A Young Lady Carries off the Gold Hedal—Se Words a Minute.

That the "pretty typewriter" is not ornamental only was satisfactorily demonstrated at the writing speed contest that came off at the Normal School yesterday. It was a lady that won the gold medal for speed and accuracy, and as for gracefulness of attitude, for freedem from emotion, and for general bearing while operating the machine, the ladies were far ahead of the men. Of actual competitors there were ten, five ladies, five men. The latter, almost all of them betrayed considerable excitement while fingering the keys. Mr. F. E. McGurrin, of Salt Lake City, who was until yesterday the champion of the continent, had his shoulders bent down towards the keyboard at almost a right-angle. Tommy M. Shydre, of Pottsville, Penna, attacked the singer board in bull dog fashion, having divested himself of everything but trousers and shirt. McRide of Ottawa also, appeared quite excited throughout. He machine occupies about hair the space of that in the Caligraph. It is of just such a size that when the two hands are placed before it they cover the whole board. McGurrin keeps his arins stationary and moves only his fingers, all of which are utilized. The range of each finger thus being limited he can strike any letter without looking fortit. In fact he can write almost as well blindfolded as with his eyes open. The same thing could not be done in the caligraph. Miss Orr uses only the index finger of each hand. She strikes the keys with remarkable certainty, and with clock-like regularity. Making 10 movements of the keys per second one would think she was writing ahead of the capabilities of the machine. An investigation of the written document however moved that such was not the case.

Of the caligraph writers Osborne and McBride showed the most ability, and had it not been for the failure on the part of their machines on two occasions to work they would have made a much better showing. One of these delays cost McBride's 5 or 4 seconds.

Below are the official figures of the prize takers:

Candidly speaking, we cannot as yet discern any fusiness light to indicate that our neighbors are som about to make any sweeping chance in their tariff system. What signs do show themselves look rather the other way, we should say.

To assist Nature most effectually in her efforts to throw off or resist serious disease, it is essential that an impulse should be given to functions which growing in health suspends or weakens, namely, the action of the bowels, billious secretion, and digestion. Oftentimes though this is impracticable by the use of ordinary remedies, it proves an easy task when Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure is resorted to.

Mr. Henry Cargill, M. P. for East Bruce, owns the bright, busy little village which bears his name; located on the Southampton Branch of the Grand Trunk Railway. It is a stirring place and owes its activity to the energy of Mr. Cargill, whose big lumber mills and sash and door factory are among the largest in Canada. In his mills and factory he surploys, all the year round, 250 to 300 men, and draws his supplies from a strip of 12,000 acres of timber lands which he puridea may be gathered of the immense business done in the Cargill mills when it is known that the yearly capacity is 5,000,000 feet of flour mill, which turns out 35 barrels daily, it is run by water power, and at present leased by Mr. W. Austin.

At. Cargill does not only shine as a manufacturer. He possesses a farm of 300 acres, all under cillage, and in addition has 500 acres, all under cillage, and in addition has 500 acres, at grazing land. He is a successful in each of lancy stock, his herd of imported, and graded stock being a credit to the country. In his large stables are thirty first class horses, many of them. the rumbling sounds continued, accompanied by a violent sertbuake and flare of dazzling flame. The crest of the smaller Bandai-Tan appeared to be lifted bodily upwards and then to fall again with a tremendous noise, then followed showers of red mud mingled with large stones and above the mud fall a few inches of ashes. In the five villages of Iwase, Yosan, Wakamiya, Misato and Hibara, the greater part of the houses were buried to a depth of from seven to twenty feet. The state of the bodies recovered is terrible. It is scarcely possible to distinguish between men and women. A few corpses were found suspended in the branches of trees which had caught them as they fell. Up to July II, the number of hodies recovered is 476. It is believed that $1 are still entombed; and the wounded number 41. Eighty-seven houses have been destroyed.
