E. J. Armstrong and family have today moved to their summer residence at Armstrong station on the I. C. R.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Kelly took place at 2.30 this afternoon from her late residence Lombard street. Rev. Mr. McLaughlin officiated and interment was in Fernhill.

A meeting of the executive committee of the women's tournament is called for eight o'clock this evening at No. 1 H. & L. Company's station, King street east.

The officers of St. David's Bearer Corps are recruiting for the church parade to be held on June 2nd. The next drill will be held on Monday night at 7.30 o'clock.

E. Leonard & Sons are installing a large new boiler at the Russia Cement Works, Gilbert's lane. The above firm are today also shipping a boiler to H. H. Crosby & Co. of Hebron, N. S.

At the City Cornet Band fair tonight, Wm. E. Gibson, late of England, will sing some of his celebrated comic songs. W. H. Foster, of 25 Cliff street, won the prize of a barrel of flour on Monday evening, with ticket No. 373.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Patrick Lewis took place at 2.30 this afternoon from her late residence, Union street, to the Cathedral, where Rev. Father O'Keefe celebrated Requiem High Mass. Interment was in the new Catholic cemetery.

Hon. H. R. Emmerson will arrive in the city on the noon train tomorrow. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon he will be present at a meeting of the harbor committee when matters relating to harbor improvements will be discussed. Mr. Emmerson will probably remain here until Friday.

The committee appointed by the board of trade to consider the application of the C. P. R. for running rights on the I. C. R., did not meet this morning. The organization of the committee is not yet complete.

The treasurer of the building fund for the new Y. M. C. A. building received a voluntary contribution of one hundred dollars today from J. Sutton Clark of St. George. The unexpectedness of this handsome gift and the kind and encouraging things said about the project by Mr. Clark made the act all the more pleasing.

The Victoria Day excursion on the steamer Elaine from Indian town to Gagetown and return in the evening will afford an opportunity for city-weary people to enjoy an early trip on the river, which is now looking its prettiest. The Elaine is quick and commodious and its service is excellent. The Carleton Cornet band has been engaged for the occasion.

Friends of the Elmwood street Y. M. A. will be glad to hear that the freshest is still high in the river and will add to the interest of their Victoria Day excursion, the high water wharves at Hampstead and Wickham are now out of water. Steamer excursion will leave Indian town at 8 A. M. and return at 8 P. M., calling at Brown's flats both ways.

A very elderly woman hobbled into the police court this morning and stated that she wanted to swear out a warrant for the arrest of a prominent grocer who she says is guilty of shaving notes. When asked what she meant by shaving notes she said that yesterday she went into the grocery, purchased some goods for the week, was charged eighteen cents and then the grocer accused her of owing him two dollars. She said she does not owe two dollars and will not have a "note shaver" go unpunished.

Last night's train brought to the city, John Tyler and Thomas Sanch, two sailors from the wrecked schooner Ellen M. Mitchell. They say that the schooner was sailing along on the early morning of the 16th. The water was calm, when, before anything could be done to save her, she struck heavily on Stanley's ledge, two miles west of Great Wass Island, Me., and has become a total wreck. The vessel had a cargo of 350,000 of lumber and sailed from St. John last week. The vessel's gear and most of the cargo will be saved.

Frequent complaints have been made of the actions of junk collectors who go from house to house gathering up all sorts of odds and ends. A day or two ago a family on Union street moved out of the house in which they have been living and left their stove there to be taken away a day or two later. While the house was unoccupied two of these junk dealers landed there and pounced on the stove as good material for sale. They had disconnected it and were actually carrying it out through the front door when caught by a tenant in another part of the house. Instances of similar conduct are frequently reported.

The bodies of the late Daniel Murphy and his wife Mrs. Mary J. Murphy, died within a few hours of each other, were laid to rest in the new Catholic cemetery this morning. The funeral was a double one and one of the most impressive held here for some time. The bodies were taken to St. John the Baptist Church this morning, where Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Gaynor. The funeral procession was equally as impressive as the service. The two hearse proceeded side by side to the new Catholic cemetery where the bodies were interred in the family lot.

