Party Before Country,

Motto of the Present Administration --- People's Prerogative perpetrated.

It is stated that if it was the length of his term to be POLITICS he begged them remember that their comes BEFORE party.

These examples can be given at length if desired.

Our national partisans have, above all other administrations, stultified the public life of our country. Their whole period of power has been an usurpation of the people's rights, and an unpatriotic "hold on" in which their mercenary and monetary accomplishments have stamped themselves indelibly upon the minds of the voters, and vetoed forever their chances of again returning to power.

Once upon a time there was a paper published in St. John's which gave all the expenses of the Government, investive included, free gratis. Since the war, the increases of expenses and wastage of public monies have enlarged to such magnitude that the figures would astonish the "readers," and so out of consideration for the simple peruser, they are discontinued.

Quite incidentally the discontinuance raises the suspicion that the figures may be suppressed for ulterior motives, but of course such a thing is impossible, on the part of the public spirited and self-denying patriots (?) of Newfoundland, who now sit in the high places.

The motto "Country before Party" has been ignored, and is utterly at variance with the policy pursued by the nationalists (?) here.

Party, Party, Party is their motto, and it is useless to expect otherwise.
Their policy may be described as the "corrupt manifestation and seizure of the country's revenues." It is apparently time wasted to ask for reform for "as the twig is bent so is the tree inclined," and thus with partisans. Country is forgotten in the pursuit of self, and progress and advancement are retarded.

"Country before Party" What a hideous travesty on politics in Newfoundland. It would tax the brain of any man in our midst to select a statesman out of the present agglomeration of party politicians.

The duty of the electorate is plain, the quicker they agitate for an election, the quicker we get it, and the quicker do we oust the nationalists (?) from power, and free our country of the incubus bearing it down.

To-day we are doing comparatively nothing, and it is up to the country to throw off the yoke of partisanship, and once again inaugurate a regime of pure politics, free from the corruption, mismanagement and misappropriation of the present discredited Government.

TRUTH.

The service of these Evangelists has inspired a higher ideal into our religious life and it has shown us how much can be accomplished by consecrated talent. In Mr. Demarest we have had an artist of culture, and both his singing and his accompaniment have been very edifying. Modestly and unostentatiously he did his part; and if the harmony of his music may be taken as an index to the harmony of his domestic affairs, he has then we congratulate him upon his marriage to Evangelist Victoria Booth Clibborn. Mr. Demarest is a musician in soul, and lends such a touch to his playing as only true musicians can lend. He is not a preacher, and to his credit be it said, that he knows it, and therefore he does not try it. His forte lies in his musical talent, and he has consecrated it to the highest good, and in his work he will accomplish a world of good.

Of Mrs. Demarest's ability as a speaker we have before written, and the thousands who have listened to her words will agree that we have not over-rated her talent, nor over-estimated her devotion. By her labours in our midst she has edified many people, and her ideals of life have dignified her sex. It would not be possible to sit under her preaching and not feel the better and be the better of it.
We are all the better of what she said. Our children are the better of it, and our pulpits are the better of it; but we take a wider range, and describe a larger radius and say, that the city is the better of it, and in consideration of the tens and tens of thousands, who have read our reports, we claim that the country at large is the better of it. This may seem a big claim, but it is not too big—nor is it at all impossible.

Woodland Farm,
Wednesday Morning

Dear Jane,
At last I've found a moment to answer your very welcome letter.

That's as far as I got, when I heard a terrible noise in the kitchen, and rushing in, found that Bobby had pulled a pan of boiling water off the stove and scalded himself badly. Just imagine!—and I ten miles from the nearest doctor and no one here to help!
Thank goodness Tom has always insisted upon keeping Zam-Buk in the house. The poor little chap was in such awful pain it was all I could do to hold him while I plastered the Zam-Buk on his arm and leg. Then I bound them up with strips torn from an old sheet, and now he's actually asleep!
Could you believe it? I always knew Zam-Buk was good stuff, but I'd no idea it was so wonderful for ending pain. Whatever should I have done without it!

This started out to be a letter, but it sounds more like a testimonial for Zam-Buk! I'll send it off anyway, because I want to ask if you'll please send me half a dozen boxes of Zam-Buk as soon as you get this, as I have only enough for one more dressing.

Yours in haste,
Mary

Mother! Take the hint! Never be without a box of Zam-Buk on the shelf. Not only for scalds, burns and cuts, but for eczema, ringworm, ulcers, blood-poisoning, piles, cold sores, etc. it is without equal. And it costs no more than ordinary ointments. See box for all details.
