

MYSTERY SOLVED

Death of Mrs. Joseph Pulitzer
Traced to Wm. Hooper
Young.

New York Sept. 20.—The mystery of the murder of Mrs. Joseph Pulitzer, whose body was found in the Morris canal, near Jersey City, has been cleared up by the discovery that the woman was killed in a flat at 103 West Fifty-eighth street, where her clothing was found last night.

Capt. Titus, of the detective bureau, alleges that the murder was committed by a man named William Hooper Young, grandson of the famous Mormon leader, who has recently been employed in a cheap restaurant, and who formerly published the Hoboken Crusader. His picture was shown to the Hoboken livings, who at once identified him as the unknown man who hired the buggy from him Wednesday night.

The house in which the murdered woman's clothes were found is a cheap tenement, in a block containing many stables, but is within a stone's throw of some of the most splendid apartment houses in the vicinity of Central Park South.

An autopsy performed on the body of Mrs. Pulitzer, showed that her death was caused primarily by a knife wound in the abdomen and not by choral. Several blows were struck on her head before death, but the skull was not fractured, and there were no signs of cerebral hemorrhage.

A police dragnet has been thrown out for Young. Among the books found in his room in the Fifty-eighth street flat, was the cover of a small memorandum, on the front of which was stamped in gold letters "Practical reference." On the inside were a number of notes headed, "Blood atonement," and followed by biblical references, including an excerpt from the book of Corinthians reading:

"To deliver such an one unto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus."

Detectives have traced Young to Brooklyn, where he went on Thursday morning to bid a friend good-bye. To this friend he said he was going to the Rocky Mountains.

A trunk shipped to Chicago by Young, through the Wells-Fargo express, was consigned to "C. S. Eideny." The police do not believe it contained anything other than clothing belonging, possibly to Mrs. Pulitzer, as very little of the murdered woman's apparel has been found.

Richard E. Anzer, a close friend of Young, and at one time his partner in the publication of the Hoboken Crusader, says that Young called at his house in Hoboken last Thursday morning about 7:30 o'clock. Young, he says, was driving a horse and buggy which he stated had been rented by the livings, who has since figured in the identification of the weight found attached to Mrs. Pulitzer's body.

Anzer says he met Young at Butte, Mont., in 1901. Young was then traveling for a drug house. They became friends and Young, later in the year, joined him in the publication of the paper in Hoboken. They dissolved partnership last June, however, and since then had seldom met.

Salt Lake, Utah, Sept. 20.—Hooper Young, suspected by the police as the murderer of Mrs. Pulitzer, in New York, is the son of John W. Young, a son of Brigham Young, and is a well known railroad contractor, having become wealthy from contracts in the construction of the Utah and Northern and Utah Central railways. At the time of Brigham Young's death in 1877, John A. Young was one of the former's counselors. He was tried under the Edmunds law, charged with polygamy, but was acquitted on a technicality.

Hooper Young is well known in Salt Lake, having resided here up to a few years ago.

Outrages on the Increase.

Washington, D.C., Sept. 19.—Another Boxer uprising is imminent in China, which may equal in violence that of 1900. Mail advices received at the State Department from United States Minister Conger at Peking, dated last month, show a serious condition of affairs, and the lives of all foreigners are deemed in danger. The trouble appears to arise principally from extortionate taxation, combined with resentment against the presence of missionaries, thus justifying the judgment of the Department of State, which pointed out to the powers that the demand for excessive indemnities would result in serious internal trouble in China.

Mr. Conger's first advice bears date of Aug. 6, from Peking, and he reports serious anti-foreign riots near Chentu, in the Province of Szechuen, in which a number of native Christians had been massacred and chapels destroyed.

TRAIN MEN KILLED.

Pittsburg, Sept. 19.—Five trainmen were killed and two seriously injured as the result of a head-on collision between Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh and Pittsburg & Western passenger trains at Witmer station, on the Pittsburg & Western railroad, about 10 o'clock to-day. A number of passengers were cut and bruised by flying splinters and broken glass, but none was seriously hurt. The dead were: George Chugerty, brakeman; Wm. Benedict, engineer; Thomas E. Dugan, fireman; Fay De Moss, boiler-maker; Wm. Graham, fireman.

The accident, it is alleged, was due to the failure to flag the trains.

BATTLE CREEK MAN DEAD.

