

Of Interest To Women

HAVE YOU SEEN THIS YOUNG WOMAN'S FACE ANYWHERE?
From a Photograph of Dorothy Arnold. Whose Father Offers a Fortune for Her Return.

New York, Feb. 7.—This is the photograph of Dorothy Arnold. The police of all American cities and of most of the large cities in Europe are looking for her.
Since Dec. 12 Miss Arnold has not been seen by anyone who knew her.

All Around the Table

CYNTHIA GREY.

Rubbing the sides of the feet with a bit of lemon will freshen and ease them when they are overly tired.

Gold brand which has become soiled may be brightened considerably if powdered alum, mixed with one-third as much talcum, is applied to it.

Those who live in smoky districts should keep their dresses in large made-up drawers, and even to the drawers, the full width of the material should be folded over the top. Slip gown on a hanger, put in the bag, draw the tape and hang up.

Sweet red peppers are an improvement in the most select, pie or ragout, to make the dish, and even to the ragout, we must use this time of year. The peppers should be divided of course, and the seeds should be removed. They do not need long cooking. Some who use them in salads should wash them and parboil them in salted water for three or four minutes to make them a little more tender than if they are used uncooked. With cabbage salad they are delicious, chopped without cooking. Stuffed with sea-bass, they are also delicious.

In making desserts, allow one cupful of sugar and one tablespoonful of flavoring extract for a quart of any mixture to be frozen. One teaspoonful of extract will flavor a quart of custard or pudding.

To keep lettuce crisp, place the roots in cold water, but do not allow the leaves to rest in it. When ready to serve, wash it in cold water and drop it into another pan of ice water. Shake the water from the leaves before serving.

When putting away old magazines clip out the pages which contain the table of contents and write the name of the magazine in the table of contents. Then place the magazine in the table of contents. Then place the magazine in the table of contents.

Stains on white muslin can be removed by the application of turpentine. If no time is lost in treating the stained article, the stain will be removed. This spirit has its advantages in that it does not spoil the delicate fabric. Many housewives believe in the efficacy of turpentine in whitening clothes, and a tablespoonful should be added to the water in which the garments are bleached in it.

An excellent way of washing a sweater is to immerse it in an old pillow case, and immerse it in warm soapsuds and squeeze between the hands until dirt is eliminated. Then rinse in several clean warm waters until no trace of suds remains. Then hang on a line in a windy place. Don't put a sweater from a pillow case until perfectly dry.

DOMESTIC HINTS

Don't feed the children highly seasoned food. Don't allow them to use pepper freely.

An old-fashioned Shetland shawl should be washed in bran and warm water, no soap.

Glue a tape measure firmly across the front edge of your sewing machine. It saves much time when sewing.

A tiny bit of butter is often an improvement to cake frostings, especially coffee, chocolate, maple or cream.

In the south they often add a teaspoon of Orleans molasses to the frying bacon. It makes the meat more delicate.

Brown boots may be blackened by rubbing the blacking well into the shoes with a raw potato and then polishing.

Add a handful of chopped parsley or onion to the veal when cooking. It improves it as much as mint adds to the lamb.

Slices of orange may be served with afternoon tea instead of lemon. It improves it as much as mint adds to the lamb.

Sewing machine needles may be used much longer if when the needle begins to get dull they are rubbed on a piece of emeryboard.

Mr. Higgins loathed needles. He loathed for the dark red dignity of polished iron, and while he held a needle in his hand, he felt as if he were holding a live snake.

SOCIETY IN ENGLAND

AN APPALLING LUXURY

Fabulous Sums Needed to Keep Women of Smart Set "in the Swim."

London, Feb. 6.—Mrs. Asquith's notable epigram uttered when giving testimony at the West End case had made her prime as famous as her husband, the Prime Minister, who, in his reply to a question in the House of Commons, uttered the not yet forgotten, "Wait and see."

"Extravagance," she said, "is usually a passport to society." Now a writer in the Tatler takes up the matter and tells what the life of the modern society woman means, and how costly is her life if she means to keep "in the swim."

"The demands of the smart set," says the writer, "need a purse of Croesus, the power of a quick-change artist, and the fagging abilities of a chandler of the exchequer. For a society woman's life is vivid and various; there are 48 hours in a week and she goes through a new face treatment. The London season is a costly campaign, and to carry it on a woman in the swim must have at least six sumptuous evening gowns, with a couple of little frocks to act as accessories, and, of course, the usual lot of smart party gowns, with a correct get-up for bridge, days on the river, short journeys and motorine. And all this without mention of the court gown and train which every year or two are demanded by her position."

"Then with August comes yachting trips and, followed by the Home Guard or Marlborough, September brings Scotland, with the fashionable races and the fashionable shooting. Then come meetings later on. Next runs over the country house parties and shoots. Then London again, with its Christmas, followed by visits to the Riviera or to Egypt."

"As for the price paid for pet dogs—really a well must be drawn over these proceedings. Prices of five hundred pounds is often given and some weird specimens are priced at £1,000."

DUCHESS' SOCIAL PLANS IN OTTAWA

Society Pleasantly Anticipating the Presence of Duke and Duchess of Connaught.

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—That the Duchess of Connaught may not spend all her time in Canada while her husband is serving as Governor-General is indicated by this dispatch from London. The Canadian Associated Press learns that the Canadian residence of the Duchess of Connaught will not be a permanent one. Her husband's movements will be governed by personal considerations and will not be controlled by her father-in-law. The Duchess of Connaught will be in Ottawa for a short time, but will be in London for a longer time.
