SUCCESSFUL ANNIVERSARY

Is Held at the Brant Avenue Church—Eloquent Sermons by Dr. Hincks.

The anniversary services yesterday at the Brant Avenue Methodist church were attended by large congregations and proved in every way a marked success.

The preacher was Rev. Dr. W. H. Hincks of Trinity church, Toronto, one of the most popular pastors in Toronto. He is the possessor of a most effective pulpit delivery, added to scholarly attainments and great lucidity of thought. His addresses left an impression which will long remain with those fortunate enough to hear him. He took for his morning text, "To-morrow shall be as the day and much more abundant." The thought brought out was that the successful past history of Brant Avenue church should serve to make future results still more abundant.

At night the text was from the story of the Woman of Samaria. "Sir, give me this water that I thirst not neither come hither to draw." A strong gospel sermon was preached.

An appeal was made for a special contribution to take care of some current demands, and thereby, was the splendid response of some $45. On Thursday night the church will give a supper to the machine gun section, the signallers and the Scouts of

LESS DRUNKENNESS IN LONDON SINCE NEW ORDINANCE

Police Report Shows That Liquor Restrictions Tend to Make Better Order.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

London, Nov. 22.—Official police approval is given to the non-treating ordinance in a report from the headquarters of the Metropolitan police on its workings from October 11 when it went into effect, to November 1. The police report generally that less drink is being sold, fewer people visit the saloons, and those who do stay for a shorter time than before, and there is less drunkenness, especially among women. The ordinance is being punctually observed, the police say, in all the 12,000 licensed places in the London area.

The report says, in part— "There is a consensus of opinion among the superintendents of all divisions that drunkenness generally, and among women in particular, has decreased.

"A marked diminution in the number of women and children sitting outside public houses drinking has been noticed, and in many districts the practice has ceased altogether.

"Police have invariably found fewer people on licensed premises and a tendency to make shorter stays; has been observed.

"Practically no breaches of order have occurred, and licensees and their servants have shown at all times their willingness to assist the police."
