

York swimmers sink

By M. O'BRIEN

The York swim team lost their opening meet against Guelph, but coach Ryszard Buwaj still expects "a good year."

York was out-pointed 111-73 by the Guelph Gryphons. The men's team was narrowly edged 49-43, while the Yeowomen were defeated 69-30.

Buwaj, coaching at his first university meet, was not discouraged by his team's showing. He described the result as "a great shock and motivator" for the team.

"We displayed a lot of cooperation and enthusiasm. There is a great atmosphere among the team members," said Buwaj.

Co-captains Peter Darvas and Adrienne Sutton echoed Buwaj's comments. "For the first time the men are really showing some depth, especially in the butterfly and breast stroke," said Darvas. "The team was tired from the training schedule and this was reflected in the results."

Sutton agreed with Darvas and felt that the score did not reflect the true result. Though surprised at Guelph's strong showing, Sutton emphasized that the results are not ranked until the Ontario (OUAA and OWIAA) championships. "We aiming to peak in February at the Ontario finals," he said.

The team did well in a number of events. Cheryl Stickley inspired the Yeowomen with a win in the 50m freestyle, while rookie Deb Jansen chipped in with a first in the 200m free. Darvas captured first place in both the 100m butterfly and backstroke. Dean Blaser raced home to win the 100m breaststroke and the men rallied to win the 4x50 relay, handily beating Guelph by several seconds.

Coach Buwaj's fresh approach and a new work ethic has the team training harder, which should result in improved performances.

York's next swim meet is this Friday at 7 p.m. against Laurentian. Alex Baumann, double gold medalist at the '84 Olympics, will be making his coaching debut with Laurentian. A presentation will be made at the meet awarding Baumann for his contribution to university swimming.

The Physical Education Student Organization (PESO) will host a reception for Alex Baumann on Friday at 4:30 p.m. at Bethune Gallery.

ANTICIPATION: Yeowoman Tracey Tammela returns serve.

Tennis Women ousted

By SUSAN VANSTONE

The tennis Yeowomen lost to Waterloo 5-4, and to U of T 6-3 last weekend at the National Tennis Centre, leaving the team with 45 points — an eight-point improvement over last season.

The team went into the weekend in fifth place, having shutout Brock, Laurier, and Guelph, as well as seven and three point efforts against Windsor and McMaster. However, because of Waterloo and U of T losses, they wound up the season in 6th place — one position better than last year.

Tracey Tammela, the third-ranked Yeowoman, played her best match of the season last weekend, defeating U of T's Sofie Koulas 6-0, 3-6, 6-2, and earned raves from her coach.

Coach Eric Bojesen said his team improved 100 per cent from last year, thanks to stronger and more experienced players. His original goal was a fourth place finish, which would have been possible except for the team's injuries — including knee problems with three players, and Christine Smith's torn ankle ligaments. Bojesen added that the team had no hope of placing players at the individual championships, as top positions were locked up by nationally ranked players from Queen's, Western, U of T, and Waterloo.

The Yeowomen's number two player, Michal Rozin, who played 2-2 last weekend, noted some faults in the scheduling of the tournaments.

"In Waterloo, I played all four matches in one day. As soon as I came off a match, I was into another. I played for six hours straight." Rozin also complained about the university leagues not playing advantage points. "It's awful. There should be a deuce — this is supposed to be tournament play. And they only give you two or three balls, so we're running around the whole time."

Rozin had only praise for the York team. "At first, it was nerve-racking, but Eric and the girls supported me. We psych each other up for matches. It would have been great to make the play-offs, but I'm looking forward to next year. I have to work on my consistency."

Bojesen cited spirit and support as team assets. He is confident about next season.

"All the players will return, so we'll know what to build on. We'll shoot for improvement." He was pleased with the National Tennis Centre's financial support — free practice time and free memberships for the team.

The Yeowomen will practice weekly and play exhibition matches until February or, as Bojesen says, "as long as there's a commitment from the girls."

The York squad consists of Christine Smith, Michal Rozin, Tracey Tammela, Rhian Lee, Sandra Cimetta, Susan Dodds, Janice Beckenstein, and spare Jackie Clifford.

Badminton at York

By INDIGO MONTROYA

The world's best junior badminton players will play at York this Sunday.

The Chinese National Junior Team, the world champions, will end its Canadian tour with a series of exhibition matches against top Canadian players at Tait McKenzie gym on Sunday, October 30, starting at 1 p.m. The matches are scheduled to wind up about 5 p.m.

"The matches will demonstrate the speed and power of top-flight badminton," commented Sean Squires of the Ontario Badminton

Association, which is organizing the visit with the help of the York University varsity badminton and tennis team.

Among the Canadian players will be Bryan Blanchard, the 1987-88 Canadian Grand Prix Winner, and Mike Butler, three-time Canadian champion and a member of the Canadian team that played at the Seoul Olympics.

Tickets will be on sale between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m., October 25 through 28 in Central Square and in the lobby of Norman Bethune College. Advance sale tickets are $2; admission at the door, $3.

WINTERS COLLEGE COUNCIL FINANCIAL STATEMENTS APRIL 30, 1988

ALL STATEMENTS MAY BE EXAMINED AT THE WINTERS COLLEGE COUNCIL OFFICE AT 102 WINTERS COLLEGE

AUDITOR'S REPORT

To Winters College Council:

I have examined the balance sheet of Winters College Council as at April 30, 1988 and the statements of revenue and expense, accumulated surplus and changes in financial position for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Council as at April 30, 1988 and the results of its operations and the changes in its financial position for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles appropriate for non-profit organizations applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.
