Chairman Jones, Commissoner Davis, Secretary Ellwood, Engineer Moore and Inspectors Platt and Plastow attended Tuesday's meeting of the water commisers. J. Boyd complained that he was charged $5 too much water rates. He stated that it was an old claim made before the death of his father. He thought it was due since 1886, but the secretary stated that it was for lawn service during 1888. Mr. Boyd piedged his word that he used no city water during that year, and the account was struck off the books.

A communication was read from the city solicitor regarding the account for water against the Imperial Oil Company amounting to $89. He was of the opinion that the expense of a suit would be considerable and the commissioners decided to strike the account off the books.

Such complexions as so many of our young ladies possess—dull, pimply and covered with sores and blackheads—is enough to cool the ardor of the warmest lover. To such young ladies we would say, that you can never have a soft, fair, smooth, attractive, kissable complexion unless your blood is healthy and pure, for the condition of the blood decides the complexion.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will purify the blood, tone up your system and drive away those distressing headaches and backaches from which you suffer periodically, and give you a complexion a hily or rose-leaf might envy.

SIX CASES NEW FALL GOODS.

HARRY LENOX

FORCED INTO MATRIMONY.

Som, of Chicago.

Sioux Falls, S.D., Dec. 23.—Mrs. Florence Cuthbertson, a former society belle of Chicago, was granted a divorce here on Monday. Her case is remarkable. She was young, beautiful, wealthy and the wife of William Douglass, a member of the Chicago Board of Trade. About a year ago Douglass, in looking through his wife's desk, found, he pretended, some very ardent letters from a young real estate agent. Sidney Cuthbertson. He hired a lawyer, and the two conferred with his wife and attempted to browbeat her into a confession. They looked her in a room and labored for several hours without success.

A few days later Mrs. Douglass received notice to attend Judge Horton's court and sign a deed. She went and found in full progress a suit by her husband for divorce. This was her first intimation of his intention, and having no time to employ counsel she went on the stand and denied the charge of infidelity.

Cuthbertson afterward appeared and swore that the weman had committed adultery with him. Thereupon Judge Horton granted the decree and ordered Mrs. Douglass and Cutibertson to be married forthwith or go to the penitentiary for five years.

ried forthwith or go to the penitentiary for five years.

Mrs. Douglass wept and pleaded for freedom, declaring that she disliked Cuthbertson, had never been even a friend of his, and would not under any circumstances live with him. However, the court, Douglass, Attorney Adams, and Cuthbertson united their persecutions and threats, and Mrs. Douglass at last consented, and at 3 o'clock in the morning she married her alleged betrayer.

She went to live in his house, and for four months remained under his roof, but she never lived with him as his wife. She finally fled to Sioux Falls and began her suit for divorce. In spite of Douglas's promises she has never seen her child, and all her attempts to obtain it have proved fruitless. This testimony was told in the court and was uncontradicted. Cuthbertson made no attempt to fight the case. The decree was granted to once.

Brilliant Affair Worthy of a Flourishing Establishment.

Excellence—The Banquet of '91

an Unprecedented Success.

Once again Tuesday night a brilliant company sat around the tables of the Tecumesh House dining-hall to enjoy the annual dinner of the medical department of the Western University and be enlightened and edified by the after feast of reason. It is difficult to say which was the better in their respective characters — the magnificent spread for the physical man or the exceptionally fine nature of the speeches for mental digestion. The guest's included nearly all the medical men of the city and vicinity, a large representation of prominent members of other professions, and last, but by no means least, the students themselves. They were the life of the evening—and morning—and kept everybody else lively with their good-humored, infectious hilarity. They sang with a vigor that shook the roof and applauded sentiments that suited their tastes with an energetic enthusiasm characteristic only of themselves. The renditions of musical numbers between the addresses made very pleasant variation.

The oratorical part of the programme was opened about 10:30 p.m. by the chairman, Mr. T. A. M. Hughes (fourth year.)

