid named Sarah.

A Bombay newspaper says that among the hill people it is a common practice to place infants beneath a constant jet of water conveyed through a bamboo spout.

A man may be superior to his age in his business and social relations, popular with all who know him, but does this faculty of smiling sweetly while measuring a yard of tape or making humorous remarks while counting a note, or exchanging pleasantries with people on street corners and in public places, is a faculty which the unfolding of the policy of the Government, to add to shaping it in the interests of New Brunswick, and to discover and denounce schemes for tampering with our constitutional rights at the dictation of any party or interest!

Anybody will sign a requisition for almost anybody else. Some are proud of being asked, some "haven't the face" to refuse, some don't care anything about it, and others feel under obligations to the beneficiary that force them to sign. The value of requisitions is strikingly shown by the recent Mayor's election in Ottawa, where Dr. Hill, the defeated candidate, was brought out by a requisition signed by a majority of the electors. They have upon nothing there, too.

Congress, having settled the salary question by a compromise, will now be engaged on a bill for securing colored citizens equal civil rights. A strong effort is making to have this result in a compromise also, but the advocates of the measure want to make it criminal for the managers of any railway, hotel, theatre, or other public institution to make any distinction on account of color. One of the proposed amendments is that hotel keepers should not be compelled to put whites and blacks in the same rooms or beds, and that they should not be buried in the same lots. There was a great rush to hear Mr. Elliott of South Carolina on this question, as he is said to be the ablest colored man in the House of Representatives. "Webb" of the Boston Journal says:

Mr. Elliott's speech made a marked sensation. He is the blackest of black men, a fact which he repeatedly referred to in expressing his regrets that he was obliged to speak for equal rights in an American Congress. His speech was framed in excellent English, and was delivered with great energy, eloquence and eloquence.

There is a little drift ice in the Strait of Canso, but not enough to impede navigation. Port Harebury is frozen over.

Dr. Parker remarked in Halifax that he had not, during his practice of twenty-five years, seen so healthy a year as that which has just closed.

The North Sydney Herald says—Our port is still free of ice, and coal is being shipped daily at the wharf of the General Mining Co. The steamer Viking is now in port.

The despatching of the steamer, which was sent by District Court Martial, and sentenced to two years' imprisonment at Melville Island. Sergeant W. H. Sharpe, of the St. John Police Force, was here as a witness against him.

The widow of the English prize-fighter, Tom Sayers, has been before a London magistrate charged with neglecting to send the dead pugilist's three children to school. She was fined and imprisoned.

During 1873 the police officers of Montreal made 11,085 arrests. Among the prisoners were 71 who, when asked, in regard to their trade or profession, styled themselves gentlemen.

In a recent interview Miss Emily Faithfull told the editor of the Herald that she was seemingly all spent in listening to the doleful stories of tenderly reared women who are entirely destitute of resources.

Somebody suggests that Sergeant Bates, whose business it is to carry United States flags through various parts of the city, should be allowed to wear a sword.

The ex-Empress Eugenie, on the occasion of her recent visit to Queen Victoria at Windsor Castle, was attended by a black housemaid named Sarah.

A Bombay newspaper says that among the hill people it is a common practice to place infants beneath a constant jet of water conveyed through a bamboo spout.

A man may be superior to his age in his business and social relations, popular with all who know him, but does this faculty of smiling sweetly while measuring a yard of tape or making humorous remarks while counting a note, or exchanging pleasantries with people on street corners and in public places, is a faculty which the unfolding of the policy of the Government, to add to shaping it in the interests of New Brunswick, and to discover and denounce schemes for tampering with our constitutional rights at the dictation of any party or interest!

Anybody will sign a requisition for almost anybody else. Some are proud of being asked, some "haven't the face" to refuse, some don't care anything about it, and others feel under obligations to the beneficiary that force them to sign. The value of requisitions is strikingly shown by the recent Mayor's election in Ottawa, where Dr. Hill, the defeated candidate, was brought out by a requisition signed by a majority of the electors. They have upon nothing there, too.

