

There's SOLID Comfort IN A CUP OF TEA.

Well, that depends.
And it all depends upon the quality of the tea
If the Tea is flat and flavorless—no comfort.
But—if it has a deep golden brown color in the cup,
And—a fine, rich, satisfying flavor,
Then, you are sure of your solid comfort.
OLD HOME TEA combines a deep,
golden brown color with a fine, rich, satisfying flavor, and full body in the liquor.
If you steep Old Home Tea carefully and according to directions enclosed in each packet you will surely get solid comfort and rare enjoyment.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

That it is not only what one has to wear, but how it is worn, not only what furniture there is in a house, but how the house is kept, that makes a person or a house look attractive or unattractive, is a truism. And yet how often we seem to forget this fact.

We had been calling at a lovely new home the other day. The happy bride had proudly shown us all over it. She is decidedly well to do, and the furniture was beautiful. Dull, rich mahogany in the fine old lines, marvellously grained Circassian walnut, brass beds of exquisite dull finish and chastest of design, fragile gold and white china, heavy silver in the severe antique pattern, beautiful pictures and wonderful oriental rugs—indeed, everything that the heart of man, or rather of woman, could desire, seemed to be in that house.

As we walked towards home my companion sighed enviously, "Wasn't it lovely? Oh, it just makes me sick to go into my house after that."

A vision of her home came before my eyes. The furnishings are good, though not expensive. The house is pleasant and has fine possibilities, and yet it is a distinctly unattractive home—far more unattractive than it has any reason for being. For the mistress of the house ignores the truism that it is not only what is in a home but how it is kept that makes it pleasing or not. Take her bedroom, for instance. With its pretty white beds, its well built oak dresser, its dainty cretonne hangings and comfortable wicker chairs, it would be a very pleasant room if it were kept perfectly clean and in good order.

But when I last saw it, the hangings were awry, the dresser was littered and one drawer pulled a little way out, the covers on the wicker chairs were soiled, the beds were carelessly made and one of them was marred by a long scratch which might have been easily remedied by a bit of enamel. Naturally the effect was not pleasing. She evidently attributes the unattractive aspect to the lack of fine furniture. But if she had the finest furniture, the most expensive mahogany or Circassian walnut, and kept the room so carelessly, and was so neglectful of details as she now is, I maintain that the effect would still be far from pleasing.

A certain young married woman envies her girl friends their pretty clothes and sometimes feels aggrieved because she cannot have two suits a year and all the other dainty costumes and accessories that they buy for themselves. Apparently she is very ambitious to look well. And yet she often goes about the house without a collar or belt, and with a gown which has been simply thrown on. The finest clothes worn in this way would be unattractive. The cheapest machine made housegown, if it is of a becoming make and color, and carefully and neatly put on, would look better.

To remove iron stains from marble, wet the spots with either oil of vitrol, or with lemon juice, or with oxalic acid diluted with spirits of wine, and after fifteen or twenty minutes rub them dry with a soft linen cloth.

Elasticity is restored to rubber by soaking it in one part ammonia and two parts clear water until the desired results are obtained. This is specially true in the case of rings of other articles that have become stiff and brittle.

There are many ways of getting rid of mice; but try this: When mice trouble you, hunt out their entrances to pantry or cupboard and plaster them with a mixture of melted (just soft) laundry soap and red pepper. They will not come again.

Take old fruit jar rubbers, break 'em into bits and hold over a hot fire on a shovel until it "blubbers"; then, with a broad bladed knife, spread quickly over the leak. Wet your finger and rub till smooth. I have needed hot-water bottles the same way.

An old teapot is one of the best things to use for putting paraffine on 'ellies or preserves. Place the teapot into which you have put the paraffine on the stove, and when melted pour over the jelly. Stand the teapot away and it is ready for future use.

To clean hair brushes use soda dissolved in cold water, as hot water and soap very often soften the bristles and rubbing completes their destruction. Avoid setting the brushes near the fire or in the hot sun to dry, as this causes the bristles to lose their straightness; shake them well and dry in the fresh air.

Upper Sandusky, Ohio.—"Three years ago I was married and went to house-keeping. I was not feeling well and could hardly drag myself along. I had such tired feelings, my back ached, my sides ached, I had bladder trouble awfully bad, and I could not eat or sleep. I had headaches, too, and became almost a nervous wreck. My doctor told me to go to a hospital. I did not like that idea very well, so, when I saw your advertisement in a paper, I wrote to you for advice, and have done as you told me. I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, and now I have my health. If sick and ailing women would only know enough to take your medicine, they would get relief."—Mrs. BENJ. H. STANBERRY, Route 6, Box 18, Upper Sandusky, Ohio.

If you have mysterious pains, irregularity, backache, extreme nervousness, inflammation, ulceration or displacement, don't wait too long, but try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound now.

BOVRIL IS ALL BEEF.

Questions we are often asked.

- Q.—What is the sediment at the bottom of a cup of Bovril?
- A.—That is a valuable portion of the nourishment, and should never be left.
- Q.—Are you serious when you say that Bovril is more nourishing than ordinary Meat Extract or Home-made Beef Tea?
- A.—Certainly! and we have for years offered large rewards to anyone who can prove the contrary.
- Q.—But can you prove your statement!
- A.—Yes—from the pen of Baron Liebig himself, who told the world that the man who managed to get the nourishing, as well as the stimulating properties of Beef in a liquid form, would produce something far better than Liebig's Extract, and would be a public benefactor.
- Q.—And you have done this?
- A.—Yes. By a special process, the entire nutritious constituents of prime ox beef are separately treated, pulverized and added to specially-prepared Meat Extract, and that is Bovril.
- Q.—Don't experiment with artificial imitations of dubious quality which are cheap at any price when such a tried and proven nutritious food-beverage "made in England" is within your reach.

9167—A COSTUME IN GOOD TASTE AND STYLE.

Costume for Misses and Small Women. (With or Without Tuckers.)

Blue silk voile was used for this model with bands of embroidery for decoration. It is equally effective in brown cashmere with pipings of green satin. The waist shows the new deep armcye, and is finished with a kimono sleeve, and worn with or without the long sleeve tucker. A round yoke piece skirts the neck edge. The three seams. The costume may be finished in high or normal waistline. The pattern is cut in 5 sizes: 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18 years. It requires 1 1/2 yards of 27 inch material for the tucker, and 5 yards of 36 inch material for the dress for a 16 year size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

Suitable materials for any of these patterns can be procured from AYKIE & SONS, Ltd. Samples on request. Mention pattern number. Mail orders promptly attended to.

9170—A Dainty GARMENT FOR THE HOUR OF REST.

Ladies' Dressing or House Sack.

White cotton crepe with bandings of blue and white embroidery was used for this design. The design is finished with closing and deep shoulder plaits. The sleeve is cut in one with the body portions. The fulness at the waistline may be held in place by a belt or ribbon, if the shirring is not desired. The pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 42 inches bust measure. It requires 4 1/2 yards of 36 inch material for the 38 inch size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.
