Mayflower Won From L. A. Dunton

Boston Craft Was Eight and Half Hours Ahead of Gloucester Vessel in Race.

Canoe, N. S., May 5.—Defeating the Gloucester schooner L. A. Dunton by approximately eight and a half hours in a race of two hundred and fifty odd miles from Sheshburne to this port, the Boston schooner Mayflower arrived here today.

Behaved Well.
"Oh, she not so very bad," said Captain Larkin, master of the Mayflower, when asked how his vessel behaved on the run along the Nova Scotia coast from Sheshburne. We sailed from Sheshburne for Canoe and we intended to get there as fast as we could. We made pretty fair time—thirty-eight hours from Sheshburne harbor to Canoe light," he added. "We had moderate northerly winds most of the way."

Dunton Was Passed.
The Mayflower sailed from Sheshburne a half an hour after the L. A. Dunton on Tuesday afternoon, and she beat the Boston boat west of the Gloucester, was shortly after midnight on Tuesday night. The crew could make out the Dunton's red and green blinkers for a short while and then they lost her.

Another Race.
Captain Hagen of the Gloucester is not yet satisfied that the Mayflower is a faster craft and today was changing the trim of his vessel, hoping to have her ready to meet with the Mayflower tomorrow morning for the Magdalenas.

That the bacteria which cause disease have been present in the world for millions of years is proved by the finding of fossil bones which show evidence that the long extinct animals to whom the bones belonged suffered from bone and joint inflammations of exactly the same character as those from which men suffer today.

Dempsey's Novel Training Idea

Champion Added Equestrian Recreation to His Daily Routine at Long Hill.

New York, May 5.—Equestrian recreation was added today to the daily routine of Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, in his preparation for work at the Long Hill farm at Long Hill, N. J. The champion still is engaged in light training preliminary to the arduous campaign which he will enter probably before the end of the week. A jaunt over nearby roads about Summit, N. J., in the morning, about an hour's gymnasium work in the early afternoon, and a session in the saddle comprised Dempsey's day.

The champion, after his morning road work, exercised in the gymnasium with the dumb bells, pulleys, weights, and indulged in some floor work and calisthenics. In addition, he let himself loose in a session of shadow boxing. Then Dempsey and Joe Benjamin, California lightweight, sparred several fast rounds, and the champion, after a cooling shower, went horseback riding with Benjamin.

Dempsey's camp retinue, which now includes Benjamin and Jimmy Darcy, a Portland welterweight, will be increased by one tomorrow, Alex Trombidas, Portland middleweight, who is regarded as a likely successor to the champion by Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, will join the heavyweight champion and will assist in testing Dempsey in sparring matches.

Manager Kearns was in Atlantic City all day, ostensibly arranging for the champion's permanent training camp in the New Jersey resort city. It is planned to shift camps Friday.

Promoter Tex Rickard spent a comparatively idle day today. All he did was open a batch of mail, which had attained a height of more than a foot, and carefully parse a shower of cheques which fell therefrom. When the pastime became monotonous, Rickard turned the mail over to his secretary, Frank Contry, and that young man immediately set to work entering the applications and cheques received in alphabetical order in Rickard's "little black book."

Golfers Coached For Ocean Voyage

D. Scott Chisholm, 13 Up on Father Neptune, Offers His Recipe Free.

D. Scott Chisholm, secretary of the Southern California Professional Golfers' Association and who conducts a "Nineteenth Hole" column in the Los Angeles Express, pays us the compliment of writing all the way across the continent to inquire how in our opinion "Dr. Paul Hunter" will stand the Old Country weather.

We are inclined to think that with an umbrella, a mackintosh, a sou'wester and a pair of rubber boots, not to mention a bottle of his own cough mixture, a sufficient supply of aspirin, four or five porous plasters, half a dozen bottles of liniment, a pair of goggles to keep the wind and sand out of his eyes, and maybe a few other odds and ends Dr. Paul should stand the rigors of the British climate as well as any.

