LOCAL NEWS.

Owing to the bad weather Rockwood Park will close for the season on Saturday next. No more liches will be served in the pavilion, but the matches will run as usual for the rest of the week.

The funeral of the late James Lenihan was held from his late residence, 17 North street, this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Father Holland officiated at the services in the Cathedral. Interment was in the new Catholic cemetery.

The estate of the late Frederick M. Lyons, of London, England, was probated at London, N. Y., on July 19, 1906, and amounts to over $100,000. Lyons, the advertiser, of this city, is a son of the deceased and engaged counsel to look after his interests.

Coal shipments from other collieries are being made to Springhill as no coal can now be obtained in that town. This seems like "carrying coals to Newcastle" with a vengeance.—Amherst Telegram.

The purchase by Mr. Chas. F. Smith, of the Dr. Parker lot near the Algonquin Hotel, has been ratified by the owner, who is in England. Mr. Smith, who has about completed his first season here and who is charmed with the town as a summer resort, will very shortly begin the erection of a very beautiful summer house for himself on his new estate. The house will occupy the site of the Parker residence, which was destroyed many years ago, but will be considerably larger.—Beacon.

In the police court this morning Robert Brown, a freeman, from the Battle Lineer Leutra, was charged with being absent from the ship and was fined $4. He said he left the ship to get a drink and preferred prison to the ship. The magistrate informed the prisoner that the city was not anxious to keep him for eight weeks and that he could remain in jail until Saturday night when he will be placed on board the ship. One drunk was fined $4.

On information of Mrs. Minnie B. Adney the police magistrate has issued summonses against Lemuel Kelly and Church Morse employees of J. N. and S. B. Chute of Berwick, N. S., for violation of the Fruit Market Act. The violation consisted of the packing and marking the New Brunswick apple under the name of the Duchesne. Mrs. Adney will prosecute all persons who represent the New Brunswick apple in the market, contrary to the terms of the Act.—Woodstock Despatch.

At about six o'clock on Sunday evening, George, the young son of Trackmaster Andrew Alton, met with a sad and painful accident. He had been playing on the shore and found a dynamite cap that had been dropped carelessly by some man who had a few days before been blasting rocks. He brought it to the house, procured a match, and holding the cap in one hand applied fire with the other. The result was that the dynamite exploded and he was badly mangled. Dr. Curtis was sent for and he, assisted by Dr. McIntosh, dressed the wounds, finding it necessary to amputate four fingers of the left and the index finger of the right hand. Although the wound was in the presence of the family when the shocking accident occurred, no one had noticed that he was playing with so dangerous a toy.—Woodstock Despatch.

The eighteen Chinamen at present under arrest in Sydney for attempting to enter this country without paying the regular duty are proving a puzzle to the authorities. The law is that a Chinaman who enters Canada irregularly may be placed in goal for a year. No further action can be taken until the only way out of the present difficulty seems to be the passage of a new law at the next session of Parliament allowing these men to be deported. The captain of the schooner Chorus, from which the Chinamen escaped, claims they escaped from the vessel. He can be fined not less than $500 and not more than $1,000 for each Chinaman and his vessel can be seized.

Chief Rideout is usually a welcome visitor wherever he goes, but the genial head of the police department was given a cold, icy shoulder in a call he made at Dorchester yesterday. Mrs. Jeffries, of Pear street, is spending some time in the jail at Dorchester, and had written to Moncton about the care of her domicile while she was away. Thinking to straighten matters out, Chief Rideout visited the jail last night, and led by Keeper Doves, arrived at the door of Mrs. Jeffries' cell. The inmate was aroused after repeated calls, and when the inner door was not opened, Keeper Doves called out, "Chief Rideout is here. Do you want to see him?" "No, I don't," came the reply from inside. "I've seen him once too often," and the sounds indicated that Katherine was returning to her interrupted siesta.—Transcript.

C. P. R. control of the Shore Line Railway will likely result in the building up of the many attractive seaside resorts along the line. The finest of these is the New River beach, which is one of the best beaches along the whole Atlantic Coast. It is upwards of a mile in length, and affords excellent facilities for bathing along its whole length, while its harbor is a splendid one. On several occasions C. P. R. managers have visited this beach, and it is believed its beauties and possibilities were among the influences that led to the acquisition of the Shore Line. The place has all the advantages of Bar Harbor, with the added advantage of a much better beach. It will not be surprising if in a very short time a move is made towards creating at New River a great watering resort, and it may be that it will in a few years grow to be as popular and as fashionable as any along the coast. That something of that nature is already in the minds of the C. P. R. managers is believed, and when their new property is put in good shape this development is likely to follow.—Greetings.

A VETERAN SOLDIER.

Capt. McKenzie, Formerly of St. John, Has Been Continuously in the Military Service for Nearly Sixty-Seven Years.