MAGISTRATE AND CHIEF

MUST WORK TOGETHER

Old Act Requires That Both Shall Conduct Any Investigation Into Fire Matters

Magistrate R. J. Ritchie received this morning a communication from Secretary Anderson of the Board of Trade, who acted as secretary for the citizens' meeting yesterday. The communication requests the magistrate to hold an investigation into the recent fire in Macaulay Bros' establishment and into the work of the fire department. The magistrate had as yet made no announcement as to what he will do in the matter and says that he is considering the affair.

The act of 1858, chap. 48, referring to such an investigation reads as follows: "An act to authorize investigations in cases of fire in the City of St. John and parish of Portland in the County of St. John."

"It is the duty of the magistrate and superintendent of police of the city and Portland, when any fire shall occur whereby any house, building, vessel, ship, structure of property in said city or parish respectively shall be wholly or in part consumed to institute an inquiry into the cause or origin of such fire, and for that purpose they are hereby authorized and required to summon and bring before them all persons whom they or either of them deem capable of giving information or evidence, touching, or concerning such fire, etc."

From the above act the investigation must be held by the magistrate and the superintendent of police who is the chief. The act was not looked up at yesterday's meeting when it was decided to ask for an investigation and that is probably the reason that Chief Clark has not been requested to act with magistrate Ritchie in a joint endeavor to investigate something in that most people already know about.

SHIPWRECKED MEN GIVE EVIDENCE AGAINST SMITH

Ticket of Leane Man Sent up for Trial on the Charge of Theft.

In the police court this morning one drunk was told he was old enough to consider his future after once being behind the bars for drunk and disorderly conduct. May 12th, Smith had dinner with them on board the schooner Ellen M. Mitchell and offered to sell three suits of oil-skin. One he claimed was his own, a second one was left with him by a sailor who ran away from a vessel and the third was given to him by a small boy. He also sold a pair of high rubber boots to the mate of the schooner for 65 cents. Smith informed the court that he had nothing to say, and was sent up for trial in the county court next Tuesday. Smith, as a ticket of leave man, has at present nine years' imprisonment awaiting him at Dorchester.

NEW MACHINERY FOR THE CORNWALL MILL

Extensive improvements are being made in the mill of the Cornwall Cotton Mill. This week there were received from England via the Eastern line boats, fifty cards, which are to replace the old ones now in use. A good many of those at present in the mill are becoming worn out, and it is also found that with more up to date designs the cost of producing goods can be reduced and the quality of material improved. The new plant now being designed is worth some thousands of dollars.

The management of the mills still find it difficult to secure a sufficient number of operatives. The wages paid to experienced hands are comparatively high, and it does not take long for a beginner to acquire an understanding of the work. Yet, although there are many young men and women in the city in search of permanent employment there is difficulty in getting enough of them for the mills.

R. B. Paterson and family moved to their summer home at Westfield today.

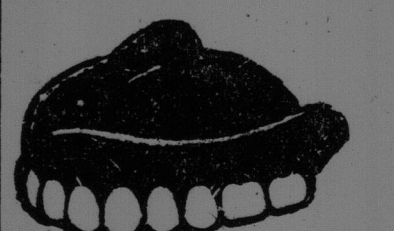

WILL ACT AS ASSISTANT

IN ASSOCIATED CHARITIES

Miss Robertson Engaged by the Board of Management to Share the Work

With Mrs. Hall

Some time ago the board of management of the Associated Charities realized that the work which was being carried on was far too heavy for any one person to properly manage. The secretary, Mrs. Hall, was kept busy from morning till night, and while there was nothing of the regular work left undone, opportunities were seen for effective action which had to be passed over owing to inability to accomplish more. The duties of the association, it was believed, could be extended so as to more perfectly cover the field, but in order to do this it was necessary to have some assistance for Mrs. Hall. Accordingly this desire of the board was made known, and a few days ago Miss Grace Robertson offered her services. This offer was gladly received and Miss Robertson has this week entered upon the duties as assistant.