Battle Creek, Mich., Sept. 20.—Four weeks ago the marriage of Miss Bertha Buck and Frank B. Spear was announced to take place. The groom was taken sick with typhoid fever, but insisted on the ceremony, which was Fantastic stories have been written of magic mirrors in which the future was revealed. If such a thing were possible many a bright-faced bride would shrink from the revelation of herself, stripped of all her loveliness. If there is one thing which would make a woman shrink from marriage it is to see the rapid physical deterioration which comes to so many wives. The cause is generally due to womanly diseases. Lost health and lost comeliness are restored by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures irregularity and dries weakening drains. It heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

"It is with the greatest pleasure that I tell you what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery have done for me," writes Mrs. Emma L. Banks, of 102 North 7th Street, Harrisburg, Pa. "They have done for me what I had feared would never be done. I had female weakness for six years, sometimes would feel so badly I could not do to do, but I found relief at last, thanks to Dr. Pierce for his kind advice. I have this medicine still in my house and will always keep it."

If you are led to the purchase of "Favorite Prescription" because of its remarkable cures of other women, do not accept a substitute which has none of these cures to its credit.

performed by Rev. W. S. Potter while the groom lay in bed. Yesterday he died. He was 24 years old and a popular young man. The funeral sermon will probably be preached by the clergyman who married him. The remains will be taken to Jackson, his old home, for burial this afternoon.

SIMPLE FUNERAL FOR A QUEEN.

Brussels, Sept. 20.—King Leopold will reach Spa to-morrow, and the remains of Queen Marie Henriette will be removed to Brussels the same evening. Flags everywhere are half-masted and the city has the appearance of deep mourning.

It is understood that the funeral of the queen will be quite simple, so foreign governments are not under the necessity of sending missions.

THE ROOT OF THE MATTER

He Cured Himself of Serious Stomach Trouble, by George Loven to First Principles.

A man of large affairs in one of our prominent eastern cities by too close attention to business, too little exercise and too many club dinners, finally began to pay nature's tax, levied in the form of chronic stomach trouble; the failure of his digestion brought about a nervous irritability making it impossible to apply himself to his daily business and finally deranging the kidneys and heart.

In his own words he says: "I consulted one physician after another and each one seemed to understand my case, but all the same they each failed to bring about the cure of my former digestion, appetite and vigor. For two years I went from pillar to post, from one sanitarium to another, I gave up smoking, I quit coffee and tea and sleep and eat only two or three times a day, but without any marked improvement.

"Friends had often advised me to try a well known proprietary medicine, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and advertisements of the remedy but never took any stock in advertised medicines nor could believe a fifty-cent patent medicine would touch my case. To make a long story short I finally bought a couple of packages at the nearest drug store and took two or three tablets after each meal and occasionally a tablet with my meals, when I felt any feeling of nausea or discomfort.

"I was surprised at the end of the first week to note a marked improvement in my appetite and general health and before the two packages were gone I was certain that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets were going to cure completely and they did not disappoint me. I eat, sleep and enjoy my coffee and cigar and no one would suppose I had ever known the horrors of dyspepsia.

"Out of friendly curiosity I wrote to the proprietors of the remedy asking for information as to what the principal ingredients were (as per septic pepsin (government test), malt diastase and other natural digestives, which digest food regardless of the condition of the stomach."

The root of the matter is this, the digestive elements contained in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest the food, give the overworked stomach a chance to recuperate and the nerves and whole system receive the nourishment which can only come from food; stimulants and nerve tonics never give real strength, they give a fictitious strength, invariably followed by reaction. Each drop of blood, every nerve and tissue is manufactured from our daily food, and if you can ensure its prompt action and complete digestion by the regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, you will have no need of nerve tonics and stimulants.

Although Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been in the market only a few years yet probably every druggist in the United States, Canada and Great Britain now sells them and considers them the most popular and successful of any preparation for stomach trouble.

JUDGE WAS "NEXT"

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 20.—An interesting little anecdote is going the rounds of the Windsor law offices just now in which the chief actors are Chief Justice Falconbridge, who presided at the session of the High Court of Justice, and Attorney E. S. Wigle, of Windsor.

Aware that time is a mutable agent which acts on the complexion of all things, lawsuits included, Wigle thought it advisable to have the case of Henry vs. Ward, postponed. Such a course, it was thought, would be of advantage to the plaintiff, and to himself. It had long been known that a supreme effort would have to be made for the postponement, as the plaintiff and his attorney would be adverse to such a course, a fight was imminent. It so happened that the defendant Ward became ill a few days ago, and that information was communicated to Wigle. The latter replied stating that a doctor's certificate to that effect would be acceptable, and it is said that the requested technical nomenclature of medical lore to describe the malady.

Wigle made a motion to the court to have the case laid over, owing to the illness of his client. In support of his contention, he produced the physician's certificate wherein it was stated that the absentee was suffering from a sub-acute attack of rhinitis. The scheme was a good one, and, although Wigle freely recognized Justice Falconbridge's talents in law and arts, he had not counted upon his being versed in medical science. To his amazement when he heard the reading of the description of the malady, he heard the court thunder forth:

"Why not state the illness in plain words, Mr. Wigle?"

