Rev. F. S. O.'Kell Invited To Fill Vacancy at Chalmers Presbyterian.

Chalmers Presbyterian church extended a unanimous call last night to Rev. F. S. O'Kell, Leamington, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Rev. John Richardson, B.A. on account of the vote of the congregation not to enter the United church of Canada.

Mr. O'Kell is a former Methodist minister, his most recent charge being of the Mersea circuit with residence in Learnington, Mr. O'Keil's resignation from the Methodist ministry was accepted at the recent meeting of the London Methodis conference in Centennial church here. He has held Methodist pas-torates at other points in Ontario, as well as in Manitoba and British Columbia.

There is little doubt but that Mr O'Kell will accept the call and take charge of Chalmers congregation

WINSLOW ASKS RELEASE UNDER HABEAS CORPUS: JUDGE TO DECIDE TODAY

Londoner Held On Murder Charge in Detroit Insists He Is Innocent in Face of Insistent Questioning by Police—Court Proceeding Delayed Until This Afternoon.

HELD FOR DEATH OF JOSEPH MAURICE

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Correspondent.

Detroit, June 2.-Judge Thomas Cotter will this afternoon decide whether Alfred Hugh Winslow, 30, of 133 William street, London, Ont. will face a murder trial or will be released under habeas corpus proceedings.

The Londoner was arrested as a suspect in connection with the slaying from ambush of Joseph Marucci on Saturday, May 16, and since the night of the murder has been held on the ninth floor of police headquarters building and has been denied interviews with friends and relatives on the order of Inspector John P. Smith.

Kenneth Weber, prominent criminal lawyer, retained by friends to act for Winslow, this morning condemned police methods which have kept his client from any intercourse with the outside world for sixteen days. The attorney declares that detectives have been striving to writing a confession from the prisoner through third-degree tactics, but their efforts have been fruitless. Habeas corpus proceedings were

CITY WAITED LONG

Transportation Question and Bridge Issue Will Be Probed.

City Solicitor T. G. Meredith says this morning that the Ontario railway board will meet in London or June 17. This date has been propose by the board as a day that will suit its members, and it is expected that the city and the street railway will find it agreeable to them as well. The city council has been ready for the meeting for almost five weeks now, and so has the street railway. It means that at last the city is within listening distance of the end of its transportation troubles and that the matter of the Ridout street and York street bridge troubles may be settled in the comparatively near future.

The repairs to the York street bridge and the question of building a new Ridout street bridge have been untouched, except by criticism, for some weeks now, and will remain so until the board meets.
In the meantime London South has bus service, and the transportation problem in that section of the city is somewhat relieved. Every angle of the bridge situation, including the Verna. atter of division of costs between the city and the laid over until after June 17.
