War News.

Messages Received Previous to 9 A.M.

OFFICIAL. LONDON, Dec. 6. The British force has reached Kut-el-Amara, without further fighting. In France there has been mining and artillery fighting. Russia reports successes on the Stry and in Galicia. Italy says that at Monte Nero an enemy attack in dense formation penetrated the Italian lines at a few points, but they were finally driven out, leaving 500 dead and 131 prisoners.

DONAR LAW. STOPPED BY CENSORS. LONDON, Dec. 6. Announcement was made at the War Office to-day that in future all personal government cards, addresses of neutral countries, will be stopped by censors.

REACHED KUT-EL-AMAR. LONDON, Dec. 6. The British army in Mesopotamia which has been withdrawing from before Bagdad, reached Kut-el-Amara on the Tigris, 105 miles below Bagdad without further fighting.

PEACE DELEGATION DISCUSSED. LONDON, Dec. 6. Request was made in the Commons this afternoon by Sir Edwin Montagu, Liberal, that an intimation be sent to Henry Ford and William Jennings Bryan, that their proposed peace mission in this country would be irritating and unwelcome at the present time. It drew a response from Lord Robert Cecil, Parliament member for Foreign Affairs, that as the passport of the members of the peace mission only had been issued for neutral countries, the contingency contemplated by Sir Edwin did not arise. A rapid bombardment of questions came from different parts of the House, inviting the Under Secretary, seeing that these people left amid a storm of criticism, to convey to them, in whatever neutral country they found themselves, the intimation that they are not wanted here at any time.

FRANCE AND HER PROVINCES. PARIS, Dec. 6. France will not make peace until Alsace and Lorraine are won. Belgium and Serbia restored, and German Imperialism and Prussian militarism is put beyond the possibility of resurrection, so said Albert Thom, Under Secretary of War yesterday. This declaration of Thomas is attracting widespread attention, as it is one of the statements from the neutral republic cabinet concerning the attitude of the government with regard to peace.

WAR COUNCIL IN SESSION. PARIS, Dec. 6. The first meeting of the general War Council was held to-day at Paris. The Council is designed to carry forward the work begun recently by the French, British and Russian governments for the purpose of bringing about closer cooperation among the Entente Powers in military operations. The Council meeting was attended by representatives of Britain, France, Russia, Italy, Belgium and Serbia. The French Commander-in-Chief, General Joffre, presided.

INDICTMENTS FOR CONSPIRACY. NEW YORK, Dec. 6. Five additional indictments were returned to-day against Robert Fay, Walter Scholze, Max Breitung, Dr. Herbert Kinsale, Englebert Bronkhorst and Paul Daesche, all charged in conspiracy, to murder and commit assault with deadly weapons, and to destroy ships. Previous indictments against them merely charged them with destroying ships.

POUR-PARLERS. PARIS, Dec. 6. Telegraphing from Athens the correspondent of the Havas News Agency says: Pour-parlers continue between officials of the Greek government and representatives of the Entente Allies, the view point of each being maintained. There is nothing to indicate that a prompt solution of differences is about reached, but in official circles the hope is expressed that military questions will be adjusted by a Modus Vivendi. The King on Sunday received Premier Skoufzidis and then summoned the French minister, both conferences lasting a long time. A communication given out by the government to-night states that declarations contained in the press of Athens do not represent the views of the Government.

DOCTOR VESNITCH HOPEFUL. PARIS, Dec. 6. Better days for Serbia are coming, says Doctor Vesnitch, former Serbian Minister to Paris, recently appointed Serbian Minister of Finance, in an interview with the Temps to-day. "Our army, which has been retiring for two full months without respite, is reforming. This retirement was forced, because the Allies were not ready with sufficient troops in the Balkans. These troops are now landing. They will have the cooperation of a Serbian Army of two hundred thousand. I do not exaggerate when I say two hundred thousand. We shall again and again have victories such as those of last December."

A VIGOROUS PROTEST. WASHINGTON, Dec. 6. U. S. Ambassador Page at London to-day advised the State Department that he had filed a vigorous protest with the British Foreign Office against requisitioning vessels of the American Transatlantic without the formality of Prize Court procedure.

A GERMAN DENIAL. WASHINGTON, Dec. 6. The German Ambassador to-day made emphatic denial of reports that Germany or German officials agents had been concerned in recent attempts to set up counter revolution in Mexico.

ROMANIA TO CLOSE FOREIGN NAVIGATION. PARIS, Dec. 6. Four Austrian monitors are prepared to leave Ruscichuk in Bulgaria, on the Danube, to bombard Reni, the Danube port in Bessarabia, where the Russian army has assembled, says a Bucharest correspondent of the Temps. Information to this effect was received to-day. In consequence the Roumanian Government has decided to close all foreign navigation on that part of the Danube which flows through Roumanian territory.

