night destroyed the dwelling house occupied by Mrs. Alex. Chaisson (widow)
Everything in the building was destroy ed, the inmates barely escaping with their lives. Mrs. Chaisson has the sympathy of the neighborhood, and it is stated that steps have been taken to lighten as much as possible the heavy loss the fire entailed.

Attorney-General Casgrain has in fire about 11 o'clock Friday night. Fortunately the night was damp, and plenty of water was on hand, or Kentinta as so in as the elections are over count. Mercier, Pacaud and J. B. Linguis will be arrested, the ged with conspiring to defraud the province on of $60,000 in connection with the famous Language stationer transaction.

The programme for the Benevolent Irish Society's concert, in the Lyceum on St. Patrick's night, has been filled, and the concert will no doubt be one of the best ever given the city. Several of the city's sweet singers will, we understand, make their debut, while the old favorites will again be to the fore. The sermon at the services in St. Danstan's Cathedral in the mornng, will be delivered by Rev. Dr. IDoyle, of Vernon River.

A posse of six policemen has at last captured the much wanted Henry McKwen, alias Jackson, the prisoner who escaped from the gall last September, while there awaiting trial in the Supreme Court for larceny. The capture was made as his residence on the Malpeque Road yesterday morning. McKwen did not at all appreciate the vigilant espionage our stalwarts bestowed upon him of late, and gave them conditions.

as if marching forward. At the base of the subject of the Rev. Gentleman a discourse was "Faith," and it is needless to say it was admirably treated. In plain and elequent language he showed that faith was the ground-work of religion; what constituted true faith, and the necessity of possessing this faith; for "without faith it is impossible to please God." There was a very large congregation present, many non-Catholics being in attendance. These Sermons will be continued, by different preachers, during the Sunday evenings of Lent. The will embrace such subjects as the "Unity" "Gatholicity" and "Apostolicity" of the Church.

The sermon on prayer, delivered in St. Dunstan's Catholeral, last evening, by Rev. R. B. McDonald, was possibly as fine a discourse as was ever delivered in that church. As an exposition of prayer, it would be difficult to imagine anything more beautiful. Its simplicity of language, theoreughness of explanation, and approses of Illustration brought it within the capacity of she youngest child present, while from a Theological point of view it could not fail to satisfy the most critical Prayer, he pointed out, was a conversation with God. A person might read many pages of a prayer book, and count many decades of the beade, and still not prayer, the content of the secondary of the tree of the case of the Pharises and Publican as an illustration of the necessary to be learned in order to be able to pray; not even to be able to read, All that was wanted was carnestness, humility and perseverences. He cited the case of the Pharises and Publican as an illustration of the necessary to response the fact that taste is a perseverence in prayer was rewarded. We should not he selfish in our prayers.

We recognise the fact that taste is a mest varied factor in drags, and have kept perseverence in prayer was rewarded. We should not he selfish in our prayers. Monico were pointed out, as cases where perseverance in prayer was rewarded. We should not be selfish in our prayers we should pray, not only for ourselves, bet for our neighbors, and particularly for that should leave no taste unconsidered.

yesterday morning. McEwen did not at all appreciate the vigilant espionage our stalwarts bestowed upon him of late, and gave them considerable trouble before they succeeded in placing him behind the bars.

In St. Dunstan's Cathedral on Sunday evening last, Rev. Ronald B. MeDonald of Rustico presented the first of a series of Lenten Sermous, on the Church. The subject of the Rev. Gentleman a discourse was "Faith," and it is needless to say it was admirably treated. In plain and ele-
