

At what age do Farmers Retire?

A farmer retires when ill health compels him to do so, or when he has enough money to keep him for the rest of his days.

Farmers are much like other men. In the past they have spent freely as they have earned and old age has found most of them without the money upon which to retire.

But the farmer of today—if he is wise—does not leave the matter of his independence in old age to chance. By investing a few dollars each year in an Endowment Insurance he builds up a fund to keep him in comfort when he is old, or to care for his family should death claim him early.

For the Business Man on the Farm

The desk pictured above—the "Efficiency Desk" will do for you, in your record-keeping, what the automobile and the modern tractor have done in the field of actual farm development.

In it you can keep, indexed for instant reference, your Government reports, your market prices on produce for use in basing future prices, and your clippings from farm papers on interesting subjects.

Your accounts, taxbills, insurance papers—everything fits into it—and right at your fingers' ends. You've probably been looking for something like this before—a desk and a record-keeping convenience combined. Here it is to suit your needs exactly—and at the price of a desk alone.

Take a pencil now and write a postal to our nearest branch for descriptive folder and price.
