The Welcome Man.

There's a man in the world who is never turned down, wherever he chances to stray; he gets the glad hand in the populous town, or out where the farmers make hay; he's greeted with pleasure on deserts of sand, and deep in the aisles of the woods; wherever he goes there's the welcoming hand—he's

The Man Who Delivers the Goods. The failures of life sit around and complain; the gods haven't treated them white; they've lost their umbrellas when ever there's rain, and they haven't their lanterns at night; men tire of the failures who fill with their sighs the air of their own neighborhoods; there's a man who is greeted with love-lighted eyes—he's

The Man Who Delivers the Goods. One fellow is lazy and watches the clock, and waits for the whistle to blow; and one has a hammer, with which he will knock, and one tells a story of woe; and one, if requested to travel a mile, will measure the perches and rods; but one does his stunt with a whistle or smile—he's

The Man Who Delivers the Goods. One man is afraid that he'll labor too hard—the world isn't yearning for such; and one man is ever alert, on his guard, lest he put in a minute too much; and one has a grouch or a temper that's bad, and one is a creature of moods; and one is hey for the joyous and rollicking lad—for The One Who Delivers the Goods!—Walt Mason.

Indian Perished On The Ice.

Joe Sandy, an Indian, who resides with his family of a wife and seven children at the Indian village above Go Home Bay, perished from exposure upon the ice about seven miles from his home a few nights ago. Along with another man by the name of Isaacs they set out a couple of days previous for Penetang over the ice with a team of dogs and a sleigh for supplies. The ice was in fine condition and the going good. They had no difficulty in reaching Penetang, where they remained until the following day. All went well until they reached a point above Go Home Bay where, due to a change in the wind, the ice had broken up since they had passed over it on the way down. It was about 8 o'clock at night when they reached that point. Sandy and the dogs with the sleigh went down. Isaacs, who was skating, managed to drag them out, but Sandy died of shock almost immediately. Isaacs proceeded to the nearest settler's home for assistance but as he found no one at home he had to continue his journey to the Indian village. The body of Sandy was recovered in the morning. The unfortunate man was well known in Honey Harbor district and for years had acted as guide for the tourists during the summer.

Frozen To Death.

The great storm of last Saturday and Sunday was the cause of the tragic death of Mr. L. Schell, who is a man of about seventy years of age, and who resides with a sister at Port Elgin, has been engaged this winter in cutting wood for Mr. Snyder in what was formerly known as Coulter's bush, between Southampton and Port Elgin. He had a shanty in the bush where he lived during the week, going home for Sunday. When big storm broke last Saturday it was thought he would remain in the shack over Sunday, as he had supplies of food enough to last a couple of weeks. Alarm was felt, however, on Monday, when Mr. Snyder found he was not at the shack. At noon on Wednesday Mr. Bruce McKay was walking along the railway track between here and Port Elgin, when he found the body near the track. The old man apparently had his back to the storm when he was overcome, and had fallen backward. He had a basket on his arm and his mitts were near him. The remains were taken to the morgue at Port Elgin—Southampton Beacon.

May Substitute.

Though there is no excess provision in the military service act for drafted men to escape service by providing a substitute, Chief Justice R. M. Meredith, considering the appeal in the case of a Sarnia blank clerk, suggests that substitution might be a term which tribunals might exact in allowing exemption to an Al man.

"It is said," he remarked, "that substitution is not in accord with the military service enactments of this country. This is quite inaccurate. Express power is given to the tribunals to attach any reasonable condition to exemption; and what could be more reasonable than the condition that the man who is exempted and can procure a substitute, should do so. There are tens of thousands of men just under the arbitrary age of twenty. Why should they be excluded?"

A letter from the front to Mrs. Weber of Normanby township, conveyed the news that her son, Pte. George Weber had been killed in action. She had no official intimation concerning his death.

OUR BOYS IN EUROPE AND HOME PROTECTION

The men on the firing line represent the pick of our country's youth. Many were rejected because of physical deficiency. Many times the kidneys were to blame.

If we wish to prevent old age coming on too soon, or if we want to increase our chances for a long life, Dr. Pierce of the Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., says that you should drink plenty of water daily between meals. Then procure at a drug store, Anuric (double strength). This "An-uric" drives the uric acid out and cures backache and rheumatism.

If we wish to keep our kidneys in the best condition a diet of milk and vegetables, with only little meat once a day, is the most suitable. Drink plenty of pure water, take Anuric three times a day for a month.

Send Dr. Pierce 10c for trial pkg. Anuric—many times more potent than lithia, eliminates uric acid as hot water melts sugar. A short trial will convince you.

Preston, Ont.—"I am pleased to express my experience with Anuric. I have been troubled with rheumatism in right limb and hand for several years, and lately in left shoulder. The only way I could lie was on my back. I had great difficulty to sit down and more to get up. Lately I had a very severe pain in my back. I have taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery several times with the most satisfactory results, so I concluded to give his Anuric Tablets a trial. The pain in limb and shoulder has stopped entirely and in right hand it is very slight and getting less all the time. I can now sit or lie in any position I wish without discomfort or pain. I recommended the Anuric Tablets to two parties and they both claim decided improvement. I certainly will recommend them to any one troubled with the kidneys; there is nothing nearly so good; I tried them all."—GEORGE BOOS, cor. Duke and Waterloo.

Not Worth Biting.

During a hot march in Palestine a sturdy Scotch soldier, six feet in height and proportionately broad, found himself side by side with a bumptious little Englishman, who was five feet nothing.