But if, instead of being anxious about Hunter's weather resisting qualities, Chisholm is trying to draw an opinion as to what are the California chances of winning the British championship, we welcome to put ourselves on record. Paul by the looks of things has perhaps the biggest championship job of his career on his hands, with both the American and British stars hating his path to glory. And if, as has been reported, he is down in that half mile of the draw in which Evans, Guimet and Jones also find themselves, he has a task of course, becomes still more formidable.

Clerical Bowling League Banquet

Forty-Three Members and Guests Dined at Bond's Presentation of Prizes.

Forty-three members of the Clerical Bowling League with several guests had a most delightful banquet last evening at Bond's restaurant. Frank Ashe presided and after enjoying the excellent menu provided, the presentation of prizes was during the season took place. A number of good addresses were made by those present.

Presentation of Prizes.
H. R. McLeellan presented the first prize to the Dominion Rubber Store team. The second prize won by Waterville & Rising team was presented by Robert McBride, while the third prize, won by the Railway Mail Clerks was presented by E. L. Rising. For the high three string won by John O'Connor, Peniston Star presented the prize. The high single won by William Riley was presented by Joe Kennedy. The high average for the season won by John Coughlan, was presented by William Reilly. The high average in the first series was won by Joe Leeman, the high average in the second series by John Coughlan. These prizes were presented by Ray Hanson.

Proposed Arena.
In his address H. R. McLeellan dwelt upon the hopeful prospects for a new arena for St. John, and congratulated the League upon their successful season and the interest they are taking in sport.

The programme included: Vocal solo, Ernest Tull; reading, Robert McBride; vocal solo, E. C. Girvan; piano solo, T. C. Cochrane. Mr. Cochrane acted as accompanist for the evening. With songs, choruses and social intercourse the evening passed very pleasantly and the guests parted hoping for another successful season next year.

ROTHSAY CORPS TENTH.
The result of the Canada Rifle League match have been received by Lieut-Colonel A. B. Snow. They show that the team from Calgary High School leads the competition with an average of 86.6. Three other Calgary teams followed closely while Rothsay Collegiate School comes tenth, with an average of 81.45. Colonel Snow considers that the latter have done very well to have obtained such a high average.

The prehistoric monument of great upright stones at Stonehenge, England, is being excavated and evidence has been found of a still earlier series of monumental stones, which were removed by the prehistoric builders who erected the present stones. The purpose of these two successive monuments and the kind of people who erected them remain unknown. In the case of the more recent series evidence has been found that the stones which lie horizontally along the tops of the upright ones were fitted into mortises and lowered into place, implying that the primitive people who erected them possessed some equivalent for ropes and at least a sufficient knowledge of engineering methods to permit the raising and lowering of stones weighing several tons.

WINTER SHUTDOWN ADDS TO TROUBLES Costs of Building So High That Little is Being Done at Present.

Ottawa, May 5.—Continuation of the National Joint Conference Board was recommended to the conference of Canadian Construction and Building Industries when the report of that special committee on the plan of joint industrial councils, and submitted a draft constitution to govern such councils.

House Situation Critical.
J. M. Pigott, Hamilton (employers) reporting on conditions in the industry, said that the situation was serious. He pointed out that the industry was in a state of depression, and that the cost of building was so high that little was being done at present.

Too Dear to Build.
There was a disinclination on the part of the public to build under present prices. A lower level must be reached and costs must be stabilized at that lower level. There had been 11,117 houses built in Canada during 1920. In the same year there were 70,000 marriages. Immigrants numbered 117,336, of whom probably 50 per cent were married, making a further requirement of 200,000 houses. J. R. Ellis, said Mr. Pigott, had estimated Ontario's house shortage at 20,000. The total house shortage for 1920 alone was 78,000.

Needling 158,000 Houses.
Canada could do with 158,000 new houses today. Many people were living in dwellings unfit for habitation; others were in small apartments where they could and would afford comfortable homes if these houses were available. The condition has now become so serious that governments throughout the dominion should accept a greater share of the responsibility and seek a means of remedying them. They could also regulate public works.

Seasonal occupation was stated to be partly responsible for the high building costs, and it was recommended that the winter months be kept working on during the slack periods in the industry, to keep the work going ahead.