Congress, having settled the salary question by a compromise, will now be engaged on a bill for securing colored citizens equal civil rights. A strong effort is making to have this result in a compromise also, but the advocates of the measure want to make it criminal for the managers of any railway, hotel, theatre, or other public institution to make any distinction on account of color. One of the proposed amendments is that hotel keepers should not be compelled to put whites and blacks in the same rooms or beds, and that they should not be buried in the same lots. There was a great rush to hear Mr. Elliott of South Carolina on this question, as he is said to be the ablest colored man in the House of Representatives. "Webb" of the Boston Journal says:

Mr. Elliott's speech made a marked sensation. He is the blackest of black men, a fact which he repeatedly referred to in expressing his regrets that he was obliged to speak for equal rights in an American Congress. His speech was framed in excellent English, and was delivered with great energy, eloquence and eloquence.

There is a little drift ice in the Strait of Canso, but not enough to impede navigation. Port Harebury is frozen over.

Dr. Parker remarked in Halifax that he had not, during his practice of twenty-five years, seen so healthy a year as that which has just closed.

The North Sydney Herald says—Our port is still free of ice, and coal is being shipped daily at the wharf of the General Mining Co. The steamer Viking is now in port.

The despatching of the steamer, which was sent by District Court Martial, and sentenced to two years' imprisonment at Melville Island. Sergeant W. H. Sharpe, of the St. John Police Force, was here as a witness against him.

The widow of the English prize-fighter, Tom Sayers, has been before a London magistrate charged with neglecting to send the dead pugilist's three children to school. She was fined and imprisoned.

During 1873 the police officers of Montreal made 11,085 arrests. Among the prisoners were 71 who, when asked, in regard to their trade or profession, styled themselves gentlemen.

In a recent interview Miss Emily Faithfull told the editor of the Herald that she was seemingly all spent in listening to the doleful stories of tenderly reared women who are entirely destitute of resources.

Somebody suggests that Sergeant Bates, whose business it is to carry United States flags through various parts of the city, should be allowed to wear a sword.

The ex-Empress Eugenie, on the occasion of her recent visit to Queen Victoria at Windsor Castle, was attended by a black housemaid named Sarah.

A Bombay newspaper says that among the hill people it is a common practice to place infants beneath a constant jet of water conveyed through a bamboo spout.

A man may be superior to his age in his business and social relations, popular with all who know him, but does this faculty of smiling sweetly while measuring a yard of tape or making humorous remarks while counting a note, or exchanging pleasantries with people on street corners and in public places, is a faculty which the unfolding of the policy of the Government, to add to shaping it in the interests of New Brunswick, and to discover and denounce schemes for tampering with our constitutional rights at the dictation of any party or interest!

Anybody will sign a requisition for almost anybody else. Some are proud of being asked, some "haven't the face" to refuse, some don't care anything about it, and others feel under obligations to the beneficiary that force them to sign. The value of requisitions is strikingly shown by the recent Mayor's election in Ottawa, where Dr. Hill, the defeated candidate, was brought out by a requisition signed by a majority of the electors. They have upon nothing there, too.

Congress, having settled the salary question by a compromise, will now be engaged on a bill for securing colored citizens equal civil rights. A strong effort is making to have this result in a compromise also, but the advocates of the measure want to make it criminal for the managers of any railway, hotel, theatre, or other public institution to make any distinction on account of color. One of the proposed amendments is that hotel keepers should not be compelled to put whites and blacks in the same rooms or beds, and that they should not be buried in the same lots. There was a great rush to hear Mr. Elliott of South Carolina on this question, as he is said to be the ablest colored man in the House of Representatives. "Webb" of the Boston Journal says:

Mr. Elliott's speech made a marked sensation. He is the blackest of black men, a fact which he repeatedly referred to in expressing his regrets that he was obliged to speak for equal rights in an American Congress. His speech was framed in excellent English, and was delivered with great energy, eloquence and eloquence.