Letters of regret at inability to be present we read by Secretary Dr. F. W. Hughes from Charles S. Hymas, M.P., W. R. Meredith, M.P.P., Hon. G. W. Ross, Premier Abbott, Mr. Tait, M.P.P. (Toronto), Rev. Principal Miller, and Professor Williams of Huron College, Fasher Kemedy, Dr. Burt (Paris), Rev. W. T. Hill, A. Hertzoofg (Toronto), Col. Lewis, Dr. Fulton (St. Thomas), T. M. Jubb (Toronto), Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons (Kingston), Dr. Sharp (Tilbury), Dr. Robson (Vanneck), Dr. Proudfoot (Amherstburg) R. C. Strunhers, Dr. Beemer, Dr. C. O. Reilly (Toronto), Hernald (Sarnia), Dr. Holmes Chatham), Rev. J. A. Murfay, Thomas Alexander, W. F. McGuigan (Vancouver, B.C.), Alex. Johnston (Strathroy), T. H. Carling, Dr. Penwarden (St. Thomas), Dr. McClay (Watford), Dr. Glosson (Watford), and Dr. J. B. Martin (Alvinston.)

McClay (Watford), Dr. Gibson (Watford), and Dr. J. B. Martin (Alvinston.)

The chairman in rising to open the toast list was received with applause. He expressed pleasure at the attendance and referred fittingly to the loss the medical department has sustained sines the last dinner, namely, Dr. J. M. Fraser and Professor Bowman—the former by death and the latter by resignation. He also alluded to the action of the Ontario Medical Council in adding a year to the course without the addition of extra subjects and in changing the examination time from spring to fall as undesirable movements. He proposed the first toast,

"THE QUEEN,"
which was honored with the National Authem.

which was honored with the National Anthem.

"THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES" was pronounced "a jolly good fellow" by united acclaim.

Dr. Leonard, U. S. consul, replied with his usual felicity. If President Harrison were nominated again he would be recelected. "One reason why I wish to see him re-elected" admitted the doctor, "is that I want to stay in Canada four years more." (Laughter.) The medical was the noblest of all professions—away ahead of the legal. The dector concluded a brief spicy speech by giving the medical gentlemen some good advice, and wishing long life and prosperity to all.

The students sang the chorus, "Lictoria," with a vim, Bert Leys taking the solopart.

Touching the toast, he said that however parties differed upon the fiscal policy of the country they were agreed that Canada had the finest system of government in the world. There was no reason, he said, why London should not be a great educational center like Toronto. He referred to the proposed establishment of an arts course in connection with the university. 'I hope that move will be successful,' said the speaker, and the sentiment was loudly applauded.

Dr. McKay was in a merry vein and cracked a few jokes as a happy beginning. He alluded to the matter the chairman had spoken of and thought the measure found favor with the medical men of the Province. With regard to the Provincial Legislature he said it needed no defense at his hands. They had heard little of any misconduct in that Government. The people of Canada were too intelligent to allow any wrong-doing whether at Quebec or Ottawa. (Applause.)

Mr. Landerkin was greeted with the re-

doing whether at Queoec or Ottawa. (Applause.)

Mr. Landerkin was greeted with the refrain "He's a Daisy." As a railway man he could say that the medical and railway business were closely allied. Indeed it had been said that some of the great trunk lines were run in the interests of the medical profession. (Laughter.)

The Messrs. Wood brothers, Noble, Parker and Sutherland followed with a capital selection on a variety of string instruments.

Captain Robson, of Hderton, gave a patriotic song in good voice.
Vice-Chairman W. G. McDonald took charge of the list, and very neatly presented the claims of the Western University in this populous district and the desirability of its extension. He proposed and as became this important toast it was honored with special distinction.
"THE WESTERN UNIVERSITY,"

Dr. Moorhouse was received with applause. The medical faculty was the only living representative of the university; but for it the charter would have lapsed. As a member of the faculty he was pleased to say their students always had a high standing. (Applause.) The arts department had languished away and an effort was now before the public to once again start it into operation. If it were established it would prove a real alma mater to the students. The project was mooted to raise $5,000 a year for this, but he would prefer soliciting an endowment which would put it on a sound basis. He did not believe London would ever be a great manufacturing city because of geographical disadvantages; but there was no reason why it should not become an educational center, and become to Canada what Oxford or Cambridge are to England. (Applause.) CHRISTMAS COODS!