"Plain words?" was Wigle's rejoinder, somewhat discomfited.

"Yes, why not say 'have fever'?"

"I think this case had better go on this docket," and it did.

KALAMAZOO WEDDING

The anticipations of a large number of invited guests were delightfully realized on Tuesday evening when, at the home of Mrs. Jennie Morlan, 523 south Burdick street, her daughter, Miss Jennie Morlan, and Urse George Grandbois, both of this city, were united in marriage, Rev. W. M. Puffer of the First M. Church, performing the ceremony at half-past 8 o'clock.

The ceremony took place in the back parlor, which was artistically decorated for the occasion with red and white were the chosen colors, and an airy canopy of asparagus and smilax with numbers of white asters, and a backing of palms and ferns, formed the setting for the impressive ceremony.

The bridal party were led by the little ribbon bearers, Ruth Ralston in white, and Gordon Davis, niece and nephew of the bride. Behind them came the clergyman, followed by the attendants, Philip Megs of Chicago Heights, as best man and Miss Marie Martin as maid of honor, and the little flower girl, Helen Ralston in dainty pink with a basket of pink roses. Lastly came the bride and groom, the former very beautiful in a trained gown of white French material. The whole was made of clusters of tucks separated by applique fillet lace set in. A string of pearls and a shower bouquet of bride roses completed the dainty toilet. The groom wore the suit of honor was also of white with lace trimmings. A bouquet of pink bridesmaid roses was carried.

The wedding march from Lohengrin was finely rendered by Miss Marie Martin, an accomplished musician, of Marshall, who also played "O Promise Me" softly during the ceremony and Mendelssohn's wedding march as a recessional.

After congratulations the bridal party moved to the dining room, where a special table had been prepared for them. The color scheme of red was carried out with red shades, ribbons, carried from chandelier to the corners of the table, and in the handsome bouquet of Meteor roses in the center of the table. Smaller tables were occupied by the remainder of the company. The fine four-course wedding repast was in charge of Mrs. Slaughter and served by four young men.

An elegant and judiciously chosen array of bridal gifts filled the gift room, and bore mute testimony to the regard in which both bride and groom are held by a large circle of friends, many of them out of the city. A $250 check was the gift of the bride's brother.

The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a handsome gold locket, and to the pianist a brooch pin.

Late in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Grandbois left for a brief honeymoon trip. The bride's going away gown was a dark blue suit, tailor made. On their return they will be at home at 523 south Burdick street. The groom is a traveling salesman for the Zoa Phora company of this city, and with his young wife is much liked and respected. The good wishes of a large circle of friends go with them.

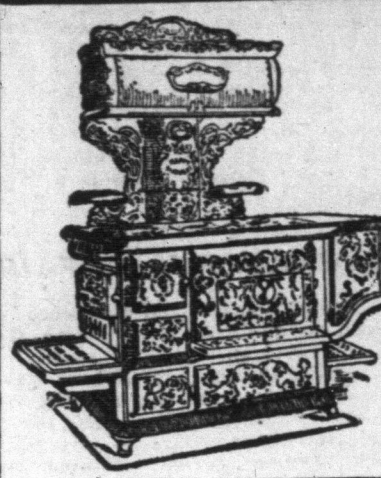

Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. John Grandbois, parents of the groom, brother Perry and sister Miss Oran, of Chatham, Ontario; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Morlan, of Fort Wayne, brother of the bride, and wife; Mrs. W. L. Smith, of Ypsilanti, and Miss Ethel Waleworth, of Petoskey. — Kalamazoo Gazette.

MONUMENT TO SLOCUM.

Gettysburg, Pa., Sept. 19.—The dedication to-day of the monument erected on the Gettysburg battlefield to the memory of Gen. Henry W. Slocum, attracted a very large attendance of veterans. Special trains brought Gen. Odell, of New York; Murphy, of New Jersey; Stone, of Pennsylvania, and other distinguished men, including Gen. Daniel E. Sickles and former Pension Commissioner Dudley, who lost a leg in the battle of Gettysburg while in command of the Nineteenth Indiana regiment.

Buying a Range

There are three essential things to consider when buying a Range.—Quality, Consumption of Fuel, and the Price. The price is the least important. A good Range will last many years, and when it saves in fuel it pays for its self, while a cheap Range is constantly adding to its price in extra consumption of fuel. The "Happy Thought" Range is the lightest fuel consumer in the world, and the most perfect Range constructed. It is a perfect cooking apparatus.
