Waterloo was honored yesterday by the return of two of her estimable young ladies, who have seen service overseas in the person of Miss Bertha Devitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Menno Devitt, who arrived home in the afternoon, and Miss Hazel Dawson, who arrived home last night. Both young ladies were accorded enthusiastic receptions.

Lieut. Dawson, enlisted over three years ago and the greater part of her time overseas has been spent in France near Paris. Like all returned heroes who have done their bit, Lieut. Dawson is the guest of Mr. W.E. and Miss Butler, King St. and her many friends

Impressive Services For a Late Citizen

Mr. Melville Snyder Laid to Rest. Impressive tribute to the late Melville Snyder who lost his life at the Dominion Tire plant was paid at the funeral yesterday afternoon. Many friends and acquaintances were present and offered tribute to the deceased and sympathy to the family. Words of consolation and eulogistic references to the deceased were also uttered by the officiating minister and assisting clergymen. Many beautiful floral emblems also conveyed the sympathy of friends.

A short service was held at the residence at 76 Mansion street, which was conducted by Rev. Dr. Spierling. From the residence the cortege proceeded via motor to Bloomingdale where burial took place in the Mennonite Cemetery. Before the casket with the remains was placed into the grave an opportunity to view the body was afforded for the last time and many friends passed the remains with a tearful eye.

The father, it might be stated, and the babe born to the mother last Monday, were in one casket and laid away together.

In the Mennonite Church at Bloomingdale, a service followed after the burial. Rev. Dr. Spierling delivered an impressive and inspiring sermon on Amos 3: 6: "Shall there be evil in a city and the Lord has not done it?"

Rev. Mr. Plant spoke in English and Rev. Mr. Martin offered prayer. The pallbearers were relatives and friends of the deceased. Among the attendants were the parents, brothers and sisters of the late Mr. Snyder and of Mrs. Snyder, many friends and acquaintances, Mr. E.C. Kabel, and other associates of the Dominion Tire plant.
