

To Mgr The Civilian,
Box 848, Ottawa, Can.

Dear Sir:—

I take great pleasure in sending remittance for The Civilian for another year. I certainly don't want to miss a number of it, and I do hope the subscribers will pay up so we can have it regularly. I am willing to pay any increase in subscription price to keep it going and surely the Civil Service won't let the best friend its got die for lack of funds. I would like to join No. 66. Affiliation with labor is our only salvation to keep from going back into the wilderness of Patronage again and I believe The Civilian is our Moses to lead us to the promised land of equal privileges for all and special privileges for none. I saw where Sir Sam Hughes advocates going back to patronage again. I don't expect any thing different from a professional politician. God save The Civilian.

Yours very sincerely,

D. I. W. McLAUGHLIN,
Canada Customs.

Generally speaking, a woman is — generally speaking.

A widow and her needs are never parted.

While the man is thinking I wonder if I dare, the woman is thinking "I wonder why he doesn't."

If woman makes all the trouble in life, its woman who makes life worth all the trouble.

In marriage he who hesitates is bossed.