(Fredericton Herald.)
Captain Thomas McKenzie, the veteran caretaker of the drill hall and armory, has been notified by the military council at Ottawa, that he is shortly to be retired from the military service. Under an order promulgated some time ago, it is now required that military caretakers shall be members of the permanent corps, and as Captain McKenzie is considerably past the age limit for enlistment, there is nothing for him to do but to step down and out. He has made application to the Deputy Minister of Militia and Defence for a retiring allowance, and it is understood that Sir Frederick Borden has promised to give the matter his personal attention. As there are no provisions for a gratuity to caretakers, it may be that a special act of parliament will be necessary in Captain McKenzie's case. For length of service and steadfast devotion to duty it is safe to say that Captain McKenzie's record is without a parallel in Canada, and it is very doubtful if there is another man in the Empire with so long and honorable a public service to his credit. The captain is still in the enjoyment of good health, his step is as springy as it ever was, his eyesight as keen, and his memory is as clear as a bell. The captain's many friends sincerely hope that the declining years of his long and useful life may be made happy by a substantial allowance from the Dominion treasury.

HIS MILITARY RECORD.
Following is a brief summary of the service and duties to the Empire performed by Captain McKenzie, as compiled by himself:
Fredericton, N. B., Can., Aug. 29, 1877.
1878—Born in Her Majesty's 94th Regiment.

1880—Was present among the school children of the regiment who sang God Save the Queen on Her Majesty's visit to Chatham, England, just after her marriage. She acknowledged the same by rising from her seat in the state carriage.
1881—Enlisted in H. M. 64th Regiment as a boy and performed on the flute, drum and bugle as a duty.

1880—Proceeded to India with my Regiment and performed the duty of field bugler to the generals for a number of years.
1881—Appointed drill corporal to the regiment with extra pay.
1882—Appointed drill sergeant with further increase of pay.
1883—Present with force during the Persian campaign as field bugler to General Stalker, Sir James Outram and Sir Henry Havelock, also acted as a D. C. at the battle of the Trenches. Brigadier James Stopford fell into my arms at the Dutch Fort, Ikashir, Persia, shot in the heart. Sir James Outram presented me with a watch and chain before the massacre of the women and children by the fend, Nana Sahib.

First Relief of Lucknow—Crossed the River Ganges for Lucknow four different times with Havelock, but each time failed to arrive and await arrival of Outram with reinforcements, then the force advanced on Lucknow. When the force was a distance of 10 miles from Lucknow, the horse was shot under me. I delivered the order, but had to run to the rear, and as I could not get back, I was in accordance with the general's orders, went with the guard into the Alma Bagh (Queen's Palace). Sir James Outram considered this act alone entitled me to the V. C.

During the time at Alma Bagh, nearly three months, the enemy attacked us frequently, and our little force had many casualties.
Second Relief of Lucknow—On arrival of Sir Colin Campbell (Lord Clyde) at Alma Bagh I was chosen his field bugler as I was such at the second or final relief. Lord Roberts was on his staff here, and after a week's heavy fighting, the relief was gained, but Sir Henry Havelock died and was buried at Alma Bagh, and as the enemy had re-taken Cawnpore, Sir Colin Campbell, with most of the force (leaving the balance with Sir James Outram at Alma Bagh), returned to Cawnpore and again captured that city. I remained with Sir Colin Campbell until the end of the campaign. History describes the different battles.

Engagements—Present at twenty-two general battles and many skirmishes with the enemy during over two years' war.
Medals—In possession of medals and clasps for Persia-Indian mutiny, with clasp for relief of Lucknow; for meritorious service and medal for Fenian scare, 1868, Canada.
1881, Trent Affair—Although performing the duty of sergeant-major in my Regiment, I volunteered for service in Canada as drill instructor, and after a severe test before a board of officers, consisting of the general officer commanding and two other staff officers as to my qualifications, etc., received a certificate from the general that I was qualified to fill any position. Was ordered by the authorities at Horse Guards to New Brunswick as drill instructor to the militia.

1882—Appointed militia storekeeper by the commander-in-chief, Hon. A. H. Gordon, under the new militia act, and established the first militia store in New Brunswick. Remained solely in charge of store until a superintendent was appointed in accordance with amendments to Militia Act, 1885, and myself gazetted to assistant storekeeper. I did both duties, drill instructor and storekeeper, but as I had not received my discharge from H. M. service, was not eligible for the position of superintendent of stores. The governor and authorities regretted this, as the assistant general informed me. Consequently my pay was increased forty cents per diem.

1885-86—Performed the duty of quarter master each year to the militia camps in New Brunswick, each for twenty-eight days, and instructed in drill, etc., when my duty as quarter master did not interfere. After these camps returned to my duty as instructor for 62nd battalion and assistant storekeeper. Also performed the duty of quarter master and instructor at all rifle matches held in New Brunswick from 1882 to 1889.
1887—After discharge from H. M. service at two shillings per day pension, and under the Dominion Militia Act was gazetted ensign, lieutenant and adjutant captain and drill instructor in the 62nd Battalion, St. John.
1888—Was chosen by the adjutant general as adjutant and quarter mas-
