VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

A DISCLAIMER FROM MUNCEY. To the Editor of The Advertiser: I noticed in a recent issue of you valuable daily that a certain Muncey chief and a certain Chippewa, acting secretary of that respected band, are about to petition on behalf of their respective bands, His Majesty King George V. that the Middlesex Indians ought to be exempted from compulsory military service. Be it known to whon it may concern that the supposed chief and secretary had no such authority from their respective bands or council to put such silly stuff in the dailies on behalf of their supposed respective bands. I, Samuel John, legally elected chief and secretary of the Munceys of Thames Band. I also saw George Fisher Sen., legally elected chief of the Chippewas of Thames Band, Know nothing of the proposed petition to His Majesty King George V. Neither will we, as headsmen of our respective bands, soil our hands with such silly nonsense, for it is a known fact that when certain people are disfranchised they are legally exempt from military service, and such is the Indian. And, further, I know today in my band we have young warriors who are just anxious to enlist to fight the battles of the British Empire, but who are under age. So, good people, do not be misled, and think Middlesex warriors are cowards. We always have been loyal to our great father over the sea, and always will be, even to our last drop of blood. And, lastly, while we are going through a severe test, we would not falter, and pray the petition to our God may be answered in Hls own good time, viz., Thy kingdom come, which we believe when that day comes there will be peace, sweet peace, forever.

For the last two years the Canadian Pacific Railway, in connection with the Pacific Steamers of the Canadian Pacific Ocean Service, has carried a very large proportion of the passengers from the United States to Russia, and as these passengers have included a great many American railroad men, who have been surprised at the excellence of the service, a remarkable volume of trade is developing, greatly to the benefit of Canada itself. Among these passengers was the American Railway Advisory Commission, consisting of the leading railway experts of the United States, who travelled from Chicago to Vancouver, and thence to Yokohama via the Empress of Asia. Mr. Henry Miller, vice-chairman of this highly important commission, has written Vice-President C. M. Poerweth a detrice. Miller, vice-chairman of this highly important commission, has written Vice-President G. M. Bosworth a letter of deep appreciation, in which, after referring to many individual courtesies along the route, he remarks: "You have good reason to be proud of your organization and service, and we take this method of thanking you heartily for your kindness and courtesy." b

"That's too bad," said Gladys. "Perhaps his wife will make him return for his change. And I got this half dollar for one of those little sacks of sugar, from a gentleman who had a Van Dyke beard."

"That was an old man Brown," was Van Dyke beard."

"That was an old man Brown," was the reply. "The sugar's worth forty cents, and I've always had a hard time making him give me that."

When the total receipts were gone over, it was discovered that Gladys had made about eighty cents more than she should have on the ten minutes of business. And the strange part of it is that not a single customer returned. is that not a single customer returned to complain about being overcharged. Gladys has a position as grocery clerk open to her whenever she wants to take it. Miss Brockwell will appear in "The Soul of Satan" at the Patricia Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The utilities commission held a special session last evening to discuss with the trades and labor council the coal situation, but the latter representatives were unable to be present.

Chairman Philip Pocock reported that over two hundred and fifty letters had been written to firms across the line in an effort to get coal, but none could be had.

Another effort will be made shortly to get the men together and talk the situation over.

CHRISTINE MILLER ILL.

The directors of the Musical Art Society have received word from the New York managers of Miss Christine Miller that she is ill in Kansas and must abandon her concert tour. While the keenest disappointment is felt because of the great success made here last season by this charming singer and a return engagement eagerly looked forward to, there is a bright side to the occurrence, in that arrangements have been made to bring the noted contralto, Emma Roberts, to fill the engagement.

Miss Roberts sings in Detroit next Sunday, and is engaged to sing in Buffalo on Tuesday, so that the London concert is a fortunate one for her as well as for the society.

Few singers within recent years have been greeted with such enthusiastic praise from the entire critical press of New York as was Emma Roberts.

The Most Wonderful of All Christmas Gifts is the Aeolian Vocalion. You Must Hear It Played to Understand Why

Music best expresses the spirit of Christmas, hence any musical instrument brings an appreciation that no other gift can secure. But here—at no greater cost than an ordinary phonograph—is an instrument far, far greater than any other sound-reproducer From this new and greater phonograph you get a tone richer, fuller than ever you heard from a phonograph before. In playing a vocal record it gives human notes without a suggestion of scraping—without the usual thin "phonograph" tone; and this different hopograph.

ferent phonograph plays orches-tral records in a manner so true and full of rich tonal shading that, heard in the next room, it is exactly like listening to the actual playing of the instruments themselves. But greatest of all the Aeolian-

Vocalian features is the "Gradu-ola"—which gives you the delightful new privilege of playing each record with your own indi-vidual expression. With this revolutionary expression device each note of voice or instrument is your own. You may "mould" the rendition to suit your own moodshade it as you please.

When you hear the Vocalion you will be impressed with its tone-When you see the Vocalion you will appreciate the unrivalled beauty of its exterior.

by means of the Graduola, you will realize that this invention lends this new phonograph a unique charm.

When you consider that the Vocalion, unlike other phonographs, is still selling at the same prices that have been in effect since its introduction, and that these prices will remain in effect only a few days more, you will be compelled to admit that the immediate purchase of this instrument is the only course for anyone seeking the ideal Christmas gift an investment in musical enjoyment compared to which other gifts seem paltry and insig-
