

Flowers to compare with Great Willow-herb are Fuchsia and Evening Primrose. Either of these will serve as the type if Willow-herb cannot be obtained.

CHAPTER VI.

EXAMINATION OF COMMON ROSACEOUS PLANTS—PRAIRIE ROSE—STRAWBERRY.

48. Prairie Rose. For this lesson any wild Rose may be used. Count the sepals, and observe their cohesion below to form a calyx-tube. The calyx is therefore gamosepalous.

Fig. 43.

Fig. 43.—Flower, buds, and leaves of Prairie Rose