VANCOUVER FIRE LOSS.
 The fire losses at Vancouver, according to the report of the fire chief, were very light in the year just closed. He asks that the fire telephone system shall be put on a different basis, and recommends some additions to the equipment to keep pace with the city's needs. The electric wiring of the city hall has been ordered to be put in a safe condition.
 The City Electrician's annual report showed that 4,854 permits for electrical work had been issued, and 2,408 permits for connection granted. The number of street lights now burning in the city was 682, of which 152 were installed during the year. He suggested that for 1908 all wiring work should be done in conduits, as it would greatly decrease fire risks. When Ald. Hepburn pointed out that this would enormously increase the cost of wiring, Mr. McCulloch replied it would save in fire risks, and save in other ways.
