First in importance is the question of whether William Bryan will be able to muster enough votes to make him the moderator. Many of the church leaders were disturbed last year at the general assembly meeting in Des Moines when the trunk had all the time left near a bath heater, and it is considered a miracle that the house was not wrecked.

As Hiram Sees It

"Me an' Hanner was talkin' las' night," said Mr. Hiram Hornbean to The Times reporter, "about them five lit' fellers that was sent to the reformatory. Too bad, ain't it? Hain't no Big Brothers in St. John—hey you? Hain't got no Juvenile Court—ain't they? An' when they bump into somethin' an' make trouble for somebody you take hold of 'em an' start payin' their board. Now that's a nice way to do things in a country like Canada in this here old Loyalist town that thinks its some punkins—ain't it? Think you're real good—don't you? Well—Mister—I ain't sure but I'd rather be the boy in the reformatory than the man or woman that don't care what happens to him an' don't try to keep him out of trouble. The heaps of men that's pillars of society today that kin thank the Lord they was took care of when they was young. But they don't—they take all the credit to themselves—By Hea!"

(Canadian Press) Lausanne, May 11.—M. Vorovsky, an uninvited guest from Soviet Russia at the Lausanne conference, was killed yesterday by a Swiss, formerly an officer in the Russian service, and two of his lieutenants were seriously wounded. One of the wounded is Hermann Peters, a Bolshevik from Berlin, who was the Russian press agent at both the first and second Lausanne conferences; the other is J. Didwidowski, Vorovsky's young Russian secretary.

The assassin, whose name is Mauriuc Alexander Comodi, was seized immediately after he shot the three Russians while they were dining at the Hotel Cecil, headquarters of the Russian delegation.

Most of the guests in the dining room had finished dinner when the assassin drew his revolver and fired upon the Russians. The first bullet struck Vorovsky behind the ear. He fell across the table and uttered no word. Probably he died immediately. He was struck by other bullets also.

Ahrens, who is always armed, drew his weapon after being shot twice, but before he could use it, a waiter seized his arm, apparently fearing for the safety of the patrons who were crowding the doorway.

Swiss Worried. The murder has stirred Switzerland as has no single event since the assassination of Empress Elizabeth of Austria at Geneva in 1898.

Comodi maintains that he acted alone in an effort to avenge his father and uncle for mistreatment received at the hands of the Bolsheviks during the "Red Terror."

Switzerland fears that world opinion may hold local patriotic associations morally or materially responsible, inasmuch as the Swiss Fascist organization recently ordered Vorovsky to leave the country and take the consequences. Swiss authorities for failing to protect the representative of Moscow in view of Fascist threats, and expressed bitterness against the Allies for creating what they termed a dangerous local atmosphere of hostility.

Not a single casualty occurred, and the Sisters attribute this almost as much to the fine behaviour of the vast majority of the patients as to their own heroic efforts.

PRINCE TALKS OF THE NEWSPAPERS

London, May 11.—The Prince of Wales, who was the principal guest at the diamond jubilee dinner last night in support of the newspaper press fund, said that modern science was working hand in hand with modern journalism, which had in truth put a girde round the earth.

The best example of what he would call "intelligent anticipation" occurred to him while traveling in the Dominions. An airplane which had been especially sent to meet him bombed his train with large bundles of a local paper giving an account of his visit, doings and departure from a certain town three-quarters of an hour before he arrived there.

Perhaps, added the Prince, "intelligent anticipation" might occasionally be preferred to belated record.

Kitchever Coroner Reads a Lesson to Mothers Too Much Devoted to Pleasure.

Kitchever, Ont., May 11.—The coroner's jury investigating the death of six months old infant, who died last night that death was caused by suffocation due to neglect of the child on the part of the parents. The evidence showed that the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Halman left the baby in bed after putting it to sleep at 12:25 and when fishing and did not return until 7:45 p.m. The assumption is that the child pulled clothing over its face and that suffocation resulted.

Coroner Kalbfleisch censured the parents for their neglect and hoped the incident would be a lesson for them and for other mothers, some of whom devoted too much time to parties and theatres.
