VISITORS AND THE KIDDIES HAD A GRAND FIELD DAY

Thursday's Attendance at the Fair Was But Slightly Less Than Wednesday's Record-Breaking Turnout—The Youngsters Went "Broke," But Had Time of Their Lives.

The Western Fair 1913 is a success. The large attendance of Wednesday assured it. Thursday's attendance put it beyond question. Perfect weather prevailed for the whole four days so far, and there has been nothing whatever to militate against a record-breaking attendance for the week. Up to a late hour Thursday night it was difficult to get any official estimate of the crowd that passed the turnstiles during the day. To the observer, however, the throng seemed slightly less in number than on Wednesday. This was particularly noticed in the crowd on the stand in the evening. Threatened showers possibly kept many off the open stands, which were not nearly as full as on the previous evening. Little difference was to be noticed on the grounds, however, the buildings all being crowded with sightseers all day long.

Kiddies' Field Day.

School children had a field day at the fair. From early morning until late at night groups of happy boys and girls wandered from place to place taking in the sights. Studies were laid aside until next Monday, and coppers and nickels carefully saved for weeks past jingled merrily in the pockets of the boys and hand-satchels of the little misses until the persuasive injunctions of the ice cream and popcorn man lured them from their hiding places. It is doubtful if, in all its history, Wall street ever "broke" so many in one day as went home in that condition from the fair in the evening. But the funny part of it was that the youngsters were quite content to be so. They got their money's worth according to their standard of judgment, and they had no kick coming, except that some of the boys in the excitement forgot to reserve cash for the home trip, and had to make it on foot.

They Saw the Fair.

And they saw the fair. There is no disputing that. If there was anything they missed it must indeed have been obscure. They were simply everywhere, and everywhere they were made welcome.

Though a few of the youngsters remained for the evening, the majority left for home at supper-time, giving place to their elders for the evening. There were several reasons for this, no doubt, such as strict injunctions to that effect from anxious parents, and in some cases a lamentable decrease in the visible food supply.

Brantford's Delegation.

Nightfall witnessed large crowds eastward-bound from the downtown section and again the street railway succeeded in handling their passengers in a satisfactory manner. They have been particularly fortunate all week in that no serious breakdowns have occurred, and the cars have been kept moving all the time. Thursday evening was by far the warmest of the week, and wraps that proved most acceptable on the other nights were found to be superfluous. There was a feeling of rain in the air, but it held off with only a slight sprinkle until the crowds had left the grounds for the night. Both afternoon and evening performances went off smoothly, and the crowds on the stands, though not quite so large as on Wednesday, were nevertheless big ones. The Brantford contingent helped to swell the throng considerably, and the music furnished by the band of the Thirty-eighth Dufferin Rifles, which accompanied them, was one of the features of the day. The parade of prize-winning live stock, which created such enthusiasm on Wednesday, was repeated at the afternoon performance, and the visitors were given an opportunity to see what this section of the country can do in the way of raising horses and cattle. The showing was one to be proud of. All exhibits of every kind were still in place Thursday, and all bore tickets showing how they ranked in the eyes of the judges. Those who saw the Fair Thursday saw it at its best. Taken all in all, Visitors' Day equalled if not surpassed all previous records, and the directors are more than pleased at the result.

Before the Grandstand.

Comfortably filled grandstands greeted Thursday night's grandstand performance. The Arab troupe of performers seemed to do even better work than on previous nights. Their remarkable tumbling, somersaulting and other acrobatic feats, kept the audience on the qui vive throughout their number. Applause and appreciation greeted this troupe from all sides.

The Cora Youngblood, trombonist and cornetist were well received. As on the two previous nights, the Seventh Field Company of Canadian Engineers gave a very creditable exhibition of bridge building. The fireworks also pleased the spectators.

Big Contract for British Company

Washington, Sept. 12.—An English builder today was awarded the contract for turbine drums for the new American battleship, No. 39, at a little more than one-third the price offered by the lowest American bidder. The accepted bid, $57,456, was submitted by the Cyclops Steel and Iron Works, Sheffield, England.

It is exceptional for the navy department to award a contract abroad, but Acting Secretary Roosevelt held that the action today was justified. By giving the work to the foreign builder, the United States saves more than $100,000.

SOLD HER BODY

Niagara Falls Woman Who Suicided Made Strange Request.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Niagara Falls, N. Y., Sept. 11.—"I want my body sold to a medical college, the money received to go to pay my doctor's bill. If there is any left it shall be given to my mother." This is the closing paragraph of a letter left by Mrs. Amelia Swain Winkler, who was found dead in bed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Diehl, No. 2222 Main street, this morning. Mrs. Winkler had swallowed about an ounce of carbolic acid, and half an ounce of chloroform. She was 22 years old and had become estranged from her husband and family. She had lived in Niagara Falls, Ont., for some time, returning to this city on Monday. In the letter in which she makes the strange command she stated that she intended to commit suicide, but does not make known her reason. She bequeaths several trinkets and other provides for the disposition of her body.

Friday the Best Day of the Week

These styles may be had at $12.00 to $25.00.

For sightseeing at the fair or shopping at this store, the closing day affords the greatest opportunities to all, and your shopping and visiting will be accomplished with greater comfort than on any previous day during the fair. While many who remain all week in the city leave their shopping until Friday, making this a busy day, yet, the aisles are not so crowded with sightseers and your purchasing may be done quicker and more satisfactorily. Shop early today and Saturday.

Three Smart Models From Ladies' Coat Department

When a woman bundles herself in one of these new Coats, she will sink into a real nest of rich, soft fabric. The materials this season are luxurious, fur cloth and boucle, wool faille and wool threads are used, combined with big collars and wide cuffs. Odd new shapes. Some sleeves in one with the garment, new drapings, new colors. Some are imported, others American adaptations of Paris models. All are made to wrap well over, fastening with two or three large buttons. The large roll collars may be worn open or turned up comfortably around the neck. The raglan sleeve, cut in one piece from shoulder, or with yoke, is popular, and most materials are in rough effect, two-tone matelasses, curls and fabrics. Furs are much in evidence for trimmings, and draped effects are shown in both cloth and velvet mantles. The season's best assortment now on display. Prices... $10 to $50 Second Floor.

FOR DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR OR ITCHY SCALP--25-CENT DANDERINE

Girls! Girls! Save Your Hair! Make It Grow Luxuriant and Beautiful.

If you care for heavy hair, that glitters with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life.

If it not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. It eventually—why not now?