Winter Shut Down.
John Bruce, Toronto (Labor), said the committee had been unable to deal with the unemployment problem. This was enhanced by the shut-down of the building industry during the winter. If this one of the basic industries were kept working the unemployment problem would be in some measure relieved.

Deadlock on Wages.
A deadlock on the question of declaring that a decrease in wages was needed in the building industry, came at tonight's meeting. As a result of that, and the debate which developed when labor and employers' groups brought in separate resolutions from committees, the conference was unable to conclude its work tonight.

Perley L. Smith Was Suspended

National Trotting Assn. Gives Him Hoist for Campaigning a Ringer Wedgewood.

Fredrickton, N. B., May 5.—Perley L. Smith was suspended by the National Trotting Association as a result of the campaign a few years ago in Maine of Wedgewood, a ringer. Wedgewood won many races, being started as a green pacer when in reality he had a fast mark. He was finally sold to parties in Acrostook county and campaigned by them but has generally earned more protest from drivers of other horses.

His winnings, which were thus held up, amounted to a substantial sum and the Board of Review also ordered that before those who had campaigned him could get back into good standing all the winnings of the horse must be refunded. The local men acquiesced and evidently did too with the result that the reinstatement of Smith became possible.

Race Driver Who Is A Model Man.
By T. E. "Pop" Myers.
Indianapolis, May 5.—One can hardly imagine a race driver being very religious, yet you have to look no farther than Ralph Mulford to get an example.

Mulford, who is entered in the 500-mile dash for glory and gold at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway on Monday, May 30th, does not smoke, chew, or drink. He says "I'll smoke in the hereafter" but if one is to judge from the clean, wholesome life that Ralph leads, it would suggest by comparison that a number of people we know will not only smoke, but burn, in the hereafter.

His wife always attends the race meets in which he competes and whenever he is in the stands to give his dad all the encouragement he can and to hear him yell one would be lead to believe that his duty hours in every time he comes down the straightaway.

Ralph was asked if he was interested in music, this was his reply: "Music, I should say so, but the most wonderful music in all the world is the sustained exhaust of a motor hitting perfect on all cylinders."

He says his ambition when he was a boy was to fly through the air and be a smart man. "He says I have accomplished flying through the air, but as to being a smart man, I am still to talk about the coming 500-mile race."

Dempsey Adds Two Sparring Partners

Champion is Training at Freddie Welsh's Farm—Matters Regarding the Referee.

Summit, N. J., May 5.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, who is engaging in light training at Freddie Welsh's farm near here, for his bout July 2, with Georges Carpentier, has added two sparring partners to his camp. It was announced today.

The new arrivals are Alex. Trembidas, Portland, Ore., middleweight, and Steve Latzo, Scranton, Pa., mid-heavyweight. Dempsey has displayed great interest in Welsh's effort to come back into the ring and has referred the bouts of the last two nights in which the former lightweight title holder was victorious.

Reveille sounds for Dempsey at day-break and he has been doing road work with Joe Benjamin, Pacific Coast lightweight. It was reported today that Jack Kearns, the champion's manager, has arranged details at the Dempsey camp in Atlantic City and that Dempsey would go there probably tomorrow.

Tex Rickard, promoter of the bout, when questioned yesterday regarding the referee said there are many good men available in New Jersey. Principals in the bout, under terms of the contract, must select the third man in the ring.

Another Victory For Tennis Star.
London, May 5.—Baslerin, the British tennis star, who successfully defended the singles championship today won another court victory.

With W. Renshaw of the Manchester Club, he won his way to the semi-official of the open doubles inter-club competition.

The British pair defeated C. S. Cutting and C. E. Leonard, the United States players in easy fashion, the score 6-3, 6-2.

BOSTON CAPTURED WRESTLING MATCH.
Halifax, N. S., May 5.—Joe Boston, who has a belt emblematic of the featherweight championship of Great Britain, defeated Chalmers Bigney, the Imperoyal strong man, in an hour's wrestling in their match here last night, securing the only fall in 28 minutes.

Montreal, May 5.—Grand Trunk Railway earnings for the period ending April 30 were $2,241,516, an increase of $157,115 over the same period of 1920.