It was a hot day and the Scot was greatly troubled with the midges. They buzzed around him all the time, while the little Englishman seemed to be immune.

"The midges don't trouble me!" said the little man triumphantly. "I wonder why?"

The Scot looked down from his superior height.

"I daur say," he replied, "it's because they havena' noticed ye yet!"

Bankers vs. the Town

The great night game when the two contending teams in the Midway hockey world were to line up in Saucers' Arena to decide which side was to win the laurels of the night.

At 7.30 o'clock the crowds were wending their way to the arena where the arrow of fate was to be sped and at 7.30 o'clock when referee Kunkel's gong sounded pandemonium reigned supreme for a few moments.

This is what tore over the wires from the rink to the Gazette office:

Weiler seized the rubber at the face off and passed to Schmidt who after quite a scrimmage managed to bat the puck past Fink, more by accident than design. Kunkel secured the puck at second face off and passed to Doering, who came down in one of his Tom Taylor pushes and after eluding the Town defence passed to Kunkel, who scored the first goal for the bankers. Score 1-1.

At this point the ladies nearly tore down the rink with their shouts. For the next few minutes the game was very evenly contested, both sides working hard. Young got the puck on a pass from Welk and came down in one of his lightning rushes as he was wont to do when he played with the bank at Stratford.

Young played a good game and worked hard. Diebel in the nets starred for the town, and only for his fine work the bankers would no doubt have won. He could not contain himself however, and at one point he picked up the rubber and threw it down to the opponent's net.

He should have been given a half hour for the offence but it was allowed. Fink played good hockey and with a little practice should develop another Percy Lescur.

Lobsinger on the right wing was the culprit of the night and managed to get away with some nasty work. At half time the score stood 8 to 3 for the town.

During the last half the bankers showed up well and allowed only one goal to be scored against them. When the gong sounded the final summons, the score stood 9 to 4 for the town, with not a banker dismayed. Referee Kunkel is to be commended for the fine manner in which he handled the game.

The lineup was as follows: Diebel, Kunkel, Diebel, Lobsinger, Schmidt, Weiler, for the town. Fink, Young, Kunkel, Welk, Doering, Kunkel, for the bankers.

Supplied as Ordered.

A wholesale provision house, which prides itself on filling all orders correctly, received a letter from a customer recently, complaining bitterly of the very poor quality of the last two lots of eggs supplied.

The reputation of the house for never making an error seemed to be at stake, but the bright mind of the junior partner found a way out of it. He wrote:

"Gentlemen: We are sorry to hear that our consignment did not suit you; there was, however, no mistake on our part. We have looked up your original order, and find that it reads as follows: "Rush fifty boxes eggs. We want them bad."

Latest Matrimonial Advertising.

Here are two curiosities in recent matrimonial advertisements. First—James O. Baldwin, husky lad, wants to marry very bad. He is fifty, six feet, strong; lived in Caldwell very long. Suitable wife not to be had, he sends out this little ad. Second—Wife to clean and scrub. Must be handsome, bright and gay; thirty-two if she's a day. Widow woman not deterred. She must have some cash to spend, and intellect with learning trend. She must be a music lover, fond of me and nary other. That is what my wife must be—lump-te-dum-te-leadle-dee. Now girls, don't all speak at once.

An egg famine is threatened in the United States. Hens, as a race, are unreasonable. They lack in that fine touch of brain power that can recognize the psychological moment—they are weak in that rare discrimination that should show them the folly of keeping the egg supply held back when the price is 6c per, and of rushing in with a spell of cackling and fresh eggs when the market is glutted at the 20 cent mark.

The William Davies Company made 80 per cent profits last year, and yet 20 of their workmen in Toronto have been forced to strike to secure proper working conditions and a living wage. It is rather ironical that these men are employed in the postcuring department, where the cream of the top of the company's other large profits is produced.

TUBERCULOSIS SUNDAY

Last year, as in years before, every Clergyman and School in Ontario helped to spread the word of Good Health on Tuberculosis and Tuberculosis Schools.

This year, under the auspices of the National Sanitarium Association, endorsed by the leading Clergy, all Denominations and by the Department of Education, Sunday, November 25th, and Monday, November 26th, have been appointed for the annual observance of these days.

At no time in the history of the world has the necessity for physical fitness been so great as it is to-day. One has but to scan the reports of rejection for active service abroad to note the many that are unfit. "You have tuberculosis" has been the pronouncement to thousands of young men in Canada and the United States during the past few months.

A thorough physical examination a year ago might have exposed the weakness and prevented the development of this dread disease; and yet, in spite of such a warning, thousands of men and women will continue to disregard the danger until they too have become victims of Consumption.

If you would avoid this disease, watch your health, avoid needless worry and over-work; see that your food is nourishing and that it is served at regular intervals. Above all—get out in the sunshine every minute you can spare; see that the windows in your place of business and in your home are open so that day and night you may be assured of a plentiful supply of pure, fresh air.

A Maryland man, who was called in the first U. S. draft, said he married an old sweetheart six months ago. She was a widow with six children. "There are worse things than war," remarked the much married groom of half a year, as he passed up his chance to ask for exemption.

Any fair-minded young man who is doing "sit-up" stunts this winter time, should have the gumption to carry an armful of wool or a scuttle of coal with him. His old dad will appreciate it all right.

Of the candidates nominated for councillors and trustees at Parley, only two put in their declarations of qualification, and another nomination will be necessary to fill the vacant offices.
