Co-operative Factory for Making Craft's Tools—Simpson Gives Views.

Reports received locally of the international convention at Rochester, N.Y., of the Machinists' Union, state that recommendations have been made to the body for the establishment of a co-operative factory for the manufacture of the craft's tools, and of a printing plant to take care of the requirements of the organization. Reports presented indicate the founding during the past 18 months of 371 new lodges, bringing the total membership of the organization up to 305,680 members. The receipts of the grand lodge for the past year were $2,705,034, an increase of $1,081,224 over the preceding year. The treasurer has recommended that the per capita tax be raised from 60 cents to one dollar per member.

Amplification of his views on the international convention was given yesterday at the Labor Temple by James Simpson, editor of the Industrial Banner, who stated that he had been incorrectly quoted as favoring a national movement for Canadian workmen.

Mr. Simpson points out that he is not in sympathy with any national movement, and that the basis of the quotation attributed to him was a statement in which he explained that the Canadian worker lacked economic power in influencing his government because of his affiliation with the American Federation of Labor.

"When officials of the Dominion Trades Congress interview our government it understands perfectly that they can secure united action by the workers only with the consent of the American Federation," stated Mr. Simpson, referring to the fact that strike sanction must come from the States.

Remedy for this phase of the workman's position lies, in Mr. Simpson's opinion, in officials of the American Federation accompanying the Trades Congress delegates to Ottawa, and thus lending weight to the Canadian delegates' position. It will be difficult, however, he admits, to secure the utmost interested action of the American Federation in Canadian matters, owing to the financial drain which might be incurred by a decided stand upon any matter.

Representatives of Local 393, International Electrical Workers Union, attended the regular meeting of the Building Trades Council, and reported that the inside wiremen had expressed a unanimous decision to remain with the international movement.

Official James Marsh of the Brotherhood of Carpenters, Organizer Fred Molinieux of the Painters' and Decorators' Union, and James Simpson, editor of the Industrial Banner, have returned from addressing meetings and conferring with officials of the North-western Labor Association at Owen Sound. This association has been recently formed, and contemplates a survey of the whole of the district in which it is located, with a view towards organizing the various crafts represented there.

The question of the blanket agreement for 1921 was discussed by the Building Trades Council at its regular meeting. The majority of the affiliated trades are said to favor the device, and it will be applied by those who voted for its adoption.

General Organizer Flett, of the American Federation of Labor, is in town and is reported to be looking after the interests of his organization as they are affected by recent secession movements.

In connection with Hon. R. H. Grant's promised consideration of the proposal to make possible a university education for workmen, James Simpson, secretary of the Labor Temple, reports that he has received advice of a similar scheme which is in successful operation in New Zealand.

The Toronto office of the Street Railwaymen's Union reports the receipt of communications from the international body declaring false the reported secession to the O. B. U. of the Winnipeg car men.

General Organizer John Bruce, of the International Plumbers' and Steamfitters' Union, left yesterday for Winnipeg.

Business Agent J. T. Gunn of the Canadian Electrical Trades Union has received the buttons of the new organization.

CLINIC OPENS FOR EX-SERVICE MEN

Doctor Gives Services—G.A.U.V. Provides X-Rays and Laboratory.

A clinic, at which all ex-service men and women may receive free medical examination, was opened yesterday by the G.A.U.V., at 19 Gerrard street, under the supervision of Dr. J. L. Robinson, formerly a member of the staff of the Dominion Orthopaedic Hospital.

J. Harry Flynn, Dominion organizer of the G.A.U.V., said yesterday, regarding the establishment of the clinic: "There are constantly so many men who desire examination by a competent physician that we decided to include a clinic among our activities. As Dr. Robinson has been on the military medical staff for such a length of time, a report from him, substantiated by laboratory tests and X-ray plates where necessary, will have weight with the authorities in an application is made for disability pensions, allowances and so forth."

Far from acting at variance with the pension board, it is rather our object to co-operate with them, and we have written to Ottawa, requesting such co-operation," continued Mr. Flynn.

The clinic for the present will be conducted two days a week, from 11 o'clock until 1 on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

So many men turned up for the first clinic yesterday that only about a third could be attended to. Hereafter, arrangements for examination will be made by appointment with G.A.U.V. headquarters, 19 Gerrard street. All ex-service men and women, irrespective of whether they are members of the G.A.U.V. or not, may avail themselves of the privileges of the clinic.

Mr. Flynn said that it was the intention of Dr. Robinson, who is giving his services to the clinic gratis, to have a laboratory in connection. Arrangements for the taking of X-rays are also being made.

The laboratory and X-ray costs are being borne by the G.A.U.V., and, as these entailed a good deal of expense, Mr. Flynn stated that the society would welcome donations from any citizens to help meet the costs of conducting the clinic.

The Winnipeg and East Hamilton branches of the G.A.U.V. have recently opened clinics similar to that begun here yesterday.

The G.A.U.V. Dominion headquarters have received a reply from the G.W.V.A. to the suggestion of the G.A.U.V. that all veterans unite for political action. The reply states that it will be impossible to do anything of the matter until the G.W.V.A. decides whether they will become active in politics.

This entails submitting the matter to every branch in the country. Commenting upon the reply, J. Harry Flynn, Dominion organizer of the G.A.U.V., said yesterday: "The time for political organization has arrived. Delay is dangerous. It was our hope that the recent convention, at which the G.A.U.V. adopted their political platform, might have been a G.W.V.A. and G.A.U.V. joint convention, but when we realized that the G.W.V.A. would be a long time in reaching a decision on our suggestion, we decided that we could not afford to wait. We went ahead and developed a platform which we know all veterans, irrespective of their association connections, will support."

A new branch of the G.W.V.A. is being organized at Port Hope, near Welland, Ont. It was announced at the offices of the provincial command yesterday. According to Assistant Provincial Secretary McGreggor, a good many ex-imperialists are locating in the Niagara peninsula, and these are being recruited into the ranks of the G.W.V.A.

No action to encourage emigration from the North of Ireland to Canada, as suggested by Hon. J. A. Calder, is as yet contemplated by the Orange Order, H. C. Hocken, editor of The Sentinel and grand master of the Orange Order, stated yesterday.

Mr. Hocken further stated that he was unaware that the desire to emigrate prevailed to any extent among the Ulster Irishmen. He was unable to intimate whether action to encourage such immigration would be decided on by the order.