There is a little drift ice in the Strait of Canso, but not enough to impede navigation. Port Harebury is frozen over.

Dr. Parker remarked in Halifax that he had not, during his practice of twenty-five years, seen so healthy a year as that which has just closed.

The North Sydney Herald says—Our port is still free of ice, and coal is being shipped daily at the wharf of the General Mining Co. The steamer Viking is now in port.

The despatching of the steamer, which was sent by District Court Martial, and sentenced to two years' imprisonment at Melville Island. Sergeant W. H. Sharpe, of the St. John Police Force, was here as a witness against him.

The widow of the English prize-fighter, Tom Sayers, has been before a London magistrate charged with neglecting to send the dead pugilist's three children to school. She was fined and imprisoned.

During 1873 the police officers of Montreal made 11,085 arrests. Among the prisoners were 71 who, when asked, in regard to their trade or profession, styled themselves gentlemen.

In a recent interview Miss Emily Faithfull told the editor of the Herald that she was seemingly all spent in listening to the doleful stories of tenderly reared women who are entirely destitute of resources.

Somebody suggests that Sergeant Bates, whose business it is to carry United States flags through various parts of the city, should be allowed to wear a sword.

The ex-Empress Eugenie, on the occasion of her recent visit to Queen Victoria at Windsor Castle, was attended by a black housemaid named Sarah.

A Bombay newspaper says that among the hill people it is a common practice to place infants beneath a constant jet of water conveyed through a bamboo spout.

A man may be superior to his age in his business and social relations, popular with all who know him, but does this faculty of smiling sweetly while measuring a yard of tape or making humorous remarks while counting a note, or exchanging pleasantries with people on street corners and in public places, is a faculty which the unfolding of the policy of the Government, to add to shaping it in the interests of New Brunswick, and to discover and denounce schemes for tampering with our constitutional rights at the dictation of any party or interest!

Anybody will sign a requisition for almost anybody else. Some are proud of being asked, some "haven't the face" to refuse, some don't care anything about it, and others feel under obligations to the beneficiary that force them to sign. The value of requisitions is strikingly shown by the recent Mayor's election in Ottawa, where Dr. Hill, the defeated candidate, was brought out by a requisition signed by a majority of the electors. They have upon nothing there, too.

Congress, having settled the salary question by a compromise, will now be engaged on a bill for securing colored citizens equal civil rights. A strong effort is making to have this result in a compromise also, but the advocates of the measure want to make it criminal for the managers of any railway, hotel, theatre, or other public institution to make any distinction on account of color. One of the proposed amendments is that hotel keepers should not be compelled to put whites and blacks in the same rooms or beds, and that they should not be buried in the same lots. There was a great rush to hear Mr. Elliott of South Carolina on this question, as he is said to be the ablest colored man in the House of Representatives. "Webb" of the Boston Journal says:

Mr. Elliott's speech made a marked sensation. He is the blackest of black men, a fact which he repeatedly referred to in expressing his regrets that he was obliged to speak for equal rights in an American Congress. His speech was framed in excellent English, and was delivered with great energy, eloquence and eloquence.

There is a little drift ice in the Strait of Canso, but not enough to impede navigation. Port Harebury is frozen over.

Dr. Parker remarked in Halifax that he had not, during his practice of twenty-five years, seen so healthy a year as that which has just closed.

The North Sydney Herald says—Our port is still free of ice, and coal is being shipped daily at the wharf of the General Mining Co. The steamer Viking is now in port.

The despatching of the steamer, which was sent by District Court Martial, and sentenced to two years' imprisonment at Melville Island. Sergeant W. H. Sharpe, of the St. John Police Force, was here as a witness against him.

