

SUCCESS STILL FOR SUSSEX FAIR

Attendance Continues Good at Kings County Exhibition

JUDGING COMPLETED

suits in Cattle and Other Classes—Green Horse Race Friday Looked For With Interest—Fair to Close Saturday.

Success, Sept. 13—As the exhibition draws to a close and indications point to the result showing one of the most successful exhibitions that Sussex has yet had. The judging was completed today.

The attraction of the day was the judging of the horses and a big crowd flocked to the race course for the purpose of having a look at the fine selection of steeds. The day was all that could be desired, though a slight wind caused the dust to fly somewhat.

Tomorrow the attraction will be a race for green horses and it is being eagerly looked forward to by the owners of the ordinary roadsters. Saturday will see the end of the show and it is hoped that the attendance will hold good for it.