(Applause.)
Pete Wood and Bert Leys rendered a parody which "hit off" some of the members of the faculty is a way that tickled the risibilities of the students. They were encored enthusiastically.

The vice-chairman, in proposing the teast of

The vice-chairman, in proposing the toast of

"OUR FACULTY,"
paid a fitting tribute to the members of that body. They were the possessors of six medals, five of which were gold.

Dr. Fenwick, the dean of the faculty, was heartily received. He was a student at McGill College, Montreal, in 1839, when there were but sixteen or eighteen students. The Western University had a small beginning, but was growing, and there was no reason why it should not attain a position equal to that of McGill. (Applause.)

Dr. Jones remembered that ten years ago he had but one student at his table but now the room was full and of the graduates they could feel proud. The present number of students was 60, and they brought into the city $20,000 or $30,000 per annum. In a few years the attendance would be 100.

"Vive La Campagnie" was accorded a spirited yearl rendition by the students.

Mr. John Cameron in proposing the toast of the

of the

"GRADUATES AND UNDERGRADUATES" paid a tribute to the great value of medical mea in general secrety, apart from their professional aspect. He desired to emphasize Dr. Meorhouse's remarks with regard to Loaden, becoming a seat of learning. Nothing advertised a city so well and se favorably as its educational promisence. The city would pay $100,000 for the location of the G. T. R. carshops here and it would be worthlits while to pay as large a bonus for the advantages of an arts course in the university and a normal school. (Applause.) If, that art course were established it would be strictly nondenominational.

Dr. Ferguson spoke eloquently in response to the same toast. The growth and prosperity of the college depended to some extent upon the general reputation and allegiance of her graduates. It became them to give aid to every movement tending to enlarge the usefulness of the university, and to look for the success of the present effort in favor of university extension. (Applause.)

Mr. J. McGinnis made a rattling speech, in the course of which he feelingly referred to the death of the late Dr. Murray, a graduate of the nniversity.

"Old Black Joe" was sung by Fred.
Wood, with instrumental accompaniments
and general chorus.

Mr. Thomas Flaherty, as a freshman.

Wood, with instrumental accompaniments and general chorus.

Mr. Thomas Flaherty, as a freshman, also responded to the toast. He felt the honor of speaking before the distinguished gathering of medical men, but remembered that the latter were once just as fresh as themselves. (Laughter.)

"Oh, What a Difference in the Morning" displayed Mr. W. Skinner's excellent bass voice to advantage. This popular selection was twice encored.

Second Vice-Chairman George Peart proposed

"SISTER INSTITUTIONS,"

the toast bringing responses from Messrs.
Bryan and Montgomery, representing Trinity Medical College and Toronto University respectively. Mr. Bryan considered that the students should band together

Council. They should work for an examination twice a year, or every three months if possible.

"COLLEGE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS."
Dr. Cl. T. Campbell replied ably to this toast. As a member of the medical council he was disposed to be lenient to the students, but he had colleagues less tenderhearted. Some thought the addition of a year was a hardship, but the increased clinical knowledge would be of the greatest advantage.

Mr. C. W. Davis sang "In Old Madrid" with admirable effect.

tion" was very creditably handled by Water Commissioner George C. Davis, who was in his usual capital oratorical trim. He hoped the visitors of Toronte would take example of their London brethren. (Laughter.) If they did the money disbursed in entertaining them would be well spent. He felt assured in time the Western University would be second to none in the world.

Another topical song, having the professors for its theme, was sung by Pete Wood, with chorus by students.

E. Meredith and Dr. Fleming, of Chatham, replied on behalf of "THE LEARNED PROFESSIONS."

Mr. Meredith mentioned the increase of doctors and lawyers in the country, while they were told the population was decreasing. It was an alarming question that must be answered. These professional gentlemen would have to live on each other by and bye.

"The Ladies" and "The Press" received the increase of the honors, and in the small hours the singing of "God Save the Queen" and "Auld Lang Syne" brought the enjoyable affair to a close.

The committee of management was as follows: Dr. Waugh (chairman), Dr. W. J. Mitchell (treasurer), Dr. F. W. Hughes (secretary), R. W. Shaw, R. M. Gubbins, P. Wood, J. McLeay, Horace Ferguson.
