Lawrencetown=Past and Present W

The early history of Lawrencetown runs back to legend, myth and facts, that lend a singular interest and charm to it. It was named after Governor Lawrence. Its first settlers were a band of Loyalists from New Colonel Prince, one of the pioneers, held a grant of land from the Eay Shore to the Annapolis River.

Tradition persists in the reports that some of the treasures of the noted Captain Kidd were buried near Hall's Island beside the Annapolis wealth dug many holes on and near the Island.

It is reported that one of our former citizens dug up a pot of money near the bank of the river and lived many years.

The natural location of the village is unexcelled. The Annapolis River bordered with a row of oaks, and Hall's Island in mid-stream, covered with elms, beeches and other large trees, lend a charm to natural scenery that is unsurpassed.

Many descendants of the Loyalists who settled here brought with them their English tastes and customs.

In addition to Col. Prince, such men as Major Chipman, S. B. . hipman, M. P. P., John Ross, Hon. W. C. Whitman, Dr. John Primrose and John G. Smith, with many others contributed much to the business and social life of the town. Their aim seems to have been to foster and cuitivate happy homes and a sound social life instead of making for-

The growth in material things is similar to other towns in the Annapolis Valley. The town has always shown a deep interest in education. Among the teachers we note with pride such men as Andrew McKeown, D.D., John Hardy and W. A. Calnek in addition to many other noted men. Many of the students have passed out of schools into the world and have reflected much credit on Brown University, Dr. Bishop in Yale, and Dr. Wheelock in Mt. Allicon, Hon. O. T. Daniels, Attorney General, Rev. C. T. Illsley, Mont. men who have studied in our s hool are doing good work in their various callings all over the world. The churches have enjoyed their full share of able and devoted men. For many years the Rev. James Robert son, L. L. D., preached and taught Bible class in the Episcopal church. Dr. Robertson was a scholarly man, a graduate of a Scotch University. He was a noted classical scholar and excelled in the study of history. Lawrencetown is surrounded by the most fruitful soil in the province. The belt of land at the foot of the North Mountain is noted for its fertility and its abundant crops of hay, grain and apples, At the base of the South Mountain is a truct of land that produce large crops of fruit, grain and hay. Fortunate in its location and equally fortunate in its surroundings, Lawrencetown is necessarily a business centre. Few towns of its size can boast of better-filled or more up-to-date stores with a larger and more thriving trade.

INDUSTRIES. The industrial life of the town is conditioned by the large farming and fruit-raising communities which sur-The apple ware-houses give employment to a large number of men during the winter months. The cheese factory had one of its best years in 1912. Balcom's saw mill is now a busy hive of industry. They are sawing lumber, staves, shingles and laths. It is the present intention of the firm to prepare building material of all kinds, viz., doors, sashes and all other prepared

The farmers are preparing to build an evaporator, which is much needed to care for the fruit that is now fit There is some talk of a barrel factory in the near future. This is an industry that is much barrels are required in this community every year. Building operations promise to be quite active this sea-

Lawrencetown is especially a residential town. It is framed in beautiful surroundings,-the Annapolis river on one side and blossoming and laden orchards on the other sides. Interesting walks and drives may be taken to various points. The river is noted for its fine salmon fishing; our hotel is unexcelled; we enjoy many conveniences of the city, we have the best water system in the

The present intention is that the homes and streets of the town will te lighted by electricity during 1913. There is a movement to open up one or more new streets, and in this way give the town room to grow and exrand. The Lawrencetown Real Estate and Orchard Co. recently formed is offering for sale one hunhred and fity acres of orchard. This orchard is in the town limits and much of it is in bearing. New streets will eventually be opened and blocks of orchard will be for sale. The comrany have located fifty building lots in order that houses may be built to supply the steady and growing demand for homes.