RUSSIAN COLONEL SUICIDES. WILMINGTON, Del., Dec. 6. Colonel B. Paramerevsky, representative of the Russian Government in this country, looking after the perforformance of contracts for munitions, committed suicide here to-day. The cause of his act is not known. The following note, dated to-day, was found beside the dead man. "Do not accuse anybody of my death."

ATTACKED AND ESCAPED. LONDON, Dec. 6. The British steamer Japanese Prince, recently was attacked by a German submarine but succeeded in escaping from the German boat according to information received here to-day.

TROUBLE IN SHANGHAI. SHANGHAI, Dec. 6. A band of 20 or 40 rebels armed with rifles and bombs attacked the Charper sub-police station at four o'clock in the morning. The rebels threw four bombs, of which three exploded. One policeman was killed and three wounded. A body of regular troops were brought up quickly and the rebels disappeared.

During the forenoon further troubles developed in the vicinity of the French concession. At ten o'clock three hundred men, for the most part coolies, armed with bombs and musser rifles, attempted to seize the Chinese police station at the west gate of the French concession. Their attack was repulsed. They attempted to retreat into the French concession, resisting at the French police station to disarm them, and firing on the French, and throwing bombs on the French police station. The French replied by fire, upon which the rebels took refuge in houses in the Rue Edoenhardt. Fifteen arrests by Chinese and French police followed shortly after. Intermittent firing by the rebels was kept up. The International Volunteers have been called out and posted at strategic points with orders to search for weapons on all Chinese coming into the settlement. This afternoon the French police arrested twenty-five men at Sicawels, near the native city. The men were armed with bombs, rifles and bayonets.

APPEAL FOR EARLY PEACE. NEW YORK, Dec. 6. A News Agency despatch to-day, says: Pope Benedict's allocution to the Consistory of Cardinals to-day contained a stirring appeal for early peace. Great hope was entertained that the Pope's allocution would be a measure toward ending the war in the near future would result from this initiative by the Pontiff, but enthusiasm was tempered by the skepticism accredited to the German Cardinal Von Hartmann, Archbishop of Cologne. Hereafter he was supposed to be a bearer of a peace mission from the German Emperor. Cardinal Von Hartmann is now said to be far from optimistic, having conceded to a friend that peace will be impossible for another year at least. The Cologne Cardinal enjoys such close relationship to the German Emperor, that his utterance will have the color of authority.

BRITISH SUBMARINE'S WORK. LONDON, Dec. 6. (Official). A report has been received from a British submarine operating in the Sea of Marmora, describing her recent activities. On December 2nd she fired into and damaged a train on the Ismid railway. On Dec. 3rd she torpedoed and sank the Turkish destroyer Var Hissar, outside the Gulf of Ismid, she picked up two officers and forty men of the destroyer's crew and placed them on board a sailing vessel. On Dec. 4th she sank a supply steamer of 3,000 tons and over. At Panderma by gunfire she also destroyed four sailing vessels carrying supplies. The Turkish torpedo boat destroyer Var Hissar was built in 1907 at Ouesset. She was 184 feet long, 19.7 feet beam, and 9.5 feet draft. Her armament consisted of one 6-pounder, six 3-pounders, and two torpedo tubes. Her speed was 28 knots.

How to Prevent Acid Stomachs and Food Fermentation. By a Stomach Specialist. As a specialist who has spent many years in the study and treatment of stomach troubles, I have been forced to the conclusion that most people who complain of stomach trouble possess stomachs that are absolutely healthy and normal. The real trouble that which causes all the pain and difficulty is acid in the stomach, usually due to, or aggravated by, food fermentation. Acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach and food fermentation causes wind which distends the stomach abnormally, causing that full bloated feeling. Thus both acid and fermentation interfere with and retard the process of digestion. The stomach is usually healthy and normal, but irritated almost past endurance by these foreign elements—acid and wind. In all such cases—and they comprise over 90 per cent. of all stomach difficulties—the first and only step necessary is to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation by taking in a little warm or cold water immediately after eating, from one or two teaspoonfuls of bisulphated magnesia, which is doubtless the best and only really effective antacid and food corrective known. The acid will be neutralized and the fermentation stopped almost instantly, and your stomach will at once proceed to digest the food in a healthy, normal manner. Be sure to ask your druggist for the bisulphated magnesia, as I have found other forms utterly lacking in its peculiarly valuable properties.—F. J. G.

Goodyear in the Finals.

Grand Falls, December 3, 1915. Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—I am enclosing a clipping from an English paper that came by the last mail which might be of interest to the public. By letters received from Stan Goodyear a short while ago he mentioned on his letter that he was to see a boxing match an English chap had knocked out an Australian in the 15th round, and Stan with the usual Newfoundland grit challenged him and the result you will see for yourself, so if it is any use to you you may use it for your paper.