The widow of the English prize-fighter, Tom Sayers, has been before a London magistrate charged with neglecting to send the dead pugilist's three children to school. She was fined and imprisoned.

During 1873 the police officers of Montreal made 11,085 arrests. Among the prisoners were 71 who, when asked, in regard to their trade or profession, styled themselves gentlemen.

In a recent interview Miss Emily Faithfull told the editor of the Herald that she was seemingly all spent in listening to the doleful stories of tenderly reared women who are entirely destitute of resources.

Somebody suggests that Sergeant Bates, whose business it is to carry United States flags through various parts of the city, should be allowed to wear a sword.

The ex-Empress Eugenie, on the occasion of her recent visit to Queen Victoria at Windsor Castle, was attended by a black housemaid named Sarah.

A Bombay newspaper says that among the hill people it is a common practice to place infants beneath a constant jet of water conveyed through a bamboo spout.

A man may be superior to his age in his business and social relations, popular with all who know him, but does this faculty of smiling sweetly while measuring a yard of tape or making humorous remarks while counting a note, or exchanging pleasantries with people on street corners and in public places, is a faculty which the unfolding of the policy of the Government, to add to shaping it in the interests of New Brunswick, and to discover and denounce schemes for tampering with our constitutional rights at the dictation of any party or interest!

Anybody will sign a requisition for almost anybody else. Some are proud of being asked, some "haven't the face" to refuse, some don't care anything about it, and others feel under obligations to the beneficiary that force them to sign. The value of requisitions is strikingly shown by the recent Mayor's election in Ottawa, where Dr. Hill, the defeated candidate, was brought out by a requisition signed by a majority of the electors. They have upon nothing there, too.

Congress, having settled the salary question by a compromise, will now be engaged on a bill for securing colored citizens equal civil rights. A strong effort is making to have this result in a compromise also, but the advocates of the measure want to make it criminal for the managers of any railway, hotel, theatre, or other public institution to make any distinction on account of color. One of the proposed amendments is that hotel keepers should not be compelled to put whites and blacks in the same rooms or beds, and that they should not be buried in the same lots. There was a great rush to hear Mr. Elliott of South Carolina on this question, as he is said to be the ablest colored man in the House of Representatives. "Webb" of the Boston Journal says:

Mr. Elliott's speech made a marked sensation. He is the blackest of black men, a fact which he repeatedly referred to in expressing his regrets that he was obliged to speak for equal rights in an American Congress. His speech was framed in excellent English, and was delivered with great energy, eloquence and eloquence.

There is a little drift ice in the Strait of Canso, but not enough to impede navigation. Port Harebury is frozen over.

Dr. Parker remarked in Halifax that he had not, during his practice of twenty-five years, seen so healthy a year as that which has just closed.

The North Sydney Herald says—Our port is still free of ice, and coal is being shipped daily at the wharf of the General Mining Co. The steamer Viking is now in port.

The despatching of the steamer, which was sent by District Court Martial, and sentenced to two years' imprisonment at Melville Island. Sergeant W. H. Sharpe, of the St. John Police Force, was here as a witness against him.

The widow of the English prize-fighter, Tom Sayers, has been before a London magistrate charged with neglecting to send the dead pugilist's three children to school. She was fined and imprisoned.

During 1873 the police officers of Montreal made 11,085 arrests. Among the prisoners were 71 who, when asked, in regard to their trade or profession, styled themselves gentlemen.

In a recent interview Miss Emily Faithfull told the editor of the Herald that she was seemingly all spent in listening to the doleful stories of tenderly reared women who are entirely destitute of resources.

Somebody suggests that Sergeant Bates, whose business it is to carry United States flags through various parts of the city, should be allowed to wear a sword.

The ex-Empress Eugenie, on the occasion of her recent visit to Queen Victoria at Windsor Castle, was attended by a black housemaid named Sarah.

A Bombay newspaper says that among the hill people it is a common practice to place infants beneath a constant jet of water conveyed through a bamboo spout.