135½ Miles an Hour on Motor Cycle

Remarkable motor records were established by the American Anderson over a mile course measured on the Arpaion road, a few miles south of Paris, during a meeting organized by the Motor Cycle Club de France to-day.

In the class for engines not exceeding 1,000 c.c., Anderson, piloting an Indian motor cycle, accomplished the flying mile in a fraction over 26 sec., or a mean speed of about 135½ miles an hour. His next record was made in the flying kilometre for cycles of the same class, his time being just over 16 sec., or an average of 132 miles an hour.

In addition to these records the American went one better than any previous motorist for any class. Timed between two official control posts during one of his attempts, it was recorded that he was travelling at one time at the rate of 150 miles an hour. No fewer than 49 other machines in the meeting established new figures for the mile and the kilometre in their respective classes.

Mannequins paraded in the Cunard liner Franconia at Liverpool before 500 visitors in connection with the civic week celebrations.

Afternoon tea parties were displayed in the garden lounges, dinner and evening gowns in the dining saloon, night club gowns in the smoke-room, and fur coats and hats on the promenade deck. The mannequins donned Continental bathing costumes in the ship's swimming bath.

Real British Grit

CYCLING 34 MILES DAILY TO WORK AT THE AGE OF 60.

To keep off the dole Leonard Dockray, aged 60, of Barby, E. Yorkshire, cycles to work at Water Fryton, 17 miles away, where he is employed as colliery blacksmith. He has done the double journey of 34 miles, daily for four years.

In the morning he sets out at 3.30 a.m. to start work at 6 o'clock. He does 3½ hours' work at the forge, but often does a double shift, working both on top and in the pit. If he does not work overtime he gets home about 5.30 p.m.

Before being engaged at Water Fryton he worked at York, about 11 miles from his home, cycling there and back every day. Discharged after two years on account of trade slackness, he went to the Selby Labour Exchange, and heard that a blacksmith was wanted at Water Fryton. He went for the job and was given it.

During his four years' service there he has cycled nearly 50,000 miles. Including the miles cycled during the two years he was employed at York, his total is more than 57,285 miles. He has ridden in hail, rain, sunshine, and snow five to six inches deep. If he loses time travelling to work he makes it up.

In his spare time he has, with the aid of his son, built a bungalow for his family to live in at Barby, on land which he bought.

Arrest in Warship

STRANGER WHO SNUGGLED HIMSELF ON BOARD.

Excitement has been aroused by the news that a search has been made in the Italian battleship Giulio Cesare for a mysterious stranger who, it is stated, gained admission to the ship and remained in hiding there for some time. The authorities maintain a strict reserve on the subject, but it is understood that a civilian mingled with several officers who were returning aboard late at night and entered their launch unobserved.

On reaching the warship he rapidly ascended the companion way and disappeared within the vessel. One of the watch noticed him, however, and after a long search he was found hiding in the coal bunkers and was handed over to the police who had been called in. He was unable to furnish a plausible explanation of his presence in the ship.

Bronchitis More Than a Cold

Often develops rapidly into pneumonia—relief is found in Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

Any cold is serious enough when its dreadful possibilities are considered, but when there is soreness or tightness in the chest and a dry hard cough you can look for bronchitis, which is often confused with an ordinary cold. It is usually known by aching limbs and body pains, chilly feelings, weariness and weakness, pain in the chest and a tight, tearing cough. Fever, dry skin, thirst, coated tongue and constipation are other symptoms.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine seems almost like a specific for bronchitis because it is so successful in loosening up the cough, aiding expectoration and preventing the inflammation from reaching the lungs.

"SKIPPERS" Again

Owing to a shortage in supply, it has not been possible to obtain shipments of this famous delicacy for some time. The difficulty has now been removed and "Skippers" can be obtained to-day in all large stores in St. John's.

The new catch of "Skippers" just received is perfect in quality. The little fish are fat and in superb condition, and are as excellent in flavour as in appearance.

"Skippers" are warranted to contain only the finest selected Norwegian Brisling, scientifically cured and packed in First Grade Olive Oil.

Don't say "Sardines" -- say "SKIPPERS."

The court was informed that the plumage, the import of which is prohibited, was found concealed in the false bottom of a wooden case which arrived at Tilbury from Calcutta.

Manasseh declared that he was the innocent receiver of the case and had no idea that it contained anything but a screen and some china.

The magistrate (Mr. Wilberforce) imposed a fine of £50, and, address-Collector's Quarterly" (J. M. Dent and Sons) appears a novel feature, which will interest a large public, in white "tights."