I remain, yours truly, C. H. HAYWARD.

"Heavy weight Driver Hannan beat Sergt. Goodyear. This was one of the best fights of the evening, both men going at it hammer and tongs, and at the same time, the proper amount of science to make the match interesting. Hannan nearly showed his superiority in fighting, and Sergt. Goodyear did his best to keep at a distance and change the style of the fighting. Hannan was into him all the time and scored point after point. In the second and third rounds there was little to choose between the two opponents, but what made the fight particularly interesting was the interference in the methods of the two fighters. An extra round was ordered, in which Hannan proved that his methods, as in this case at least, were superior, and the belt, kindly presented by Messrs. Davies Bryan, was handed to him. Both men, in spite of the hotness of the pace, were quite fresh at the finish."

From Private T. B. Evans.

Private Thomas B. Evans, of the Newfoundland Regiment, writing to his parents from Newton on Ayr, under date Nov. 4th, says that he was leaving for his home and ready to enter the trenches on arrival. His letter throughout is quite cheery. He tells his parents that he is determined to do his duty as a soldier. Referring to equipment, Private Evans says that they have all been supplied with warm uniforms, clothing, and each man was given two pairs of boots. The young soldier concludes by telling his parents not to worry about him but instead to feel proud that he was going forward to fight for King and Country.

From Lance-Corpl A. French.

France, Nov. 8, 1915. Dear Father,—It seems to me a long while since I wrote you personally, but nevertheless it's not that I don't think of you, for you are scarcely ever out of my thoughts. You never fail to write me often and this I don't forget, though it's utterly impossible for me to write you as often as I would wish. Place, conditions and facilities for writing are the chief reasons for this, but never forget that I think of you all none the less. I am writing this in my dug-out, just a small place only enough for two of us to crawl in out of the weather, and often we are in the open; but we must only make the best of it all and let us hope there are better days to come. As I am writing our big guns are thundering over my head. It shakes the ground where I am lying. Father, war is hell, and it takes one who has gone through it to know. Now about my trip to London: Well, I must say that I spent the most enjoyable time in my life there. I left the firing line on the 3 p.m. train Oct. 23rd (Sunday), arrived at Boulogne, France, on Sunday night at 10 o'clock, crossed by boat to Folkestone, England, at 10 o'clock, took the train from there and arrived in London 3 o'clock Monday morning, called to Woodley about 3 a.m. same day. I left for the firing line again at 5:40 Sunday evening, Oct. 10th, having spent a most enjoyable time in the city of London. The troop trains were given a great send-off. My friends in London wrote and told me it was a sight they won't soon forget. The soldiers and civilians gave a tremendous cheer as we moved out. You could scarcely move through the crowds at the station. I know a little of London now, that being my third trip since leaving the land of the maple leaf. Tell mother I received the box O.K. containing the socks on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 6th, and I have them on now, they are fine and warm. She can send as many pairs of them as she wishes, they are just like kind ones need out here. I am sorry to hear of the death of poor Rupert Watts. Your letter was the first intimation I had of his death. He used to treat me good whenever I could go to see him, which was often. Don't fail to write soon. Please thank Mr. F. Sullivan and Master Hal Oke for their presents and thoughtful remembrance of me on the battle field of France. For now, good-bye, with love to all till we meet again. From SANDY.

LIGHT, HEAT, COMFORT!

The proprietor of one of the best known multiple shopping systems is credited with saying, "Give me any old shop, in any old street, and I'll guarantee to make it in twelve months the most widely known and best frequented shop in the district." He was asked to explain. Holding up three fingers he said, "I believe in the trinity of LIGHT, WARMTH, COMFORT. I should dazzle the moths until the candle drew them, I should bring them into a warm, comfortable shop, fitted with a soft, pleasing radiance, and the rest is—well, mere child's play." Mixed metaphors, perhaps, but expressive. Now we can more than imagine the kind of shop this well-known individual would open, for we pass it in almost every town—always a landmark to the street. No one fails to notice it. There is an indefinable air of welcome and invitation as one stands for a moment on the pathway and lets one's gaze travel inside it. The subdued, restful lighting effect that so charms because of its very unobtrusiveness, the absence of dark corners, the intangible feeling that if one would step inside one would be sure of experiencing a delicious sense of warmth and comfort and cheerfulness—all these are part of its appeal. Truly a shop with an individuality.

We cordially invite all progressive business men to visit our showroom and see our latest Lighting and Heating Appliances, by the adoption of which the ideal outline in the above extract from a London paper may be easily secured. Our new RADIO X. Lamp and GASTEAM Radiators fill all light and heat requirements.
