COMMON PHRASES

very well. nglish badly. etty fluently. ery little. (16) tter than etc. in prose than e theatre. ght. ong. is time. nuch.

ough. les. too little. e l. very well. e t. often.

except (save) nger anyone. ything. ore books. more books.

ive me some. re you going ne: take two. er. Are you us lie down. us sit down.

r the verb innediately after

Dépêchons-nous. Allons chercher de Prenons le tramway. C'est le plus jeune enfant. C'est l'enfant le plus _ âgé. Il ne sait pas grand' chose. Je lui ai écrit. Je l'ai écrit. Je lui ai dit de venir. Je l'ai souvent dit. Je leur ai do de l'argent. Je les_ai do. . . à Jean. Quelqu'un est_il venu? Personne n'est venu.

Je ne suis pas riche, mais je le serai un jour.

Jo ne suis ni riche ni pauvre. Ni le chien, ni le chat n'est_ici.

Je ne peux pas voir, à cause de la fumée.

J'ai autant d'argent que j'en_avais hier.

J'en_ai plus que j'en_avais hier.

Je n'en_ai pas tant que j'en_avais.

J'en_ai autant qu'il m'en faut. Nous en avions: nous en avons. Les chemins sont tels, que je ne peux_aller à la ville. Le livre est tel qu'il était.

La maison est telle qu'elle était. Mon frère est mieux qu'il était. Il fait tellement froid (or si froid), que j'ai peur de sortir.

Let us hurry. Let us go get Lone water. Let's take the car. It is the youngest child.

It is the eldest child.

He doesn't know much.

I wrote to him.

I wrote it.

I told (to) him to come.

free said it (so).

I gave to their some money. I gave them to John.

Did anyone come?

Nobody came

I am not rich, but I'll be so some day.

I am neither rich nor poor.

Neither the dog nor cat is here.

I can't see on account of the smoke.

I have as much money as I had thereof yesterday.

I have more thereof than I had thereof yesterday.

I have not as much (thereof) as I had (thereof).

I have as much thereof as I nced We had some: we have s

The roads are such, that I can't go to town.

The book is such (just) as it

The house is just as it was.

My brother is better than etc. It is so cold that I am afraid to go out.