

A- My brother.

Q- How old is he?

A- Twenty-one, sir.

Q- Is he in the Army?

A- No, sir.

Q- Has he been in the Army?

A- No, sir, he has rejection papers.

Q- Is he working?

A- Yes, sir, only making $14 a week, sir.

Q- Why did you have to stay home?

A- To help them out.

Q- Had they been getting along on the $14 before?

A- Not very good.

Q- Are they getting any assignment of pay from you?

A- Yes, sir.

Q- How much?

A- $20.

Q- Are they getting any allowance on top of that?

A- No, sir.

Q- You stayed home to make extra money?

A- Yes, sir.

Q- How long were you figuring on staying?

A- Just six weeks, sir.

Q- In other words, during that time the draft would pull out?

A- No, sir. I was figuring on coming back on time to get on the draft.

Q- How long did you figure it would be before it would pull out?
