

Agreement Must Stand Says General Manager

Mr. Gutelius Asserts Arrangement Between I. C. R. and C. P. R. is Binding For Six Months—His Plans For Greater Facilities at St. John

That the agreement between the Intercolonial Railway and the C. P. R. whereby the latter company is to have its freight hauled through to Halifax over the government railway, thereby cutting St. John off from the mail steamers, is a binding one was the information conveyed yesterday by the remarks of F. P. Gutelius, general manager of the I. C. R.

When asked directly at a conference of the board of directors in the afternoon if it was useless for the citizens of St. John to proceed with their protest at Ottawa, the general manager of the I. C. R. answered: "Why, I would not say that, but if you think an agreement signed by the vice-president of one company and initiated by the general manager of the other is not binding, then you had better go ahead." And Mr. Gutelius laughed.

Speaking of the agreement, Mr. Gutelius said the rates involved were more advantageous to the Intercolonial than the ordinary export rates, and that the company would make more money from the C. P. R. on account of the large bulk of traffic that would be handled at once for the Empress boats than on smaller shipments at a higher rate, of which part of the profits were paid to the agent who got the business.

"If I were asked to go back on the agreement," he added, "I would certainly say no, from a purely business standpoint."

With regard to the duration of the arrangement, Mr. Gutelius confirmed previous statements that it only held good for six months, expiring on May 15 next, adding that "there is no provision for a renewal of the contract."

He disclaimed anything resembling discrimination against St. John on the part of the Intercolonial management, saying: "Halifax and St. John are the two feet on which the I. C. R. stands."

HEADACHES AND HEART TROUBLE

Nervous Prostration of Three Years' Standing Cured a Year Ago by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Anyone who knows the discouragement and despair which accompanies the helplessness of nervous prostration will appreciate the gratitude felt by the writer of this letter.

Mrs. H. C. Jones, Scotch Lake, C. B., writes: "I suffered from nervous prostration for three years. I had frequent headaches, no appetite and was troubled with my heart. After consulting two doctors, without obtaining satisfactory results, I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and was completely cured by its use. It is nearly a year since I was cured, and I want others to know of this splendid medicine. I now attend to my household duties with pleasure and content, and am glad to have the opportunity of recommending Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."

At least some benefit is bound to be derived from each dose of this great food cure, as day by day it forms new blood, and builds up the system. 50 cents a box, 9 for $4.50. All drug stores, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

THE KEELEY TREATMENT

For Liquor, Opium, Morphine and other Drug Using

Methods rational and humane. Health always improved. No nausea, sickness, mental derangement or collapse.

HON. JOE MEDILL,
Late Editor Chicago Tribune.

"I tested this cure. I selected a half dozen of the toughest products of alcoholism which the Chicago saloons had been able to turn out, and the drunkard-making shops in no other city can boast them in their line of workmanship. The experimental cases were sent down to Dwight, one at a time, extending over a period of several weeks. And in due time they were all returned to me, looking as fit as veritable miracles had been wrought upon them. The change for the better was so great that I scarcely recognized them. They went away sane and returned gentlemen. It was amazing, and converted me to a belief in the efficacy of Dr. Keeley's treatment for alcoholism and opium."

and I have nothing but kindly feelings for each port, as the prosperity of the railway largely depends on the development of both.

Turning to matters concerning the port generally, Mr. Gutelius expressed himself as having been very much struck, on coming to St. John, by the improper use to which the best part of the waterfront is put, as it is largely devoted to warehouses and what he called "shops." He said the I. C. R. could use more than twice as much space as it has got at the present time on the waterfront and that the accommodation at Long wharf is entirely inadequate to its needs.

"The whole of the main part of the waterfront, from the Long wharf to Reid's Point, is cut up in such a way," he said, "to render useless much of the space that would be available for large vessels and transportation facilities under better conditions." He urged the necessity for developing the whole harbor front on an entirely new basis.

"The I. C. R.," he said, "is expecting to build another spur to the Ballast wharf and an extension of its tracks, in the Courtney Bay direction, and will develop its system very largely in the city."

Discussion arose as to the best means of providing extra accommodation for the Intercolonial as soon as possible, and Mr. Gutelius promised to ask the government this winter for appropriations to pay for the construction of a new wharf north of the Ballast wharf which has been taken up by the sugar refinery.

The question of extending the I. C. R. tracks in Water street was also taken up. During the whole session, which lasted for about two hours, Mr. Gutelius made no definite statement and was non-committal in his attitude.

These proceedings at the conference were presided over by the general manager of the I. C. R., F. P. Gutelius, general manager of the I. C. R.; F. P. Brady, a member of the board of management of the road; J. M. Robinson, president of the board; W. H. Thorne, W. E. Foster, F. de la C. Clements, J. A. McAvity, J. B. M. Baxter, H. C. Schofield, H. K. Johnston, C. Skelton, P. W. Thomson, M. W. Doherty, J. Hunter White, and C. W. Hallowell. Mayor Frink arrived later.

J. M. Robinson, president of the board of trade, speaking to the telephone about the meeting, said last evening that he had come to the conclusion that the agreement was binding.

"The general idea I carried away with me," he added, "is that the I. C. R. is looking to develop a business extensively in St. John, but that there is not nearly enough accommodation for it at the present time."

POLICE INQUIRY

Merchants Tell of Raids on Their Warehouses—How the Doors Were Opened—Some Confessions

At last night's session of the police investigation, the witnesses included Detective Killen, Clarence W. deForest, John Jackson, J. M. Elmore, John C. Chesley, and Policemen Shortliffe and O'Leary.

