

The Smellegraph Journal

The Smellegraph Journal is printed in The Precise Middle of the Road every week except Sundays (which our best days) by the New Brunswick Flasco Company, Limited.

Subscription Rates: Canadian residents $10.00 per year. There not available by carrier or dealer. I can't be the dollars British Empire $10.00 per issue.

Unauthorized at second class mail. Liberal Post Office Department, Ottawa. Member of Audit Bureau of Circulation.

SIN YAWN, N.B. DECEMBER 2

Up to France

Something in the way of a "grand old debate by grand old men over some grand old French champagne" is how the Chatham Commercial World Paris correspondent describes the issue now before the French Cabinet, and perhaps soon and perhaps never before the French Parliament.

Male and Female

Women love to be beaten. That is what all the alleged experts on the subject continue to state. This is true to a certain extent.

TOUGHY TRIX

DEAR MISS TRIX: I'm a college freshman. My English teacher and I don't get along and, although I've been to the office to see if I could have my class changed, nothing has been done.

Current Comment

St. John's Boozeland: — Few Newfoundlanders with a dollar are willing to sink it into a genuine tourist house.

Off the Wagon

DEAR EDITOR: I feel that you have done me a foul blow by stooping to infer that I would do such a naughty thing. I just couldn't.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

DEAR EDITOR: It has been brought to my attention that a certain amount of alcoholic beverages have been consumed in the Journal office of late.
