PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NEWS OF THE WEEK IN ST. JOHN

Society has been active this week, especially so at the fashionable resorts near the city. On Thursday evening at Government House, Rathesay, the governor and Mrs. Pugsley entertained at bridge in honor of Mr. and Mrs. William Pugsley, of Ottawa. The guests numbered among them many of the young aristocrats of the city. On Friday evening another brilliant dancing party was given by Colonel Weldon McLean and his brother, Mr. Hugh McLean, at the Manor House. Invitations to this function included both the young and the younger married and unmarried members of society. For originality in the choice of an entertainment, perhaps the Westfield cottagers excelled, and their masquerade ball on Wednesday evening in the Westfield clubhouse proved not only that the entertainment was popular but that it was extremely enjoyable as well. Besides these delightful society functions on a large scale there were bridge parties and several small teas given for visitors in town, one at least of which was given in honor of a prospective bride. Altogether the week has been well filled socially.

In honor of her guest, Mrs. Miles Dixon, of Fredericton, Mr. Alfred Morley gave a pleasant small bridge and tea on Wednesday afternoon at her residence.

Miss Campbell was smartly gowned in blue tulle silk and wore a broad brimmed white hat with flower trimming. In the dining room, where Mrs. George McDonald presided, the pretty tea table had as central decoration a silver basket filled with red and pink roses, under which was a mirror covered with roses. Smart Frocks for Autumn
Make Their Appearance

To secure the slim lines demanded by fashion, women will find the one-piece frock is eminently successful—and frocks such as are mentioned below, abounding in charm of both fabric and style, now await your approval.

A Frock of Black Radium

This particular model is very youthful and becoming. It is a button back frock, with loose accordion pleated skirt panel, and pleatings to finish the short sleeves. The neck is low cut and round, with a frill of lace at the back. A wide crush girde, lined with sea green silk lends just the wanted touch of color.

Basques Are Very Popular

With navy crepe meteor for a skirt and a basque of heavily beaded mahogany georgette, another striking and lovely effect is carried out. This model has a soft tie-in-front sash, and a back over drapey lined with mahogany to match basque.

This Frock is Unusual

The basque is fashioned of kumsi-kumsi silk in old brass shade. The skirt is of navy crepe meteor, and a narrow girde finished with heavy tassels crosses and ties in front. A full over skirt gathered to basque is another decidedly chic feature.

A Fascinating Serge Frocks

A long chemise tunic heavily embroidered is the striking feature of this frock. It also has an underskirt, girde and sash of black satin. A toast colored collar softens the plain round cut neck line at the back.

For all times when you appear without a coat you will find frocks of this kind most desirable. It isn't a moment too early to plan and purchase your fall and winter needs now.

ANOTHER PHASE OF TRAFFIC IN CONTRABAND

It was learned when the Eastern Steamship Lines, Inc., steamer Governor Dingley arrived here yesterday from Boston and Maine ports that the arrest of one of the porters by liquor inspectors in this city on Tuesday night on charges of having several bottles of liquor secreted in his trousers' legs, had a sequel when the vessel reached Eastport on Wednesday, on her return trip to Boston. According to United States inspectors of customs, developments at Eastport indicate a phase of the traffic in contraband right here in St. John which has just come to light.

Before the Governor Dingley arrived at her dock in Eastport, Sumner Sleeper, United States inspector of customs, had received some sort of a tip, possibly from the prohibition enforcement inspectors here, that having apparently been supplied from certain sources in St. John. He searched the berth where some of the colored employees of the steamer are quartered and soon located more than $100 worth of Canadian whiskey. These were twenty-four quart bottles in all. The liquor was taken to the Eastport customs house and deposited in a safe place.

Inspector Sleeper, it develops, searched the steamer early in the month and made a seizure of liquors. The Eastern Steamship Lines officers say that the liquor was taken on board surreptitiously and unknown to them at the time and that the traffic had been carried on in violation of the company's regulations. The seamen on the Governor Dingley say that they had no part in the traffic, and that the man arrested in St. John, and who forfeited a deposit he made, was not one of their number.

WHY SUGAR PRICES MUST COME DOWN

Situation Explained by Wholesale Dealer, Who Advises Consumers to Buy
Only as Needed in Expectation of Further Reductions.

One of the leading wholesale dealers in the city sums up the present situation in the sugar market in the following statement:

"The sugar market since November, 1919, has advanced and declined with a rapidity and to an extent absolutely unprecedented. During that period raw sugars at New York have advanced from about 30 per 100 pounds to $20.75 per 100 pounds at one time in May. Since May sugars have been poured into the United States from practically every known sugar producing country in the world. The American market apparently was willing to pay much higher prices than any other country and in some cases refined sugar originally exported from the United States to Europe has been returned recently to the United States, for the reason that it paid the holders better to return it than to sell it in their own market."

"The liberal sugar offerings of the last three months have forced a steadily declining market and for the last fortnight raw sugars have been practically unsaleable, for the reason that the refiners everywhere have ample supplies and refuse to take on more sugar, even at low prices, until the consumption of refined sugar improves."

"At the present minute it is practically impossible to estimate the value of refined or raw sugar, but supplies outside the refiners hands are not large and it is probable that the future prices of refined sugar in Canada depend on the refiners' action."

"Canada has been supplied with refined sugar during the last six months at prices much below those in the United States and Europe, as a result of the favorable purchases of raw sugar made by the Canadian refiners and the price control of the Canadian Trade Commissioners."

"Consumers can reasonably expect a steadily lowering market as low priced raw sugar comes forward. But in the meantime the price in Canada depends entirely upon the prices which the refiners may find it necessary to name to hold Canadian distribution against imported sugars."

"An examination of the local situation shows local wholesalers have been working on a hand-to-mouth basis for some time past and any loss which may result from the falling of the refiners' prices justified in buying only limited supplies with the expectation that prices will be lower."

NATURAL HISTORY LECTURES.

The I. dies' Association of the Natural History Society at an executive meeting this week received and adopted a programme for the course of lectures to be held this fall. The president, Mrs. John A. McAvity, was in the chair. Mrs. George Matthews, convenor of the committee in charge of the winter programme of lectures, submitted the report which was most heartily endorsed. The course, as she described it, was to be given in a period of six weeks, one lecture each week. The first lecture was to be on the men of the Stone age, their art and their industry, and was to be given by Miss C. D. Matthews. Others were to deal with the men of the present age as follows: Men of Poland, by Mrs. Frank Ellis; Men of Belgium, by Mrs. Portland Robinson, and Men of England, by Mrs. G. A. Kuhring. The fifth was to be on Men and a book by Mrs. John Seely and the last to be on Plantation Days, by Mrs. George Matthews. A committee was appointed to make further arrangements for the holding of the lectures and the following were named as members: Mrs. George Matthews, Mrs. W. H. Shaw and Miss Houser.