Detective Killen testified that he had left his beat only on two occasions and then on several occasions some articles taken into places to smoke and get warmed but said all the men did the same. He had investigated the thefts from deForest's warehouse, Mr. deForest's camp, C. E. Barbour & Co. and Jones & Schofield and J. D. P. Lewis's office but did not recover any of the missing articles or money.

Clarence W. deForest told of finding that their warehouse had been entered on several occasions and that the thieves had made an attempt to open the safe. He reported these matters to the chief and on the first occasion was told that the thieves had already been learned about "by the hot air line." Killen investigated some of the breaks but accomplished nothing. After he placed a new lock on the door the thieves stopped.

John Jackson said that his door had been opened and articles stolen on several occasions. He reported the matter to Sergeant Baxter and the latter told him of finding some canned goods in the lock-up. Later on Ward came to him and asked him to help him in getting out of a scrape. He consented and when the chief asked him if he had given the policemen permission to "take things from his warehouse he said that he had.

John C. Chesley testified that Chief Clark had called him into the committee room at City Hall to write out a statement which the chief dictated. The statement referred to the allegation that Policeman Perry had stolen bread from George Martin's shop. Martin was there but the chief did the dictating.

Policeman Allan H. Shortliffe told of Sergeant Campbell arresting a man who had been seen by him in the warehouse. He admitted talking and gossiping on the streets and going into places to rest. Other policemen did the same.

Frank O'Leary, a policeman for about two years and a half, was called to testify. He joined the force and did not pass a physical examination until about a week later. He had no book or manual to guide him in carrying out his police duty.

Q.—Were you instructed as to the use of the baton, revolver and handcuffs?
A.—Sergeant Campbell instructed me how to use the baton. (Laughter.) I made an arrangement and the man resisted. Campbell told me I should have used the baton. (Laughter.) "You are foolish to hurt your hand. Split his head open."

O'Leary said that he had never been suspended. He was reported once but explained the matter satisfactorily. He admitted that he did not adhere strictly to the regulations prohibiting officers from gossiping in the street, and he didn't believe that any of the officers did.

Q.—Did Campbell ever ask you to make an arrest you think should not have been made?
A.—Yes, on York Point boat one night he came to me and asked if I had sent a man with a brown suit and peak hat who was drunk. I said I didn't. Campbell happened to look at me and I did not know later. There was a man coming down the street with a black suit and hard hat. "That's him," said Campbell. "He was arrested," he said, "was arrested in Brussels street when he was intoxicated. Campbell saw him, too, and asked him to plead guilty. He did so. I was prosecuting in this case, and I did not say anything. If the man had pleaded not guilty I would have said he was not drunk, too."

Q.—Did you ever hear of any person being suspected of theft?
A.—Yes, I heard about Campbell, Perry and McCollum.

Q.—Any other?
A.—About Sullivan in the Cronin case.

Q.—Did you comply with the regulations?

It shows how the lungs and the stomach are entirely separate organs reached by entirely separate tubes. What you swallow goes to the stomach. What you breathe (and only what you breathe) gets to the lungs and air passages direct.

Now you see how useless it is, when you have a cold, or a cough, or bronchitis, or catarrh, to dose the stomach (which may be quite healthy) with drugs! What you need is something you can breathe to the lungs direct!

That is Pepp.

Pepp is the name of a new scientific preparation containing highly medicinal essences and pine extracts, condensed into tablet form. You put a Pepp on your tongue, and as it slowly dissolves, these breathing essences turn into vapor. You BREATHE the remedy to your sore, ailing chest and lungs, direct—not swallowing it to your stomach, which is not ailing. The healing fumes, thus breathed down, bathe the delicate, inflamed membranes of your breathing tubes, and pass right on to the tiny passages of the lungs—a course no liquid or solid medicine could possibly take.

Domestic Senator Praises Pepp

Senator Desbryns, of Brookville, writing from the Dominion House, Ottawa, says: "I am pleased to express my high opinion of Pepp. Some time ago I contracted a very bad cold, which settled on my lungs and bronchial tubes. I almost lost my voice, was constantly coughing, and experienced considerable pain. A friend offered me a box of Pepp, and I tried them. I was very much pleased with their almost instant action. They seemed to go direct to the sore places, stopped the coughing, and gave me breathing easier. I continued their use for a short time, and they completely cured my cold."

Pepp is a best for children, too, because they contain no opiates or poisons. 50c. box, all druggists and stores. Write for free trial package to Pepp, P. O. Box 25, Princess St., Winnipeg, sending 1c. stamp for postage and 1c. advertisement.

HAD ITCHING PILES FOR 27 YEARS

Often Laid Up for Days at a Time—A Wonderful Tribute to Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Few people ever were ever enthusiastic in praising Dr. Chase's Ointment than the writer of this letter. When I read the description of his case you will not wonder why.

Mr. John Johnson, Coleman, Alta., writes: "Three years ago I was cured of itching piles of 27 years' standing by using Dr. Chase's Ointment. I used to think that death would be the relief I would ever get from the terrible misery of piles. Often I was laid up for three days at a time, and at other times worked when I should have been in bed."

"Dr. Chase's Ointment is worth sixty dollars a box instead of six cents. I am a different man since using it. I am farming all the time, and never miss a day. Words fail to express my gratitude for the cure this ointment made for me. I cannot tell half as much about it as it deserves. Anyone doubting this can write direct to me."
