ANOTHER "CONVERT" Fredericton Mail:—A despatch from Bath to the St. John Standard announces that "Brother of R. L. Simms, Opposition candidate, 1915, leaves Grit ranks." It turns out that the alleged convert is In France or Flanders. He enlisted and went across the seas, not without caus-ing public, but also with her employers, both municipal and company. It might be interesting to state the number of women employed in a few of the king until he enlisted for service at the front, and didn't earn money from the militia of this country during pace times, parading about the country and then, when war broke out, slink in-to civilian clothes."
