Special Notice

No solutions will be accepted unless accompanied by payments on account of new or renewal subscriptions.

Contestants who happen to send in a solution and forget to enclose the money must repeat their solution in the later letter in which their money is enclosed.

Special Conditions

While the winning of a prize does not depend upon the time the solution is registered, the puzzle is more or less elusive and the best thing to do is to begin counting at once. Send in your solution, and if later on you find you have made a mistake, send in another. There is no limit to the number of different solutions that may be registered.

All those entering the contest will, as a condition and consideration, be required to abide by the ruling of the contest manager. In the event of any questions arising the puzzle manager, if he deems it wise, may appoint a committee to assist him in deciding them, and those entering the contest do so with the understanding that such decisions will be final.

Close of the Contest

THIS CONTEST WILL CLOSE ON SATURDAY
NOVEMBER 8th.

Always use the blank coupon form printed herewith. Read this blank carefully and fill out every portion of it. It is absolutely necessary that attention be paid to all the questions on this blank for which answers are desired in order that there be no confusion in sending out The Standard to new subscribers or in crediting payments on old subscriptions. Write the names and addresses plainly.

The General Scheme of the Contest

This contest is simple and contains no catch or trick of any sort. It is conducted by The Standard for the purpose of securing new subscriptions and making collections on renewals. At the same time it offers to new and old subscribers an opportunity by which, through the exercise of their brains and a little patience, they may earn generous amounts of money.

With this announcement there appears a chart containing a number of figures from 2 to 9. There are no higher numbers than 9—that is there are no double numbers. The puzzle is to add together all these numbers and send in to The Standard the amount you find as the total. It is a simple question in addition.

There will no doubt be a number of correct answers—perhaps a large number. If it should happen that more than 120 persons find the correct answer, then a second puzzle will be given which will be open only to those whose solutions of the present puzzle are correct. This second puzzle will be solely for the purpose of deciding ties. If there are less than 120 correct solutions to the present puzzle prizes will be awarded to those who send in the correct solutions and those nearest correct until the total number of 120 prizes have been awarded. In this event the first prize will be given to the one whose solution bears the earliest post mark or hour of receipt if delivered at The Standard office personally.

Whatever amounts of money may be sent in will be credited on one continuous subscription to The Standard unless otherwise requested by the competitor, with this exception, that not more than $3.00 will be credited on a single subscription to The Semi-Weekly Standard. Anyone sending more than $3.00 will be given The Daily Standard.

Any amount from $1.00 up to $6.00 may be sent with each solution and all such amounts will be credited on the subscriptions as they are received. No solutions not accompanied by money will be accepted and if competitors forget to enclose a payment with a solution they must send a copy of their solution later when sending their money.

The prizes have been arranged on a dividend basis and the amount to be won by any successful competitor depends very largely on the amount of the payment made on subscription account with the winning solution. For instance if a competitor encloses $1.00 with any one solution and this solution wins the first prize, the amount of that prize will be $125.00. If the competitor sends $2.00 with the winning solution the amount of the prize will be $150.00, and so on, so that a payment of $6.00 with the winning solution will mean a first prize of $250.00.

What's the Total of These Figures?

Address all enquiries, solutions, remittances, etc. to "The Puzzle Editor"—The Standard, St. John, N. B. Remit by Express Order or Post Office Order or by Registered Letter. Send in your solution early as in case there are no ties, the prizes will be awarded according to the time the solutions are received.

On the opposite side of this announcement will be found fuller particulars as to how solutions are to be submitted and prizes awarded. There is also printed another chart of the puzzle so that anyone who may happen to spoil the first one attempted will have another copy at hand.
